Origin of the Name "Palmer"

The name of this ancient English family originated in medieval times when the term "palmer" was the alternative name for those who had been to the Holy Land and brought back a palm, or a piece of one, as a symbol of their pilgrimage. Hence they were called palm bearers or "palmers."

By way of illustration, John Smith, who went on one of these pilgrimages, came back and was known as John Smith, the palmer. In due course of time the Smith part of his name was dropped and he was known as John Palmer. Thus any number of persons who traveled to the Holy Land came back and later were known as Palmers. It has been said that as early as 1200 A.D. there were sixty distinct Palmer families in England and in all probability, derived their names in this manner. Some of these families even date back preceding the Norman Conquest, although the name "Palmer" was not used until later. Surnames at the time of the Conquest and earlier were not common.

Of all the names vaguely connected with religion, the most numerous is Palmer, of which there are seven hundred. They need not have any professional connection with the church, though many itinerant friars have claimed the distinction, and in fact the name appears from early times in all walks of life and all classes. The period when surnames were formed coincides almost exactly with that of the Crusades of which large numbers of Englishmen at that time had actually made the adventurous journey to the Holy Land. Between 1096 and 1270 no less than eight of these great international ventures set forth from Western Europe and reached at least the shores of Asia Minor. The one best known to us is the third crusade when Richard I played such a prominent part, but in almost every one there was an official English contingent. In the fifth and seventh crusades this was led by the Earl of Salisbury, in the sixth by Richard, Earl of Cornwall, King Henry III's brother, and in the eighth by the prince who was soon to become Edward I. We are apt to think of a crusader as a mailed knight with a cross on his shield, a good picture to have in mind, but we should also remember that just as a king or earl could not set out on a quest without a great company of knights, so no knight could stir far without his retinue of men, and that all of them had to have grooms, cooks, chaplains, pages and camp followers. Consequently when these cumbersome armies at last got back to England, more reduced by sickness and mischance than by the arms of the infidel, there dispersed to their homes in many parts of England, not only knights, but also a great many lesser people who had actually seen the arid sands of Palestine and had in their baggage genuine palm leaves and other souvenirs from the Eastern Mediterranean. Such an army buzzing with tales of adventure returned to England in 1273 just at the peak period for surnames.

A Palmer was also one who made it his sole business to visit different holy shrines and places, traveling incessantly and subsisting on charity; whereas the Pilgrim, after journeying to some particular spot, retired to his usual home and occupation. These Palmers were in every place welcomed and entertained. The people listened with thrilling interest to their tales of Moslem tyranny, and their lamentations over the desecration of the holy places. They were instrumental in fanning the flames which broke out in the crusades. When the south aisle of the Parish Church was reseated in 1846 a stone coffin was discovered near the wall, in which were the remains of an escallop shell; an evidence that this "tenant of the tomb" had been to the Holy Land. Though sometimes called the cockle-shell, the escallop was probably one of the larger pectinated shells, perhaps the Pectus Major. Some years ago this shell was used in the Highlands of Scotland for skimming milk. It seems evident that it was adopted as the pilgrim badge, either as an emblem of difficult and dangerous travel, or from its frequent use to him as a drinking cup in his long and toilsome journeys.

The name Palmer is found in many parts of England and Ireland, but its original home appears to have been in the English county of Kent. The family of Palmer once held many Manors in the north of Kent, but the seat of the family was in the vicinity of Snodland within a few miles of Chatham. Upon the tomb of Thomas Palmer, Gentleman, in the village of Snodland is an epitaph reading:

PALMERS all our faders were,
I a PALMER livyd here;
And travyld still, till worne wyth age,
I endyd this world's pilgrimage
On the blyst assention day
In the cherful month of May,
A thowsand wyth fowre hundryd seven,
And took my jorney hence to heven.

The origin of the name is also suggested by an early Coat-of-Arms of the Palmer family. It displays upon a silver shield, a black chevron between three black pilgrims scrips with gold buckles. A scrip was a small purse or wallet suspended from the belt, serving the same purpose as a pocket which was unknown in those days.

Burke's "Encyclopedia of Heraldry" describes forty five coat-of-arms under the name of Palmer. It illustrates the range of thought in those times, even though it may have no connection with our family. A common motto to be seen on a few was: "Palma Virtuti," translated -- A Palm to valor, i.e., There is a reward to courage.

The name of PALMER has been of long continuance in Great Yarmouth, Norfolk County which is a mere four to six miles south of Great Ormesby Parish. A William Palmer, born in 1672, had lands at Ellingham in Norfolk as well as property in Great Yarmouth. He left three sons, Ambrose, Nathaniel and William Danby Palmer. The arms borne by the Yarmouth family of Palmer are -- or., two bars gu., each charged with three trefoils vert., in chief a lion pass. guard. ppr.; and for a crest, a demi leopard guard. and regard., holding in his paws a branch of palm, with flames issuing from his nostrils and ears, all ppr. Motto -- Palma Virtute.

Among laudatory epitaphs the following upon John Palmer of Leicester, who died in 1614, is one of the most extraordinary:

Thou was't religious, temperate, just, and wise,
Firm, wittie, chaste - the muse's exercise;
Whose charities thy bountie ne'er confined,
Fraught with all phases of an upright mind.
Oh ! thou a Palmer, was't in truest weede,
Thou didst all other Palmers far exceed.
Eyed like an eagle in the light of faith,
A heart that feared God, and scorned wealth;
Win'd with these graces thou win'st heaven's bliss,
Earth was not worthy of thee, heave is !
Nichol's Leicestershire p. 1442

The arms illustrated above are taken from a silver tobacco box long in the possession of William Palmer, Esq., of Great Yarmouth, co. Norfolk, England, who died in 1809, age 73.

The illustration above is of a coat-of-arms ascribed to Sir Raymond Cecil Palmer of Reading, co. Berks, England. It depicts two Palmers (pilgrims) each supporting with the exterior hand a Palmer's staff proper. Each Palmer has a scrip suspended from his belt. The crest is of a palm tree mounted vertically with three escallops surrounding the base of the tree.

About the Author

John Calvin Palmer, who compiled and published this family history, is a direct descendant of William Palmer of Hampton, New Hampshire. He was born on April 6, 1933 in Waltham, Massachusetts, the oldest of four sons born to Russell Irving and Isabelle (Imhoff) Palmer of Waltham. His mother is the daughter of John Gilbert and Bridget (Doucet) Imhoff of Bathurst, New Brunswick, Canada.

Mr. Palmer spent his childhood years in Waltham and received his education in the public schools graduating from Waltham Senior High School in 1951. He enlisted in the United States Air Force shortly after the outbreak of the Korean War and later decided to become a career airman. His Basic Training was at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas and also at Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Texas. His first job assignment was a Draftsman but later he cross-trained into the Illustration field and was a Technical Illustrator for the remainder of his service in the Air Force. During his career in the Air Force, he had the opportunities of being stationed in the foreign countries of England, Italy, Germany and Viet Nam. His first duty station was March Air Force Base, Riverside, California from December 1950 to August 1952 assigned to the 22nd Bombardment Group (M) which was equipped with the B-29 Superfortress bombers. A short tour of 90 days temporary duty at Mildenhall RAF Station and Sculthorpe RAF Station in England occurred in 1951. In August 1952 he was assigned to the 40th Air Refueling Squadron which was equipped with KC-97 Air Refueling Tankers at Smoky Hill Air Force Base, Salina, Kansas. In September 1954 he was sent to Naples, Italy for four years with the NATO Forces assigned to the Air Forces Southern Europe Headquarters. He returned to the states in October 1958 and was stationed at Ent Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, Colorado assigned to NORAD Headquarters. During his tour of duty at Ent, he was a member of the Ent AFB Smallbore Rifle Team from 1959 to 1960. In September 1960 he was sent to Europe and spent two years with NATO Forces at Ramstein Air Base, Germany, assigned to the 4th Allied Tactical Air Force Headquarters. After returning home in August 1962, he spent the next few years at Lowry Air Force Base located at Denver, Colorado. During his tour of duty at Lowry, he was a member and team captain of the Lowry AFB High Power Rifle Team from 1966 to 1969. In July 1969 he was sent to Viet Nam and was assigned to Seventh Air Force Headquarters located at Tan Son Nut Air Base in Saigon. He spent fourteen months in Viet Nam before returning home to Denver and retiring as a Technical Sergeant from the United States Air Force in September 1970. During his tour of duty in Viet Nam, he was the recipient of the Bronze Star Medal decoration including the Vietnam Service Medal w/3 bronze stars and the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal. Other medals and awards include the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award, the Air Force Good Conduct Medal w/1 oak leaf cluster, the Army Good Conduct Medal w/4 loops, the National Defense Service Medal w/1 bronze star, the Air Force Longevity Service Award w/4 oak leaf clusters, the Air Force NCO Academy Award and the Air Force Small Arms Expert Ribbon.

Mr. Palmer became interested in genealogy in 1956 and continued his endeavors of research and compiling information periodically for the next forty two years. The results of his work is reflected in this new edition of the Genealogical Record of the many Palmers who are descendant from William Palmer of Hampton, New Hampshire. He is also the author of "A Genealogical Record of the Descendants of Manuel de Jesus Martinez and Allied Families," published in 1996. His interests and hobbies include genealogy, photography, history, tasteful music, camping, hunting, fishing and competitive shooting. He also holds a private pilot's license.

Preface

The preparation and publication of "A Genealogical Record of the Descendants of William Palmer of Hampton, New Hampshire" has been a most rewarding undertaking. There are many families bearing the name Palmer, whose ancestors came from England at different periods, some to escape persecution and to enjoy religious freedom. As a young man of 23, I became interested in my family history some forty years ago during a visit to Great Britain. I found myself in places associated with some of my ancestors, and greatly regretted my lack of knowledge concerning them, and subsequently became determined to learn all about them when I returned home. Beginning this work was successful through the "History of Hampton, New Hampshire" by Joseph Dow, where I learned of the Palmer family up to my great-great grandfather. All families and descendants that could be located were appealed to for their records, and subsequently I was able to complete my direct lineage to the immigrant ancestor William Palmer of Hampton.

Another early successful beginning was through the unpublished manuscript of the "Palmer Families in America" by Dr. Byron S. Palmer and Horace Wilbur Palmer. This material in conjunction with the History of Hampton became the basis of my research, expanding and elaborating on the numerous Palmer lines that have never before been published. This work has grown far beyond the proportions originally intended; hence I have attempted to record only the Palmer family groups and one generation beyond the Palmer female lines who had families under their married names.

For more than forty years I have been researching and compiling information about the Palmer Family. There are many notebooks containing census records, cemetery records and many more miscellaneous records stored away. Many enjoyable hours have been spent visiting older members of the family, some long since deceased, to listen to their family stories and to copy their Bible records and pertinent facts from obituaries they had tucked away. The material employed has been collected, as far as possible from original sources, preserving the spelling and form.

Double-dating gives rise to much confusion. It began in New England almost with the first settlement, and continued until September 1752. Before that time, the English new year began with March 25th, with the result that March was the first month. As an example, the year 1740 continued until March 25, and on March 26 the year 1741 began. This was according to the Julian Calendar which had been adopted by Caesar in 46 B.C. One of the problems with the Julian Calendar was that, although it took cognizance of the fact there are not precisely 365 days in a solar year, the margin of error was estimated to be such that the intercalation of one day every fourth year would solve the problem. This was not quite correct, so that by the 16th Century the accumulated error had amounted to ten days. In 1582, Pope Gregory XIII ordered the so-called Gregorian reform, omitting ten days of that year (the day following October 4 was October 15) to bring the calendar and the sun into correspondence again, and providing that the extra day of leap year be omitted from all years divisible by 100, except those divisible by 400, thus keeping the calendar and the sun together. England, however, to show her opposition to the Pope, clung to the old calendar, although many people in England and her colonies gradually began using the Gregorian system, at least as far as to count the new year as coming on the first of January. As a result, in order to avoid confusion, it became the custom when recording a date between January 1 and March 25 to "double-date." As an example, the administration of Benjamin Palmer's estate was appointed to his widow Martha on February 17, 1745/46 in Essex County, Massachusetts. It was still 1745 according to the Julian Calendar, but 1746 according to the Gregorian Calendar. All of this became extremely confusing when numerals were substituted for the months, as was done by the Quakers. The date 3:12 mo: 1749 by the Julian Calendar was actually intended for February 3, 1749. To convert this date to its Gregorian equivalent, it was not only necessary to change the year to 1750, but since the Julian Calendar was eleven days in error by 1750, 3: 12 mo: 1749 would become February 14, 1750. It was not until 1751 that the correction of the calendar was legalized by an Act of Parliament (24 Geo. II, ch. 23). It was then enacted that throughout all his majesty's dominions the 1st of January 1752, should be reckoned the first day of the year, and to correct the error of eleven days, the 3rd of September should be reckoned the 14th. Thus, the Gregorian Calendar was adopted and still remains to this day. The following table shows the correct number of days to be applied to change Old Style (Julian Calendar) to New Style (Gregorian Calendar).

From March 1, 1399 to February 29, 1499 inclusive, add 9 days
From March 1, 1499 to February 29, 1599 inclusive, add 10 days
From March 1, 1599 to February 29, 1699 inclusive, add 10 days
From March 1, 1699 to February 2, 1752 inclusive, add 11 days

Historical sources sometimes contain the family name but the relationships are not always given. This is especially true when parents in successive generations have given their children the same names. John, Joseph, William, Samuel, Mary, Elizabeth and Abigail occur again and again and often it is necessary to pursue additional facts to identify the individual.

I often encountered amateur genealogists of the family who were very concerned about the material and notes they had in their possession and how they could be preserved in a single volume available to everyone. Those, who were encouraging, were very helpful to send me what they had collected so that their information could be included in this volume. Loose and unassembled notes, cards and also photographs tend to get lost or destroyed when inherited by those less interested. The research and compilation of the material for this volume has been very arduous and most importantly it has been interesting, educational and rewarding.

A most important factor to consider is the annotation and referencing of all data sources. I have found among some of the amateur genealogists, the lack of completely referencing their data sources. Other authors have found that to completely quote all references would make a large and far more expensive book and the sources would be greater than the text. I have employed a very simple method of referencing all family information in this volume without occupying a lot of space. At the end of each family group under the heading of Source references, is a list of three or four digit numbers followed by volume and/or page numbers. These reference numbers can be found in the bibliography and source reference section in the appendix on pages I-1 thru I-9.

One always hopes to produce a book without errors, but unfortunately errors will occur. The alternative hope is that the errors will be minimal, painless and not embarrassing to any family member. I have accepted much information at "face value" from members of our family, part of which may or may not be totally accurate. I shall always welcome corrections to any error that may be found in this genealogy. For those family members who feel that additional information would enhance a specific family group, I shall welcome that information as well. It is this author's desire to continually research, compile and publish at periodic times in the future, corrections and additions to this genealogy.

To bring to light, record and preserve the genealogy of families and individuals, much of it from the dust of forgetfulness, this history will prove to be a means of disseminating welcomed information to the living and future generations; but more than this, it will increase the sympathy and friendliness between persons who are connected by ties of blood, religion and humanity.

Compiling a book by putting together information from various sources is far different from writing a book. Some members of our vast family have spent hours collecting the material they sent to be included. Their material included full names, maiden names, parents of spouses, dates and places of births, marriages and deaths and many pictures; some even with repeated letters and phone calls; some sent no information at all. For these all that could be included was information from other members of the family.

I would like to express my appreciation to all the members of the family, who have so willingly contributed information which helped me to produce this volume. Without all their help, the publication of this genealogy would never have been as complete as it is today.

Explanations

Throughout this genealogy a system of family numbering has been employed by means of which the line of descent of every family can be traced directly to the immigrant Palmer ancestor.

The Arrangement of the Records

The main text of the genealogy has been divided into generation sections. Four main rules have been employed in the arrangement and numbering of the hundreds of family group records:

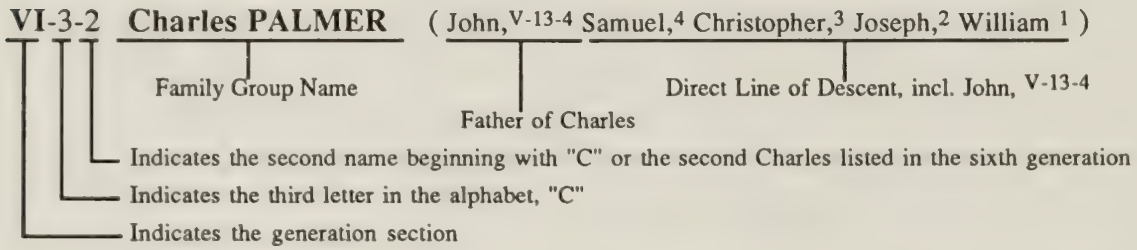
First. Each family group is arranged in the appropriate generation section listed alphabetically. The Roman numeral in bold type preceding the name indicates the generation section.

Second. The first cardinal number following the generation section number indicates the letter in the alphabet listed in numerical order. ie: A is 1, B is 2, C is 3, etc.

Third. The second cardinal number following the alphabet number indicates the arrangement of each given name in alphabetical order. ie: Jacob, James, Jeremiah, John, Jonathan, Joshua, etc.

Fourth. The given names within the parenthesis ( ), following the Palmer family group name in bold type, is the direct line of descent to the immigrant ancestor William Palmer. The superscript numbers after each given name is the generation number applicable to each one. The first given name in the parenthesis ( ) will always have the complete family group number so as to quickly identify the father in the preceding generation section, thus it is a simple matter to trace your ancestry.

Example:



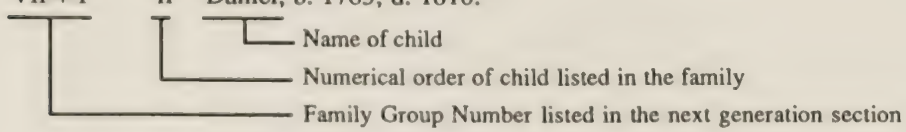
The rule applies in reverse if one is to trace the descendants of a specific family group. The children listed at the end of each family group may or may not have a family group number preceeding their name. For those children who have a family group number preceeding their name, it is a simple matter of locating the number in the next generation section.

Example:

Children:

i Mary, b. 1764; d. 3 Aug 1800.

VII-4-1 ii Daniel, b. 1765; d. 1810.



A child listed without a family group number is one that no information is available for further issue or a child who may have died at an early age or simply one who has never married.

Acknowledgments

A family history such as this one could never be brought to completion without the availability of countless records and the many individuals who have contributed to this book. To acknowledge all the persons involved in contributions and for those who kindly lent photographs for use in this book, would be a difficult task. Many have been recognized in individual sketches and in footnotes.

Special thanks and recognition must be given to Gerald & Irma Palmer of Rosendale, Wisconsin for their generous offer of allowing me to copy the many records of Palmer families descendant from Enoch Palmer of Canada along with many photographs; Marilyn Jean Blickenstaff of Boise, Idaho for her contribution of many photographs; Lewis & Virginia Palmer of Valparaiso, Indiana for the wealth of information about the Samuel Palmer family of Vermont and Indiana; Barney Palmer Van Dyke of Ray, Michigan for his generous offer of allowing me to copy the many photographs of the Palmer families of Wisconsin and Minnesota; John Alden Palmer, Jr. of Plaistow, New Hampshire for his contribution of information about the Palmer families of New Hampshire along with many photographs; Walter Stanley "Jack" Palmer, Jr. of Reno, Nevada for allowing me to copy the numerous old newspaper clippings and photographs of family members; David Lee Hintz of Circle Pines, Minnesota for the wealth of information about the descendants of Daniel William Palmer and Emma Jane Woodard; Mowry Calvin Gilbert of Colorado Springs, Colorado for his generosity in sharing the numerous family photos of the Kansas branch.

Also worthy of recognition are the many institutions, societies and libraries for their assistance and support, specifically The Denver Public Library for the availability of their extensive collection of genealogical and history books; The National Archives located at the Denver Federal Center in Denver for the availability of the thousands of Federal Census Records of the United States; The Family History Center of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Colorado Springs, Colorado for their assistance in helping me review the many records available on micro-film and the availability of the Canadian Census Records; The Penrose Public Library in Colorado Springs for the availability of the many genealogical and history books and the Tutt Library of the Colorado College in Colorado Springs for the availability of the micro-film records of the New York Times.

First Generation

William PALMER (Immigrant Ancestor)

The earliest history of William Palmer begins with the marriage record of William Paulmer of Omesbye Parish to Mary Stamforth of Ranworth, Norfolk Co., England on January 30, 1608. His year of birth would be about 1585 probably in Ormesby St. Margaret, Norfolk Co., England.

The parentage of William Palmer is uncertain but it is believed his father was probably Ambrose Palmer of Ormesby. Further research will be necessary in order to ascertain an accurate record of William Palmer's parents and date of birth. Very little is known about his wife Mary and it is not certain if she came to New England with William, but according to all records available to date, it appears that she may have remained in England. This thought is mere speculation due to the fact that records are not available to prove to the contrary. His first recorded child, Martha, is believed to have been born about 1620 in Ormesby. His son Edward was baptized in Ormesby on March 29, 1623 and another son, Christopher is believed to have been born about 1625/6 in Ormesby. There is some speculation as to the 12 year span between William's marriage and the birth of Martha. Could there have been other children who remained in England or did he arrive in the New Colonies with his wife and all his children, some of whom were of age and lived apart from William shortly after arrival ? It has been the contention of several writers in the past that William Palmer of Hampton had more children than have been accorded him. Because the older records give only certain children to William of Hampton, it in no way refutes the fact that he might have had other children.

In the 1633 Episcopal Visitation of the Norwich Diocese (VIS 6/4) a presentment was made against William Palmer along with James Moulton, his brother Thomas Moulton and William Eastow. They were charged with leaving their parish church (Ormesby) on Sunday afternoon and going to Great Yarmouth. This was at a time when Reverend George Burdett, a well known Puritan minister of Great Yarmouth was preaching at Yarmouth and offending the ecclesiastical authorities. By 1635 Burdett was at Salem, in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. On July 28, 1637, the Archdeaconry Court of Norwich, Norfolk Co., cited William Palmer, Thomas Moulton and William Eastow of Ormesby for not attending church and were instructed to appear on September 28th of the same year. William and company failed to appear and were subsequently excommunicated from the church on September 28, 1637.

It has been thought and believed for some time that William Palmer, Thomas Moulton and William Eastow were unamed passengers on the Rose of Yarmouth or the John and Dorothy of Ipswich which reportedly arrived in Boston on June 20, 1637 along with a third ship Mary Ann. The passenger lists of these three ships have survived and the above Moulton, Palmer and Eastow were not included. There is speculation that William may have used another name when boarding ship at the carefully watched ports. This may account for the fact that his real name was not shown on the passenger list on either of the three ships. During this time period in the 1630's, Charles I, the second Stuart King, was on the throne of England. He tried to make the Puritans conform but was unsuccessful in his attempts of religious persecution and was later beheaded in 1649. There is also probable cause to believe that our William Palmer may have arrived on yet another ship from Yarmouth, sometime in July or perhaps early August, 1637, which records have been lost, and that ship may have discharged its passengers at Salem instead of Boston. No passenger record of the children of William can be found during this time period and it would be safe to assume that the children accompanied their father William. A number of passengers from Ormesby were examined at Yarmouth, Norfolk County, for passage to New England on April 11, 1637 and sailed on the Rose or John and Dorothy shortly thereafter. (Ref: The National Genealogical Society Quarterly, Vol. 79, No 2, June 1991, pp. 123-127; East Anglian Immigration to New England in 1637 by John Plummer.)

Some historians list William Palmer of Hampton, as a resident of Watertown, Massachusetts in 1637 and later in October 1637 was admitted as an inhabitant of Newbury, Massachusetts. There is some speculation that our William Palmer of Hampton was not of Watertown as originally thought, but of Salem along with William Eastow, Thomas and John Moulton and later of Newbury in October 1637 before removing to Winnacunnet (Hampton), on October 14, 1638. A James Moulton was made an inhabitant of Salem on August 7, 1637. He was also admitted in the First Church in Salem on December 31, 1637 and his wife, Mary, on February 25, 1638. It is believed that James Moulton and his wife, Mary, were also among the unnamed passengers who arrived in Boston on June 20, 1637 or perhaps Salem in July or early August, 1637. James is also believed to be the brother of Thomes Moulton of Ormesby St. Margaret. The William Palmer of Watertown in 1636/37 is believed to be the William who was granted 20 acres on July 25, 1636 in Watertown and later removed to Wethersfield, Connecticut in 1637 and subsequently to Westchester, New York in 1666.

The following is a specimen of the form of admission taken from the Town record of Newbury, viz: "William Palmer being licensed by John Endicott esqr. to live in this jurisdiction was received into the towne of Newberry as an inhabitant thereof and hath heare promised under his hand to be subject to any lawful order, that shall be made by the towne."

On November 2, 1637, the General Court of Massachusetts Bay Colony made a conditional grant of Winnacunnet (later changed to Hampton on September 4, 1639) to the inhabitants of Newbury. Prior to the actual beginning of a settlement at Winnacunnet, the Massachusetts Court Record dated March 3, 1635 states that, viz: "Ordered, that there shalbe a plantac'on at wenicunnett & that m^{r} Dummer & m^{r} John Spencer shall have power to presse men to builde a howse forthwth in some convenient place, & what money they lay out aboute it shalbe repaide them againe out of the Tresury or by those that come to inhabite there." On May 13, 1638, the Freeman's Oath was administered to William Palmer, Thomas Moulton and William Eastow of Newbury and subsequently were admitted as "Freeman" at Newbury. A specimen of the Freeman's Oath can be found on page 10 in its entirety. On July 6, 1638, the General Court of Massachusetts granted a license to a few inhabitants of Newbury, including William Palmer, to have the liberty of beginning a plantation at Winnacunnet. On September 6, 1638, the petition was recorded in the Massachusetts Court Records as follows, viz: "The Court grants that the petitioners m^{r} Steven Bachiler, Christo: Hussey, Mary Hussey, vidua, Thom: Crumwell, Samuell Skullard, John Osgood, John Crosse, Samu: Greenfield, John Molton, Tho: Molton, Willi: Estow, Willi: Palmer, Willi: Sergant, Richrd Swayne, Willi: Sanders, Rob^{rt} Tucke wth diverse others, shall have libertie to begin a plantation at Winnacunnet; & m^{r} Bradstreete, m^{r} Winthrope Junior, & m^{r} Rawson, or some two of them are to assist in setting out the place of the towne, & apportioning the severall quantity of land to each man, so as nothing shalbe done therein wthout alowance from them, or 2 of them." The settlement was to begin at once after the signing of the petition by Richard Singletery, William Palmer, John Moulton, William Eastow, Thomas Moulton, Nicholas Busbie and Abraham Toppan. The group began their journey on October 14, 1638 from Newbury and eventually up the Hampton River in a shallop to begin the settlement . William Palmer was listed as a married man at this time according to the Norfolk Court Files of Salem, p. 124. Had he already been married to his second wife Ann ? William Palmer's house lot in 1638 was between the lot of William Eastow and that of John Moulton and his house stood where the Leavitt house stood in 1893.

According to the Massachusetts Court Records dated May 22, 1639, the following entry was recorded, viz: "Winnacunnet is alowed to bee a towne, & hath power to choose a Cunstable, & other officers, & make orders, for the well ordering of their towne, & to send a Deputy to the Court, & Christ: Hussey, Willi: Palmer, & Richrd Swaine to end all businesses under 20 sh^{s} for this yeare, the laying out of land to bee by those expressed in the former order." (ref: Sept 6, 1638) On December 24, 1639, the town of Hampton granted 100 Acres of land to William Palmer. An additional grant of 5 Acres of land adjoining his 100 Acres was made to his son Edward on June 30, 1640 who was then living on the Exeter Road near the old Neal house. On May 4, 1640, an agreement was made by the town of Hampton with William Palmer, that his son Christopher, a young man, take care of the herd of calves and the agreement was subsequently renewed on May 5, 1641, viz: "On the 5th of y^{e} third mo: 1641: It's agreed betwixt the Towne & W^{m} Palmer y^{t} Chr Palmer shall keepe the calves (every working day & every 4th Lords day) 20 weekes from the tenth of this moneth; for w^{ch} he shall have 8^{s} p^{r} weeke, to be payed in worke & other comodityes: This agreem^{t} to continue unles three owners of calves come on that day (in y^{e} morn) & give notice of another keep." Also on May 4, 1640, William was chosen as hogreeve and was to be paid 4 Pence for every hog impounded. During the month of June 1640, an entry recorded in the town book of Hampton states that William Palmer was appointed 10 acres for a house lot as it was laid out, 12 1/2 acres of fresh meadow lying between the upland of the east field and the river near the beach, 15 acres of planting ground, 10 acres thereof adjoining his house lot and the rest in the east field. The residue of his 100 acres granted December 24, 1639 is yet to be appointed. On August 25, 1640, William was chosen Grandjuryman for the court to be held in Boston on the first Thursday in September. William Palmer appears to have been considered a freeholder of Newbury even after he removed to Hampton. At a court hearing in 1641 at the Ipswich Court, William Palmer was a witness in the case of Robert Coaker of Newbury and Miryam King of Hampton which case was presented for fornication. During this time period, many Puritans were watching eagle-eyed for evidence of sin and William Palmer was no exception. The laws were very strict and any violation of this type was dealt with severely. The guilty were normally put in the stocks, subjected to the lash, three days in jail or a Ten Pound fine. On March 12, 1641/2 at a town meeting in Newbury, William Palmer of Hampton was apportioned rights in the town commons for cattle and was given 1 1/2 parts. Several grants of land made by the town of Newbury to William Palmer are recorded in the town book by Anthony Somerly. viz: "A house lot of four acres, bounded by Thomas Moulton on the north, James Rawlins on the south, the street on the west and the planting lots on the east; twelve acres of salt marsh, bounded by Nathaniell Wier on the west, John Moulton and William Easton on the east, Thomas Cromwell on the north and a great creek on the south; four acres of upland bounded by Richard Kent; and eight acres of "divident land" in the field about the new town." Henry Palmer, an inhabitant of Newbury was also apportioned 1 1/4 parts on the same date. The first record of Henry Palmer was in October 1637 when he was admitted as an inhabitant of Newbury, Massachusetts, the same time as William, and later removed to Haverhill, Massachusetts. There is some speculation that Henry came to the New Colonies with William and in some way may be closely related. Henry could possibly be a younger brother of William if not a nephew or cousin. There is no record available at this time as to when Henry arrived in New England, nor whether he is related to William in any way. He died July 15, 1680, aged about 79 years which would place his birth year about 1601. On March 29, 1641, William Palmer was appointed an additional 12 acres of fresh meadow in the east field. On July 13, 1642, he was granted 7 acres of salt marsh, and on May 5, 1643, he was granted 4 pole width (66 feet) of meadow from the upland unto his own meadow. About 1643/4, a son Joseph was born in Hampton. He is believed to be the son of William and his second wife Ann, a younger woman. Ann was previously married and a widow when married to William. This marriage probably occured sometime after 1638.

On May 4, 1644, William was chosen "Woodreeve", a position of responsibility to protect the forests. On September 18th the same year, William Palmer prepared his will which is preserved in the Hampton Historical Museum in Hampton, New Hampshire. The will mentions his wife Ann, sons Joseph and Christopher and daughters Martha (Sherman) and Mary. Witnesses were Timothy Dalton, Sr. and John Sherman. A new town of Newbury was laid out on the south bank of the Merrimac River in 1645 and an order was made showing the persons entitled to lots, including William Palmer of Hampton. He was called freeholder. On February 23, 1645, William Palmer appeared on a list entitled, "A true and perfect list of the shares of the Common Ground unto the inhabitants of house lotts as followeth: the 23:12:mo 1645. William Palmer . . . 3 shares." On March 10, 1645, William Palmer of Hampton, called "yeoman", deeded to his daughter Martha and her husband John Sherman of Watertown, Massachusetts, his dwelling and house lot and all other land in Newbury of about 20 Acres and also all his house and lands in Hampton. On September 29, 1646, a presentment was made at the quarterly court session in Ipswich in the case of William Palmer of Hampton, for "challenging" John Sanburne into the field. Witnesses were John Samburne and Edward Colcot. At a later court hearing on March 30, 1647 William Palmer was ordered to pay 6 Shillings, 10 Pence to John Samborne, a witness in his presentment. On the same date, the case of Morice Hobs versus William Palmer of Hampton for defamation, was settled and all differences between Hobbs, Palmer and Thomas Maston were to be ended. Apparently these cases were initiated at a previous date while William Palmer was still living and later were presented at the court hearing for resolvement. William was also listed on a tax list dated April 15, 1647 along with his son Edward. Although no taxes were levied for Edward, a tax was levied for William. It is not certain if Edward was living at this time, but it is evident that William was dead because his widow Ann remarried on March 21, 1647.

The exact date of William Palmer's death is not known, but it is estimated to be within the six month period between September 29, 1646 and March 21, 1647, the date that widow Ann Palmer married Francis Plummer of Newbury. William would have been about 62 years of age at the time of his death. She died on October 18, 1665 in Newbury.

In the Rent Roll of Ormesby Manor, Norfolk Co., England, it is recorded that the following names among those who held leases or paid rent for lands pertaining to that Manor in 1620, viz: Henry Dow, William Eastow, Robert and William Marston, John Moulton, Thomas Moulton, William Moulton, Thomas Nudd, Robert Page and William Palmer. It appears that William Palmer held the lease for lands occupied by Richard Bulwer, gentleman, and for other freehold lands of the late Robert Cappes in Scratbye Bardolphes in Ormesby Manor. He received payment of 3 shillings, 3 pence for the year 1620. He is also listed and styled "gentleman" for paying the yearly rentel fee of 12 pence, for one acre and three rods of land, to the lord of the Ormesby Manor in Castons. Each and every one of these names appear on the lists of grantees or first settlers of Hampton. It would seem probable that all of the above mentioned persons left Ormesby or vicinity at or about the same time in 1637 and that an account of some previous agreement or due to their former friendship for one another, they all settled on the new grant in Hampton after first stopping in Newbury.

She does not appear in any Hampton records after 1644 and is believed to have gone to Watertown after her father's death where she may have resided with her older sister, Martha and brother-in-law, John Sherman. She is also believed to be the Mary Palmer, of Watertown, who married on 22 Oct 1647 in Sudbury, Mass., Captain James Pendleton, born ca. 1627/28 in England, oldest son of Major Brian Pendleton. If she is our Mary Palmer, dau. of William, then she died on 7 Nov 1655 in Sudbury. Freeman

Under the first charter of the Massachusetts colony, none were regarded as freemen, or members of the political body, except such as were admitted by the General Court and took the oath of allegiance to the government here established. This custom continued in existence until, by the second charter, the colony was transformed into a province.

As early as 1631, in order to become a freeman, each person was legally required to be a respectable member of some congregational church. Persons were made freemen by the General Court of the colony, and also by quarterly courts of the counties. None but freemen could hold offices or vote for rulers. This regulation was so far modified by Royal order in 1664, as to allow individuals to be made freemen, who could obtain certificates of their being correct in doctrine and conduct from clergymen acquainted with them.

Freeman's Oath

"I, William Palmer, being by God's providence an Inhabitant and Freeman, within the Jurisdiction of this Commonwealth; do freely acknowledge my self to be subject to the Government thereof: And do therefore do here swear by the great and dreadful Name of the Ever-living God, that I will be true and faithful to the same, and will accordingly yield assistance & support thereunto, with my person and estate, as in equity I am bound; and will also truly endeavor to maintain and preserve all the liberties and privileges thereof, submitting myself to the wholesome Lawes & Orders made and established by the same. And further, that I will not plot or practice any evill against it, or consent to any that shall so do; but will timely discover and reveal the same to lawful Authority now here established, for the speedy preventing thereof.

Moreover, I do solemnly bind myself in the sight of God, that when I shall be called to give my voyce, touching any such matter of this State, in which Freemen are to deal, I will give my vote and suffrage, as I shall judge in mine own conscience may best conduce and tend to the public weal of the body, so help me God in the Lord Jesus Christ."

Second Generation

II -1 Christopher PALMER (William [1])

Born about 1625/6 probably in Ormesby St. Margaret, Norfolk Co., England. It is believed that Christopher came to the New England Colonies as a young boy, with his father William, arriving probably in Salem, Massachusetts in July or perhaps early August, 1637. The first mention of Christopher is recorded on May 4, 1640 when his father made an agreement with the town of Hampton, Norfolk County for Christopher to take care of the herd of calves. The agreement was subsequently renewed on May 4, 1641. On October 6, 1647, a deed was prepared by Christopher Palmer in behalf of Ann Palmer, widow of William Palmer of Hampton, for Eight Pounds, sold to William Sawyer of Newbury, the house and house lot in the old town of Newbury, which belonged to said William Palmer, together with twelve acres of marsh adjoining William Elsly's, Samwell Plomer's and Samwell Scullerd's land, and four acres of upland adjoining the ox common and Richard Kent's land, now common, also seven acres of division land beyond the new town. Signed by Ann (her mark) Plomer. Witnessed by Richard Knight and William Ilsly. "I Francis Plumer of Newbery do herby declar that I give my Consent to the bargin My wife An Plomer have made as in the other sid Expressed." Francis (his mark) Plumer. Witnessed by Richard Knight and William Illsey. On March 4, 1649 it was recorded that Christopher Palmer had a seat in the Meeting House in Hampton. Christopher married on November 7, 1650 in Hampton, Susanna Hilton, born about 1633, daughter of Edward Hilton of Dover, Norfolk County, Massachusetts Colony.

The first record of land transactions for Christopher was on March 10, 1648 when he conveyed ten acres of salt marsh and five acres of fresh meadow in Hampton to William Fifield of Hampton. This was the first of many land transactions recorded during his lifetime in Hampton. Some of these transactions are recorded in the Records of the County of Norfolk in the Colony of Massachusetts from 1647 to 1679. viz: On March 16, 1661, Edward Colcord of Hampton, mortgaged to Christopher Palmer of Hampton, for twenty six Pounds Sterling, land in Hampton of about six acres of planting ground; an estimated eleven acres in the north plain, sometimes granted to Henry Ambrose by the town of Hampton and also land bounded by Phillip Toule, Thomas Ward and the Mill Brook as it was granted to William Howard. A deed dated April 24, 1662, of Christopher Palmer, yeoman, of Hampton, conveying an estimated five acres of fenced planting land in Hampton, to Samuel Robie, cooper, of Hampton. Also two acres of upland in Dover, to Christopher Palmer, yeoman, of Hampton. A deed dated February 28, 1665, of Christopher Palmer, yeoman, of Hampton, conveying an estimated ten acres, more or less, of salt marsh in Hampton, to Thomas Marston of Hampton. A deed dated May 8, 1666, of Christopher Palmer, yeoman, of Hampton, conveying an estimated ten acres, more or less, of land on the western side of Mill Brook in Hampton, to Nathaniel Boulter. A deed dated May 17, 1666, of Christopher Palmer, yeoman, of Hampton, conveying a house lot containing five acres, more or less, together with a dwelling house, barn and all out housing. Also one share of the Cows Common in Hampton, to Isaac Cole, carpenter, of Hampton. A deed dated September 17, 1666, of Christopher Palmer of Hampton, conveying a share in the Great Ox Common in Hampton, to Joseph Dow of Hampton. A deed dated May 10, 1667, of Christopher Palmer, yeoman, of Hampton, conveying seven acres of salt marsh located in a tract of marsh called Little Ox Common in Hampton, to Phillip Lewis of Salisbury. Christopher Palmer, planter, of Hampton, conveying fifty acres, more or less, of upland and meadow in Hampton up Taylor's River near the Indian graves, to Daniel Tilton, blacksmith, of Hampton. A deed dated April 1, 1678, of Abraham Drake, Marshall of Hampton, conveying an estimated four acres of meadow in Hampton, to Christopher Palmer and Henry Roby, both of Hampton. A deed dated April 24, 1678, of Christopher Palmer, yeoman, of Hampton, conveying an estimated six acres, more or less, of fresh meadow in Hampton, to Ensigne William Buswell of Salisbury. A deed dated July 21, 1679, of Christopher Palmer of Hampton, conveying three acres of meadow or marsh land near the Lampeele rivers mouth, to Phillip Greele of Salisbury.

On October 5, 1652 at a quarterly court session held in Hampton, Christopher Palmer sued the Town of Hampton for lands detained from him which were granted to his father. On April 11, 1654 at a quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Christopher was listed on the Jury of Trials along with 12 other gentlemen. Also on April 11th, at the same court session, Henry Dowe brought suit against Christopher Palmer for pulling down his fence rails and destroying his grass by cattle. An appeal from the commissioners of Hampton resulted in a verdict in favor for the defendant. On October 3, 1654 at a quarterly court session held in Hampton, Widow Chase brought suit against Christopher Palmer for running a ditch through her meadow. The judgement was for the plaintiff, her meadow to run from the crook of the river according to the ancient bounds as it was first laid out. In 1655, he was a Selectman of Hampton and in 1656 he and his wife were summoned as witnesses in one of the Eunice Cole witchcraft trials. During an appearance in Suffolk County on April 12, 1660, Christopher submitted a deposition stating that he was about 33 years of age. On September 25, 1660 at a quarterly court session held in Ipswich, Christopher Palmer deposed that he had some conversation with Henry Green about buying his colt, but when the bargin was partially made, said Green told him that he was but jesting, for the colt belonged to Goodman Edmans, etc. Sworn in Hampton court, 6:8:1659 (October 6, 1659). Copy made by Tho. Bradbury, recorder. On October 8, 1661, Joseph Palmer chose his brother Christopher Palmer of Hampton and Walter Roper of Ipswich as his guardians. A copy of the Hampton court record was made by Thomas Bradbury, recorder. Joseph was about 17 years of age at the time. On March 10, 1662, Christopher Palmer gave Walter Roper power of attorney to settle the cases to be presented on March 25, 1662. Witness was Robert Lord. On March 25, 1662 at the quarterly court session held in Ipswich, Christopher Palmer and Walter Roper as guardians to Joseph Palmer, brought an action suit against William Sawyer of Newbury in trespass for detaining, making use of and refusing to deliver a parcel of salt marsh of twelve acres, more or less, which was sometime William Palmer's and now of right belonging to Joseph Palmer, by the grant of John Sherman. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. At the same quarterly court session of March 25th, Christopher Palmer and Walter Roper, guardians to Joseph Palmer, brought another suit against William Ilslye in trespass for possessing, making use of and refusing to deliver a house and four acres of land, sometime William Palmer's and now of right belonging to Joseph Palmer, by the grant of John Sherman. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. Again at the same quarterly court session of March 25th, Christopher Palmer and Walter Roper, guardians to Joseph Palmer, brought an action suit against Tristram Coffin, constable, in behalf of the Town of Newbury, for refusing to resign up and to lay out a parcel of land, meadow and upland granted by the Town of Newbury to William Palmer and of right belonging to Joseph Palmer, by the grant of John Sherman. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. On all three of the above mentioned suits of March 25, 1662, a writ dated February 28, 1661, signed by Robert Lord, for the court, and was served by Robert Lord, marshall of Ipswich, by attachment of house and land of the defendants. Also on March 25th, at the same quarterly court session, Christopher Palmer, John Cass and Anthony Taylor were witnesses in the case of James Bruse for excessive drinking. On October 14, 1662 at a quarterly court session held in Hampton, Christopher Palmer brought a suit against Edward Colcord, for making way with a bay horse, with two wall eyes, a white blaze down his face and one white foot, in a fraudulent manner, etc. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. At a later date on April 10, 1666 at a quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Edward Colcord filed for a review of the action tried in Hampton in October 1662, concerning a horse with a white face. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. In the meantime a writ, dated April 4, 1666 signed by Samuell Dalton, for the court was served by Abraham Drake, marshall of Hampton, by attachment of house and land of defendant. Also on October 14, 1662 at the same quarterly court session in Hampton, Abraham Perkins brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for forfeiture of a bond of 10 Pounds. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff, but it was appealed to the next court session of Assistants. On October 13, 1663 at the quarterly court session held in Hampton, Edward Colcord brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for using and riding a black horse with a white face from the beginning of June 1661, until the Hampton court session in 1662, and for detaining said horse under an attachment and not prosecuting. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. The court did not accept the verdict, and so it fell to the next Court of Assistants. At the same quarterly court session, Edward Colcord brought another suit against Christopher Palmer for trespass and taking away a cow of his from his door on the Lord's day in the evening about the beginning of November 1661. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. An execution was granted on October 22, 1663 and a writ, dated October 8, 1663 was served by Abraham Drake, marshall of Hampton.

In 1663, Christopher and others were appointed to survey and layout a tract of land in the western portion of the township between June and September 1663. On March 29, 1664, at the quarterly court session held in Ipswich, Christopher Palmer was the attorney representing John Casse in the case of John Casse vs. Henry Greene. On April 11, 1665 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, four cases were presented envolving Edward Colcord and Christopher Palmer. viz: (1) Edward Colcord vs. Christopher Palmer for trespass and mowing his meadow near the beach, which was sometimes William Wakefield's, and claiming it as his own. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. At a later court session held in Salisbury on April 10, 1666, Edward Colcord filed for a review of the action tried on April 11, 1665 concerning four acres of meadow lying near the beach which was sometimes William Wakefield's. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff and the case was subsequently appealed to the next Court of Assistants. (2) Edward Colcord vs. Christopher Palmer for cattle and for work done by Jonathan Colcord, his son, and shoes delivered to him. The case was withdrawn. (3) Christopher Palmer vs. Edward Colcord, for endeavoring to nullify or make void a certain mortgage in writing under hand and seal, by which defendant engaged certain parcels of land to plaintiff's heirs upon consideration of non-payment of 26 Pounds, as by the said deed appeared. The case was withdrawn. (4) Christopher Palmer vs. Edward Colcord, for not making good three parcels of land according to an engagement under his hand and seal, bearing the date March 16, 1660/61, whereby defendant had agreed to make good to plaintiff the lands upon non-payment of the 26 Pounds. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. At a later court session held in Salisbury on April 10, 1666, Christopher Palmer filed for a review of an action tried on April 11, 1665 for not making good three parcels of land according to writing, dated March 16, 1660/61. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. At the same quarterly court session of April 11th, Christopher Palmer brought a suit against Humphrey Wilson, for not satisfying him for four loads of hay, which he had off from his meadow in Hampton, near the beach, which meadow was sometimes Walter Roper's, and which hay was brought by defendant or his order in the winter of 1661. The suit was withdrawn. On October 10, 1665 at the quarterly court session held in Hampton, Christopher Palmer was listed as a member and foreman in the Jury of Trials. On April 10, 1666 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Captain Richard Waldren brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for irregular and illegal proceeding about an execution granted to Israell Wight at a Court of Assistants, September 6, 1664, whereby plaintiff was much damnified in grass and hay upon some land at Sandy Point, near Exiter River. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. The Court did not consent. At the same quarterly court session of April 10th, Christopher Palmer brought a suit against Captain Waldren, for trespass and coming upon his marsh at Sandy Point in Quamscot patent, driving his men away from their work and taking away plaintiff's hay and grass and laying claim to said marsh. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. The court did not consent. Also at the same court session of April 10th, a Writ of execution was prepared of Christopher Palmer of Hampton v. Edward Colcord of Hampton, granted by the court and addressed to Abraham Drake, marshall of Hampton, for levy on 3 lots of land and corn and hay. On April 9, 1667 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Henry Robey, aged about fifty years, testified that he heard Edward Colcord say that if Nathaniell Boulter improved the land made over to Christopher Palmer, said Colcord would cut it, etc. Sworn, February 13, 1666 before Samuell Dalton, comis. At the same quarterly court session of April 9th, Phillip Lewis, assignee to Jno. Cass, brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for a debt. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff and the defendant, Christopher Palmer, was ordered to pay the debt in codfish, corn and neat cattle. The case was appealed to the next Court of Assistants. Again at the same quarterly court session on April 9th, Christopher Palmer deposed that he told John Foulshum, Sr., that there was some hay carried away which Hampton men had cut near the Great pond in the western part of the town, and Foulsham said he had carried some away that it might come to trial, etc. Sworn in court. On October 8, 1667 at the quarterly court session held in Hampton, Christopher Palmer acknowledged a judgement to Tho. Bradbury. On April 14, 1668 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Christopher Palmer brought a suit against John Casse for not discharging him from a judgement which Philip Lewis, the assignee, recovered against Palmer at the court session held in Salisbury on April 9, 1667. A writ, dated April 8, 1668, signed by Samuell Dalton, for the court and served by Abraham Drake, marshall of Hampton, by attachment of defendant's estate. On April 13, 1669, at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Christopher Palmer was chosen as a member of the Jury of Trials. At the same session, Mr. Edward Colcord desired to have Jno. Redman and Christopher Palmer taken from the jury in the case between him and Francis Page and Boult., because they were the cause of all the trouble. When the court ordered the case to proceed, he refused to appear. On October 12, 1669 at the quarterly court session held in Hampton, Jno. Redman brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for trespass, fencing in, feeding and improving seven acres of land of said Redman, given him by his grandfather Robert Knight, lying in Hampton, adjoining the pasture land of Robert Page in the east field; also for endeavoring to alter the title of said land. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. Henry Dow, aged about thirty-five years, deposed that in the summer of 1655, he was at work in his lot adjoining Christopher Palmer's pasture, when said Palmer, John Redman, Sr., and Roger Shaw came to him and asked him to go with them to lay out Palmer's 20 acres which he bought of Goodman Redman. So he went and they began at the corner of Robert Page's pasture to the brook in the swamp, etc. It was commonly called Goodman Palmer's pasture even since it was fenced. Sworn in court. On March 9, 1670/71, Christopher Palmer made a claim to a part of the estate of his late father-in-law, Edward Hilton of Dover, in behalf of two sisters to the administrators, who were daughters of the deceased. During a court action of William Richards of Strawberry Bank against Richard Cutt on December 27, 1670, Christopher Palmer stated that he was 43 years of age or thereabouts. On April 8, 1673, Christopher Palmer was chosen as a member of the Grand Jury at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury. At the same court session, Henry Roby and Christopher Palmer, the assignees of Abraham Drake, marshall, brought a suit against Edward Colcord for not making good a parcel of fresh meadow of four acres, lying near the beach in Hampton, according to a deed or mortgage made to said Drake, or now to said Robie or Palmer, assignees, and by endeavoring to deprive them of said meadow by a later deed to Evens, whereby they have been put to much trouble by defending it and damage recovered against them at the last Hampton court. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. Another case at the same court session of April 8th, was Edward Colcord bringing a suit against Christopher Palmer for cheating him in selling him a parcel of land in the year 1660, for the payment of which the plaintiff gave said Palmer security by three parcels of land, of which he had absolutely endeavored to cheat the plaintiff, and is in no capacity to make it good. His title of 45 acres of land to the plaintiff has been put to excessive charges to maintain his interest in the three parcels of land and cannot enjoy it. Nonsuited. Also at the same court session of April 8th, Christopher Palmer acknowledged judgment to Mr. Henry Dearing, partly in staves and partly in pine inch boards at price current. On June 24, 1673, Christopher petitioned the court at Portsmouth, stating that his father-in-law, Edward Hilton had died intestate and his estate was divided among his sons but not his two daughters. The two daughters being the wives of Christopher Palmer and Henry Moulton. The court granted the relief asked for by Christopher. He was also on a Grand Jury in Portsmouth at the same time he petitioned the court on June 24, 1673. On October 14, 1673 at the quarterly court session held in Hampton, Christopher Palmer was chosen as a member of the Grand Jury. At the same court session, two cases were presented envolving Christopher Palmer. (1) Mr. Peter Coffyn brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for a debt for 7,000 feet of merchantable pine board, which should have been paid at Mr. Hilton's mill. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. (2) Edward Colcord brought a suit against Jno. Stanian and Henry Roby for prosecuting an illegal warrant or execution. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff but appealed to the next Court of Assistants. John Stanian, Henry Roby and Christopher Palmer were bound. On May 14, 1674 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Edward Colcord presented the case tried at the Salisbury court session in 1666 against Christopher Palmer for review concerning three parcels of land claimed by a pretended mortgage. The verdict was in favor for the defendant, but appealed to the next Court of Assistants. Edward Colcord and Robert Ring of Salisbury were bound. At the same court session, Christopher Palmer brought a suit against Edward Colcord for defaming the plaintiff in bringing action against him at the last Salisbury court session, charging him with cheating. The case was withdrawn. Christopher Palmer was a Deputy Marshall in 1674 and was responsible for the arrest and apprehension of Dr. Walter Barefoote of Dover, New Hampshire. The incident about Dr. Barefoote is described in the History of Dover, New Hampshire by John Scales, 1923. viz: In a dispute of 1674, while Dr. Walter Barefoote was still a practicing physician at Dover, he became involved with the Hilton's of Exeter. After a scene in the Dover jail, the Hampton constable, Christopher Palmer, acting for the Hilton's, went with an arresting posse to Dr. Barefoote's house in Dover, and persuaded him to go along with them to the jail in Dover and release upon bail two Hilton's imprisoned there, under Jeremiah Tibbetts, the jailer. With great good humor the Doctor went along and took a gallon of perry to celebrate the armistice in the lawsuit by treating the company.

Young Tibbetts, the jailors son, then testified: "They brought with them a runlet of perry, which Captain Barefoote brought to drink with them, as he said; and so long as it lasted they were very merry. But presently, after it was ended, there was a great noise, Captain Barefoote lying on the ground, saying, he would not go, for he was in a prison already, where he would abide; but said Christopher Palmer, answered, he was his prisoner, pulling him very rough and rudely."

Palmer himself described the scene by saying that when he arrested Barefoote upon a proper warrant, "he laid himself along the floor at Jeremiah Tibbett's house, more like a pig than a captain." Pig or Captain, Palmer put him in a boat, and as he sailed up the stream and came near Captain Champernowne's great farm of Greenland, on the Great Bay, Champernowne brought the party to, and offered bail for his friend, which Palmer refused; and then carried him across the country to the Hampton jail, whence Barefoote wrote an indignant protest to the Massachusetts authorities, quoting their own statutes to them and demanding his release. He was taken to Hampton, September 21, 1674, and as John Souter, the Hampton jailer, testified: "I saw him lockt up into the Hampton prison of Norfolk County; and Christopher Palmer bade me go with them and lock the said Barefoote into the common gaol, and bade me have a care of him, lest he should give me the slip." On October 13, 1674 at the quarterly court session held in Hampton, John Cass brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for trespass going over his land and laying claim to it, which land lay in Hampton, and was sometime in the possession of John

Redman, Jr. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. At the same court session, Christopher Palmer availed himself as a defendant in the case of Samuel Hilton or his attorney vs. Captain Barefoot for procuring an illegal execution against him and for imprisoning him in Dover gaol contrary to law. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. Also at the same court session of October 13th, Christopher Palmer and Edward Colcord, attorneys to Edward Hilton, William Hilton, Samuel Hilton and Charles Hilton, administrators and possessors of the estate of Mr. Edward Hilton, deceased, brought suit against Captain Walter Barefoot for boards delivered to Henry Kimball of Boston. The verdict was in favor for the defendant. On April 13, 1675 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Mr. John Groth and Elizabeth, his now wife, presented at Hampton court, October 13, 1674, for having a child born seven months after marriage, the presentment being proved and owned, were fined. The case was appealed to the next Court of Assistants. Mr. Jno. Groth bound, with Christopher Palmer and John Stanian as sureties. A similar case was also presented of John Garland and Elizabeth his wife at the Hampton court, October 13, 1674, for having their child born about eleven weeks before the usual time, were fined. John Garland appealed to the next Court of Assistants. John Garland bound, with Henry Robie and Christopher Palmer as sureties.

It is recorded that Christopher Palmer served under Capt. Nicholas Manning in King Phillips War on June 24, 1676. On September 26, 1676 at the quarterly court session held in Ipswich, Christopher Palmer brought a suit against Major Robert Pike, Major Richard Waldern and John Souter for demanding of John Souter, keeper of the Norfolk Prison, to set Captain Walter Barefoot at liberty, which he did in August 1675, after he had been committed to prison upon execution obtained against him, as attorney or assignee to George Norton. Special verdict. If the warrants of Major Robert Pike and Major Richard Waldern for the release made them liable to be sued in one action, the jury found for plaintiff; if not, for the defendant. The court found for the plaintiff. Execution respitted until the end of the next General Court. In 1677, Christopher Palmer was again chosen as a Selectman of Hampton. On April 10, 1677 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Captain Walter Barefoot brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for the review of a case tried in Salisbury in 1675, in which said Palmer, as assignee of George Norton was plaintiff on an action of debt, and said Barefoot was the defendant. Special verdict. If in the last clause of the bill with a seal to it according to law makes void the obligation, they found for plaintiff; if not, for defendant. The court found for the defendant but was appealed to the next Court of Assistants. Captain Walter Barefoot bound, with Edward Colcord, Sr., and Phillip Grele as sureties. In 1678, Christopher Palmer was chosen as a Selectman of Hampton. On April 9, 1678 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Christopher Palmer was envolved in several cases presented to the court. (1) Daniell Tilton brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for selling and delivering to plaintiff fifty acres of land in Hampton near Taylor's River, which said Tilton could not hold by law, for part of it which he improved was claimed by the town of Hampton as part of their commons, etc. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff, the land to be made good. (2) Daniell Tilton vs. Christopher Palmer for trespass for taking away 1,000 merchantable white oak pipestaves without any order for him, which staves lay at the water side at Exeter landing place near Kinsley Hall's house and which were taken in the summer time of 1674. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff, 809 staves to be delivered at some convenient landing place near Humphrey Wilson's point in Exiter. (3) Christopher Palmer vs. Captain Walter Barefoot for a debt and forfeiture of a bond for not keeping the award of Major Nicolas Shapleigh and Master Samuel Dudley. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff. (4) Henry Roby and Christopher Palmer vs. Edward Colcord for neglecting or refusing to give peaceable possession of four acres of meadow made over by a deed of sale to Abraham Drake, dated November 28, 1666, which deed was assigned to said Roby and Palmer by Abraham Drake on January 23, 1668, and afterwards confirmed, and for endeavoring to alter the title of the meadow by selling it to another man, as by deed to Evens of the same meadow, dated August 20, 1669, also for keeping said meadow eight years. Nonsuited. (5) Christopher Palmer vs. Daniell Tilton for a debt for land sold him on October 20, 1671. The vedict was in favor for the defendant. (6) A writ, dated March 30, 1678, by Tho: Bradbury vs. Christopher Palmer for a debt in pine boards, signed by Tho: Bradbury, for the court; and served by Henry Dow, marshall of Norfolk, by attachment of land, leaving the summons with his wife. Corporall Christopher Palmer acknowledged the judgment to Tho: Bradbury of 1,200 feet of merchantable white pine boards. (7) Christopher Palmer acknowledged a judgment to Ensign William Buswell. (8) Chris: Palmer acknowledged a judgment to Mr. Samll: Dalton. (9) A writ, dated April 4, 1678, by Henry Roby vs. Christopher Palmer for a debt, signed by Samuel Dalton, for the court; and served to Christopher Palmer by Henry Dow, marshall of Norfolk. An execution of a county court judgement was prepared and dated August 23, 1678, for Henry Dow, Marshall of Norfolk County, to levy 230 Pounds against the estate of Capt. Walter Barefoot and deliver the said amount to Christopher Palmer of Hampton. Christopher Palmer took the oath of allegiance, otherwise known as the "Freeman's Oath" in Hampton on October 4, 1678 together with his two sons Samuel and Joseph. On October 8, 1678, at the quarterly court session held in Hampton, Christopher Palmer acknowledged a judgment to Mr. Edward Woodman, in boards. On April 8, 1679, at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Captain Walter Barefoot brought a suit against Christopher Palmer for review of a case tried at Salisbury, April 9, 1678, concerning the breach of a bond of arbitration, in which Jno. Redman, attorney, and Richd: Bradley were bound. The suit was withdrawn. At the same court session, Christopher Palmer brought a suit against Danll: Tilton for review of a case tried in Salisbury in April 1678, in which Tilton was plaintiff against Palmer, for selling and delivering fifty acres of land near Tayler's River. The verdict was in favor for the plaintiff, a reversion of the former judgment. It was appealed to the next Court of Assistants. Tilton and Redman bound. On June 24, 1679 at the quarterly court session held in Salem, a letter of attorney, dated June 20, 1679, given by William Hilton and Sam: Hilton, both of Pascadaq. to their brother-in-law Christopher Palmer of Hampton. Witnesses were Benjamin Palmer and Timothy Dalton. Sworn June 21, 1679 before Samll: Dalton, commissioner. At the same court session, another letter of attorney, dated June 20, 1679, from George Sweett of Exeter to Mr. Christopher Palmer of Hampton. Witnesses were Benjamin Palmer and John Wedgewood. Acknowledged, June 23, 1679, before Samuel Dalton, commissioner. On November 11, 1679 at the quarterly court session held in Salisbury, Robert Page testified that about thirteen years ago (1666) the town measurers laid out the bounds between deponent and William Estoe and Thomas Moulton, William Palmer gauged to the river on his own side and William Wackefield and William Howard standing on Estoe's side of the river bade deponent stick down a bow between them in a direct line, which line lay within the ditch made by Christopher Palmer. Sworn in court and attested, Tho. Bradbury, recorder. At the same court session, Christopher Palmer testified that he heard Peter Abbot say that he had put a mare to Goodman Hobs for wintering, and that he agreed to pay for it. Sworn before Tho. Bradbury, recorder. Also at the same court session, Christopher Palmer was among a large group of individuals required to pay a debt in money to Tho. Bradbury in the amount of 11 shillings.

Christopher was listed on the tax list of May 8, 1680 in Hampton. "Att a Councill Held att Hampton in New hampshier on 29 June 1681", the following was recorded, viz: "These persons whose names are under written are freed from all ordinary trainings in Hampton paying to the foot Company these following soms to bee payd to the Clark of the band in merchentable pay att price Curantt. Christop Palmer fower shillings Per Anum." On November 6, 1683, Christopher Palmer of Hampton was selected as a juryman at the Court of Pleas held at Great Island in the case of Mason vs. Vaughn. On June 8, 1684 during a severe thunderstorm, Christopher's horse was killed by lightning. On June 24, 1684, Christopher Palmer was chosen as a member of the Jury for the Jury of Trials y^{e} first Tuesday in August in y^{e} yeare 1684. He was again chosen as a member of the Jury and to serve upon the Jury of Trials the first Tuesday in May 1685. He also served during King William's War about 1689. The inventory of the estate of William Hilton of Exeter, dated December 26, 1690, indicates that claims were filed by Christopher Palmer and his two sons Samuel and Joseph. He was again a Selectman of Hampton in 1692 and also in 1693. In 1693 the town of Hampton chose Capt. Henry Dow, Lieut. John Smith and Lieut. Christopher Palmer, as a committee, to draw up articles of agreement to be assented to, and subscribed by the members of a company formed for the purpose of building and operating a saw mill on the Little River. The terms were agreed upon and the names were subscribed on September 4, 1693. On May 20, 1695, Capt. Henry Dow and Lieut. Christopher Palmer were chosen by the town of Hampton to go to New Castle to show the reasons why a petition of New Castle should not be granted. Christopher was again a Selectman of Hampton in 1697 and 1698.

On May 10, 1699, Christopher Palmer testified in court that he knew of several men who lived at Little Harbor. The recorded entry is as follows, viz: "Christopher Palmer, aged seventy-three or thereabouts, testifieth and saith, y^{t} Mr. Gee & severall other men whose names I doe not remember, lived at Little Harbour, & y^{t} they were reported to be agents and serv^{ts} to Capt. Mason, deceased, and had an house att Little Harbour aforesaid, called Randevous, and y^{t} they had in y^{r} possession (in y^{r} possession) several head of divers sorts of cattle w^{ch} were reported to belong unto said Capt. Mason. Sworn in Court, y^{e} tenth day of May, 1699. Vera Copia, Pr. Curi^{m}, SAMPSON SHEAFE, Clk. Attest, RICHARD PARTRIDGE, Clk."

Christopher Palmer died on June 30, 1699, in Hampton. His widow, Susanna, died on January 9,1715/16 in Hampton, aged 82 years.

II-2 Edward PALMER (William 1)

Baptized on March 29, 1623 in Ormesby St. Margaret, Norfolk Couny, England. It is believed that Edward came to the New England Colonies with his father, arriving probably in Salem, in the Massachusetts Bay Colony in July or perhaps early August, 1637. He is believed to have resided in Boston for a short time and later removed to Hampton about 1640.

In 1639, the General Court of Boston decreed that, "In every Constabulary there be a paire of stocks erected and a whipping post." An Edward Palmer of Boston was employed to build the first stocks in Boston, at least the first mentioned in the records, and had the honor of being the first to try them. It seems that when he presented his bill, it was held to be extortionate and by a piece of grim pleasantry the Court fined him Five Pounds on May 22, 1639 and also sentenced him to set an hour in the stocks. The fine was remitted to Ten Shillings and he paid same at a Court of Elections at Boston on May 13, 1640.

On May 4, 1640, liberty was given to Edward Palmer of Hampton, to digg and (?) in the side of the hill against the end of his land. On June 30, 1640, Edward Palmer was granted five acres of land adjoining the 100 acres of his fathers land. Edward was then living on the Exeter Road near the old Neal house of 1893.

On April 14, 1641, Edward Palmer was chosen with others to construct a pound near the Great Boares Head. The gate was to be made by Richard Knight instead of him working at the common.

On July 13, 1642, Edward was granted three acres of salt marsh by the town. Edward Palmer was not mentioned in his father's will of 1644 and it is not certain if he was deceased at this time, relocated elsewhere to some unknown location or possibly returned to England. Edward is listed on a tax list dated April 15, 1647 along with his father William. Although no taxes were levied for Edward, it is not certain if he was still living at this time. His father William was evidently dead at this time because his widow, Ann, married Francis Plummer on March 21, 1647.

No further record of Edward Palmer can be found after April 15, 1647 and it is not certain if he married and had children.

The Stocks

II-3 Joseph PALMER (William [1])

Born about 1643/4 in Hampton, Norfolk County. Joseph was about two years old when his father died in 1647 and soon thereafter, both he and his mother removed to Newbury, Massachusetts where she originally lived before marrying William Palmer. She later married Francis Plummer of Newbury on March 21, 1647. It is here where Joseph spent his childhood years and grew to manhood.

On October 8, 1661, guardianship of Joseph Palmer was granted to his brother Christopher of Hampton and Walter Roper of Ipswich. Joseph was about 17 years old in 1661 and still under age, and it is evident that the appointment of the guardianship was for his interest in his fathers estate. As a matter of record, William Palmer released all his lands and house in Newbury to his daughter Martha and husband John Sherman in 1645. The Sherman's later granted these lands to Joseph in 1661 as he was "the youngest sonn of the sayd William Palmer" who bequeathed the said house and land to Joseph in his will of 1644. On March 25, 1662, Christopher Palmer and Walter Roper, as guardians of Joseph brought action against William Sawyer of Newbury in trespass for detaining, making use of, and refusing to deliver a parcel of salt marsh of twelve acres which formerly belonged to William Palmer and "now of right belonging to Joseph Palmer by the grant of John Sherman". The verdict was for the plaintiffs, Palmer and Roper. The same plaintiffs brought a similar action against William Ilalye for four acres, and they also brought another action against Tristram Coffin, constable, in behalf of the town of Newbury, for refusing to resign and to lay out a parcel of land, meadow and upland, granted by the town of Newbury to William Palmer and of right belonging to Joseph Palmer by the grant of John Sherman. Again the verdicts were for the plaintiffs.

Joseph married on March 1, 1664/5 in Newbury, Sarah Jackman, born on January 18, 1648 in Newbury, daughter of James and Joanna Jackman. Joseph and Sarah spent their first years of marriage in Newbury but later removed to Bradford, Massachusetts about 1670. Bradford was originally a part of the town of Rowley and that section which later became Bradford was originally known as the Merrimac Lands. A record of the survey of the Merrimac Lands in 1670 mentions the land of Joseph Palmer. On March 23, 1673, Joseph was mentioned as a creditor in the inventory of the estate of Francis Plummer. On December 27, 1682, Joseph and his wife Sarah, together with eighteen other persons, were organizers of the new First Church of Christ in Bradford.

On February 18, 1713/14, Joseph deeded two parcels of land in Bradford Township of about 12 acres, to his son, Richard Palmer of Bradford. On February 2, 1714/15, he deeded a parcel of meadow in Crane Meadow in Bradford Township of about 3 acres, to his son, James Palmer of Bradford.

Joseph Palmer prepared his will on February 5, 1714/15 three days before he died on February 8 in Bradford. The inscription on Joseph's headstone reads: / HEAR LYETH / BURIED THE BODY / OF JOSEPH PALMER / WHO DIED / FEBRUARY THE 8 / 1715 IN THE 72 / YEAR OF HIS / AGE /. His will was probated on February 21, 1715 in Essex County, Massachusetts and mentions his wife Sarah, sons James, Richard and Samuel, son-in-law Jonathan Chase, children of daughter Sarah Rawlins and children of son Joseph. (Essex County Probate Court Record # 20438)

Joseph Palmer's Deed to James Palmer of 1714/15

II-4 Martha PALMER (William [1])

Born about 1620 or earlier, probably in Ormesby St. Margaret, Norfolk County, England. It is believed that Martha came to the New England Colony with her father William, arriving probably in Salem, Massachusetts in July or perhaps early August, 1637. The first record of Martha appears to be late 1637 or early 1638 when she married John Sherman of Watertown, Massachusetts. The actual record of her marriage has not been found and it would be safe to assume that she was married about late 1637 or early 1638 in Watertown and therefore did not go to Hampton, New Hampshire with her father in 1638. John Sherman was baptized on September 3, 1612 in Great Horkesley, Essex County, England, son of John Sherman and Grace Ravens. John Sherman, Sr. died on January 24, 1615/16 and his widow, Grace, married second about 1617, Thomas Rogers, with whom she emigrated to the New England Colony about 1634 along with her son, John Sherman, Jr. and daughter, Elizabeth Rogers. Elizabeth married about 1640/41, Daniel Smith of Watertown. Thomas Rogers died on November 12, 1638 and his widow, Grace, married third, Roger Porter, who died on April 3, 1654. Grace died in 1662. Her will was proved on June 17, 1662. (Middlesex County Probate Court Record # 12652) It is worthy to note that former President George Herbert Walker Bush is a 9th generation descendant of Daniel and Elizabeth (Rogers) Smith.

John Sherman, Jr. was admitted as a Freeman in Watertown on May 17, 1637. He had only 3 grants: a 6 acre parcel in the town plot; a 16 1/2 acre parcel in lieu of township and a farm lot of 171 acres. Previous to 1644 he had purchased 10 lots, 7 of which had been granted to Thomas Rogers, and one was the 50 acre lot granted to R. Browne in the Great Dividends. His homestall was situated on both sides of Common Street (then called Bowman's Lane), immediately south of Strawberry Hill. It is more probable that he settled at first on his homestall on the east side of Bowman's Lane which became his permanent residence.

On March 10, 1645, Martha and her husband John Sherman were deeded property by her father, William. The property consisted of William's dwelling and house lot and all other ground in Newbury, Massachusetts of about 20 acres and also all his house and lands in Hampton, New Hampshire of about 110 acres of upland, meadow and marsh and also three cows and two yearling steere calves and one suckling calfe and household stuff. (see Deed, pp. 8, 9) At a court session in June 1654, Sergeant John Sherman was accepted as an Ensign of the Watertown Company Militia.

On October 31, 1661, Martha and her husband John, granted the lands in Newbury to Martha's younger half-brother Joseph. (see Grant, p. 31) On June 17, 1662, the will of Grace Porter was proved and mentions Martha Sherman and two of Martha's daughters, Mary and Sarah. In 1662, John Sherman was a steward of Harvard College. On June 11, 1680 John attained the rank of Captain of the Watertown Company Militia and was a leading resident of Watertown, being a selectman, town clerk, deputy to the Massachusetts General Court and schoolmaster.

John Sherman died in Watertown on January 25, 1690/1. His widow, Martha, died in Watertown on February 7, 1700.

It is worthy to note that John and Martha Sherman were the Great grandparents of the Hon. Roger Sherman of Connecticut, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

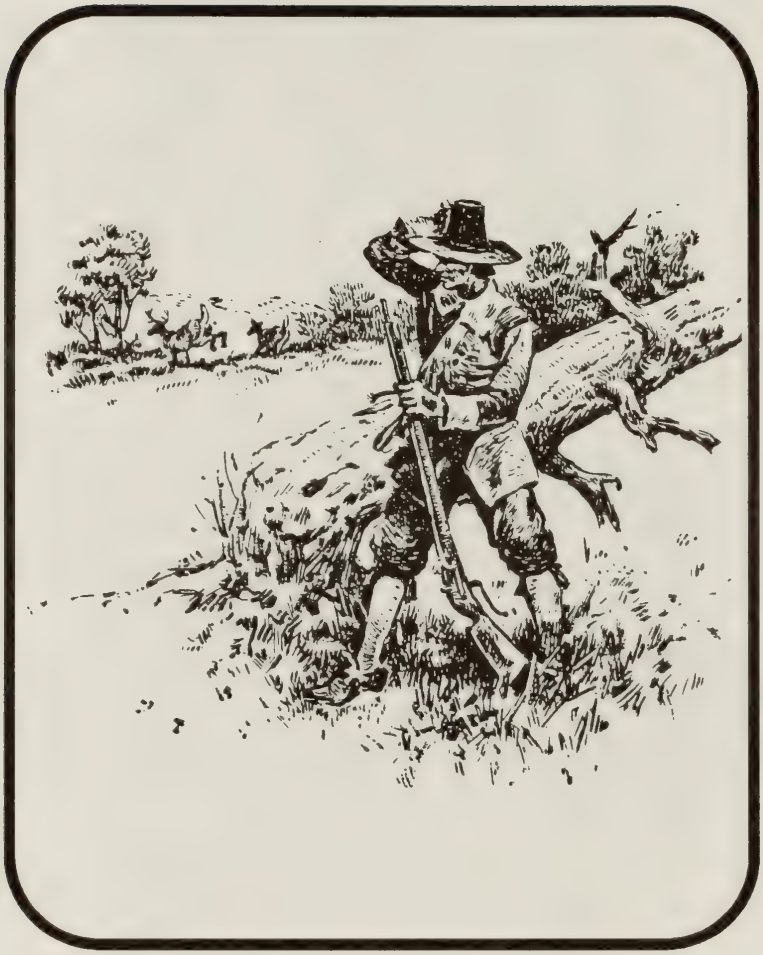
Thomas Danforth



An Early 17th Century American Hunter

The American hunter during the early years in the New England colony was armed only with a matchlock musket. It was essential for him to be an expert shot the first time if he was to put meat on the table for his family. The early matchlock musket was heavy and cumbersome, equiped with a glowing rope to ignite the priming powder.

Third Generation

III-2-1 Benjamin PALMER (Joseph,II-3 William 1)

Born on October 8, 1672 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. The first record of Benjamin is on June 15, 1691 when he was listed as a member of "The Newbury Watch." The Newbury Watch consisted of approximately fifty-two men and the requirement was for three men to stand watch each night one half hour after sunset until sunrise. One man was to stand watch at George Little's garrison and two at Anthony Morse's house. If any man failed to fulfill his duty, he was fined one shilling. He was probably the Benjamin mentioned in the garrison at Groton, Massachusetts in a list dated March 17, 1691/2, showing the arrangement of groups of men in that section. This garrison was probably a part of what was known as the Newbury Watch.

Benjamin evidently went to Exeter, New Hampshire. The will of William More, Sr. of Exeter, dated December 25, 1700, has as one witness Benjamin Palmer. In 1709, a petition by the inhabitants of Quamscott to the Council and Assembly of New Hampshire to be a town separate from Hampton and Exeter had Benjamin Palmer as one of the signers. This petition resulted in the incorporation of the town of Stratham, Province of New Hampshire on March 14, 1715/16. On January 10, 1715/16, Benjamin Palmer and James Palmer were both residents of the new town of Stratham.

On April 21, 1722, Benjamin Palmer of Stratham was deeded land in that town by William Powell. On May 20, 1727, the petitioners for a charter of the town of Bow, Province of New Hampshire, included Benjamin Palmer, Joseph, John and James Palmer. On May 4, 1733, Benjamin Palmer of Stratham deeded land in the town of Bow to Noah Barker. The will of Noah Barker of Stratham is dated December 27, 1746, in which he devised to his wife, land rights in the township of Bow which originally belonged to Benjamin Palmer. On August 12, 1746, Benjamin Palmer and Richard Palmer of Stratham were signers of a petition relating to divisions about a minister in Stratham. On December 3, 1747, a petition by the inhabitants of Stratham included Benjamin Palmer and Richard Palmer. On October 2, 1782, Benjamin Palmer of Stratham, sold Lot No. 11, Range 12, which consisted of 56 acres, to Benjamin Noyes for the purpose of paying the taxes for said year. In 1784, the sale for taxes of unimproved land in Bow included a lot of Benjamin Palmer.

It is evident that Benjamin did not live in the town of Bow but continued to reside in Stratham. Benjamin's death is recorded in the Stratham records as April 20, 1750. No record has been found for a wife of Benjamin nor is there any record of children of Benjamin. He left no will on record and there is no administration of his estate. It appears that Benjamin died unmarried.

III-10-1 James PALMER (Joseph,II-3 William 1)

Born on December 20, 1667 in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts. James went with his parents to Bradford, Massachusetts where he married on December 31, 1690, Elizabeth Growth of Salisbury, Mass. She was born on July 29, 1674 in Salisbury, daughter of Dr. John Growth and Elizabeth Eaton of Salisbury.

On October 23, 1709, James and his wife Elizabeth were admitted to the First Church of Christ in Bradford. On February 2, 1714/15, James was deeded a parcel of meadow in Crane Meadow in Bradford of about 3 acres by his father Joseph Palmer of Bradford. In 1715 James and his family removed to Exeter, Province of New Hampshire in that section which later became the town of Stratham, incorporated on March 14, 1715/6. On September 17, 1715 James was deeded land in Exeter by Jonathan and Martha Hoag of Newbury. James and his wife Elizabeth of Bradford were dismissed from the First Church of Christ in Bradford to Exeter on July 17, 1717.

On May 18, 1722, James of Stratham was deeded land in Stratham by William and Esther Powell of Stratham. On July 22, 1725, James deeded to his son Joseph the same land that he bought from Jonathan and Martha Hoag. On May 20, 1727, James was one of the petitioners for the charter of the town of Bow, Province of New Hampshire. He was listed as a blacksmith when he prepared his will.

James Palmer prepared his will on August 20, 1739 which was probated on March 26, 1740. The exact date of James Palmer's death is not known at this time and it is believed that his widow Elizabeth Palmer died on August 4, 1758 in Stratham.

III-10-2 Joanna PALMER (Joseph,II-3 William 1)

Born on September 14, 1680 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. Her marriage intentions were published on July 11, 1702 in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts to Jonathan Chase of Newbury. He was born on January 13, 1682/3 in Newbury, son of Thomas Chase and Rebecca Follansbee.

Jonathan and Joanna settled in what is now West Newbury and were admitted to the Second Church of Newbury in 1715. On December 7, 1716, he sold his homestead of 40 acres to William Johnson, Jr., a shipwright, and in the same year purchased a dwelling house and lands in Stratham, New Hampshire from Benjamin Hoag of Stratham. Years later, the property became known as "The Judge Scammon Place." Later , they were dismissed to the church in Exeter, New Hampshire.

Jonathan was a large land owner and was called "Ensign" at the time of his death. He was one of the original proprietors in Sanbornton, New Hampshire and after his death, the lots belonging to his share in the division were conveyed to his heirs. His estate was valued at 7,261 Pounds.

Ensign Jonathan Chase prepared his will on April 28, 1749, a few days before his death on May 3, 1749 in Stratham. He designated his son-in-law, Jonathan Robinson, as executor of his will which was proved on May 22, 1749. Joanna died on March 17, 1756 in Stratham.

In May 1694, Deborah Palmer and Abial Marston, testified concerning Daniel Gott. Joseph and his wife Deborah were admitted to the Congregational Church in Hampton on April 17, 1698.

Born on July 8, 1670 in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts. Joseph was an infant when his parents removed to Bradford, Massachusetts about 1670/1 where his father owned land in the "Merrimac Lands".

Information is scarce about Joseph Palmer. It is believed that he married twice, first to Hannah, who is the mother of his first child and second to Esther Wallingford, the mother of his next two children. His first wife Hannah may have died before 1700. Esther was born on June 8, 1676 in Bradford, daughter of Nicholas Wallingford and Sarah Travers of Bradford.

Joseph is believed to have died about 1706 probably in Newbury. His widow, Esther, remarried about the latter part of 1706 in Haverhill, Massachusetts to Nathaniel Ayer, born on November 15, 1676 in Haverhill, son of Nathaniel Ayer and Tamesin Turloar of Haverhill. Nathaniel died on October 5, 1754 in Haverhill. Esther died on August 12, 1743 in Haverhill.

III-19-1 Samuel PALMER (Christopher,II-1 William 1)

Born on November 25, 1652 in Hampton, Norfolk County, Massachusetts Bay Colony. On October 4, 1678, Samuel took the oath of allegiance, otherwise known as the "Freeman's Oath" at Hampton together with his brother Joseph and his father Christopher. On November 9, 1678, Samuel Palmer's father conveyed to him and his brother Joseph the "house and house lott, containing about twenty acres, in Hampton. (see Joseph Palmer, III-10-3)

Samuel married on March 24, 1678 in Hampton, Ann Sanborn, born on November 20, 1662 in Hampton, daughter of Lieut. John Sanborn and Mary Tuck of Hampton. They lived on the homestead for the duration of their lives. He was in the colonial service during King William's War from August 20 to September 3, 1694 and served in the garrison at Oyster River under the command of Captain John Woodman. He was at the garrison in Exeter, New Hampshire for one month from November 14, 1695 to April 8, 1696 and was paid One Pound, four shillings for his services. He was also at the same garrison for one month from April 8, 1696 to May 11, 1696 and was paid One Pound, four shillings. On March 1, 1706/07, Samuel Palmer of Hampton was issued a citation to appear and administer or renounce administration upon the estate of his father, Christopher Palmer of Hampton, administration having been asked for by Theodore Atkinson, principal creditor. He was called Samuel Sr. of Hampton in various deeds from 1708 to 1724.

Samuel Palmer apparently did not leave a will or administration and subsequently his property was divided by his children on October 22, 1724 according to Concord Deeds, Vol. 33, p. 161. Samuel Palmer's death occurred probably in 1724 in Hampton. His widow Ann died on October 4, 1745 in Hampton.

III-19-2 Samuel PALMER (Joseph,II-3 William 1)

Born on April 25, 1686 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. Samuel spent his childhood years in Bradford and married about April 1708 probably in Bradford, Elizabeth Green (later Gage), born on December 21, 1689 in Malden, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Thomas Green and Mary Weeks. Mary married second, Nathaniel Gage. Her will as Mary Gage of Rowley, Massachusetts is dated July 8, 1738 and mentions her daughter Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Palmer of Bradford.

Samuel and Elizabeth Palmer evidently lived in Newbury for a short time after marriage and later removed to Bradford. Samuel and Elizabeth were admitted to the church in Bradford on September 7, 1712. The East Precinct of Bradford was incorporated on June 17, 1726 and the church was organized on June 7, 1726 with Samuel and Elizabeth as original members. The East Precinct later became the town of Groveland.

Samuel Palmer's will is dated March 3, 1747 and was probated on January 8, 1759 after his death on December 18, 1758 in Bradford. (Essex County Probate Court Record # 20450) He is buried in the Ancient Burying Grounds of East Bradford next to his wife Elizabeth, who died on February 11, 1774 in Bradford.

The Pillory

The pillory was used in the early colonial period as a means for publicly punishing offenders by locking their head and hands in the device and exposing them to public contempt, scorn or ridicule.

Abigail spent the first few years of her childhood in Newbury and later removed to Bradford with her parents about 1715. She married on December 19, 1732 in Bradford, Jonas Platts, born probably on February 9, 1703/4 in Bradford, son of Jonas Platts and Anne Bailey of Bradford.

Abigail and Jonas resided in Bradford their entire lives. Jonas died on April 27, 1767 in Bradford and is buried in the Ancient Burying Grounds in East Bradford, later known as Groveland. Abigail died on August 7, 1802 in Bradford at the age of 91 years.

Born on September 25, 1707 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. He was baptized on May 2, 1708 at the First Church in Salisbury, Essex County. Andrew married on December 6, 1732 in Bradford, Jemima Hardy, born on May 13, 1711 in Bradford, daughter of Joseph Hardy and Mary Burbank of Haverhill, Essex County. Andrew and Jemima lived their entire lives in Bradford. On November 26, 1742 in Bradford, Joseph and Martha Worster, mother of Andrew, deeded a dwelling house, barn and about 11 acres of land to Andrew Palmer of Bradford. A deed dated 1764 by Andrew Palmer of Bradford along with other brothers and sisters, granted rights of the estate of their uncle.

Andrew died on January 13, 1765 in Bradford due to apoplexy. He is buried in the Ancient Burying Grounds in East Bradford, later known as Groveland. On June 23, 1766 administration on his estate was granted to Jemima. (Essex County Probate Court Record # 20422) On June 29, 1767, Jonah Palmer was appointed guardian for the three minor children, David, Joanna and John, all of Bradford. (Essex County Probate Court Record # 20437) It is unclear as to why a guardian was appointed considering that Jemima died in December 1778.

IV-3-2 Christopher PALMER (Samuel ,III-19-1 Christopher ,2 William 1)

Born on February 12, 1686/7 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. Christopher married on July 24, 1705 in Rye, New Hampshire, Elizabeth Berry, born on October 15, 1686 in Rye, daughter of William Berry and Judith Locke. Christopher and Elizabeth resided in Hampton after marriage and were admitted to the church in Hampton on November 24, 1717. He was listed as a soldier from Hampton who served during Queen Ann's War at Fort William and Mary located in New Castle, New Hampshire from May 18 to June 1, 1708. In 1721, he signed a petition to the General Court of New Hampshire together with other residents of Hampton, Portsmouth, Sandy Beach, New Castle and Rye. He resided at that time in the eastern part of the town of Hampton which in 1725 became a part of the town of Rye. Rye was orginally included in the town of New Castle. Christopher was taxed in Rye on May 31, 1728 and was a selectman of Rye in 1736.

On November 9, 1748, Christopher, Jonathan, William and Stephen Palmer, all of Rye, petitioned the General Court of New Hampshire for grants of land and they were granted a charter in Warner, New Hampshire, dated March 14, 1749. At about this time the town of North Hampton was set off from both Hampton and Rye and was incorporated on February 21, 1757. Christopher of North Hampton deeded to his son Jonathan, land and buildings of the homestead in Hampton, he in turn to pay his brother William.

On June 10, 1761, Christopher of North Hampton deeded to his grandson Joseph, son of William of North Hampton, land in Jennesstown, later known as Warner. No other deeds on record can be found of Christopher and it is believed that he continued to reside in North Hampton until his death about 1763.

An interesting story, known as "The Fortune," has been handed down through the generations beginning with Judith Locke, daughter of Nathaniel Locke and Judith Hemming. The story begins when Judith Hemins Locke arrived in New England with her husband Nathaniel Locke. It has been recorded that she brought with her "a Coat of Arms, which refereth to John Hemins." Judith Hemins had an only brother, who died, leaving Judith as sole heiress to the fortune. Her father's will is said to have read: "To Judith and her heirs for ever and ever." The Coat of Arms was: 3 Lions' Heads on a bed of Gold, Cap of Silver and Ermine.

About 1800 the finding of a old parchment document in an old trunk in an attic somewhere in New England, stirred the Locke and Palmer descendants to begin a search in England. The parchment had been partly deteriorated, but enough was left to determine it was about a large estate in England. On May 10, 1810, an affidavit was prepared by Jonathan and David Locke of Rye, New Hampshire, which became known as "The Rye Document." The family sent Lawyer Benjamin Duren to England with the affidavit in search of the estate. He arrived in England on December 10, 1810 and shortly thereafter wrote back saying that he had found the property and it was more than expected. It consisted of 13 1/2 million pounds sterling in the treasury, 3/4 of a mile located in London, 2 miles located in Liverpool and 15 square miles located in Maine.

On January 9, 1811, Benjamin Duren met with an accident and was taken to St. Thomas Hospital, where he died the following day of pneumonia. It is believed the papers laying claim to the estate were in his trunk which lay unclaimed in England after his death. The American Consul in England had written to Benjamin Duren's wife informing her of his death and that his trunk and writings were stored in the Consulate and she could have them by writing for them. Whether she did so or not has never been determined and the papers were never recovered by the heirs. The whereabouts of the trunk and its contents still remain a mystery to this day.

In 1870, Truman Remick Palmer had some research done in England, but was unable to pursue the matter very far. In 1932, another effort was made by Palmer heirs to trace the Hemins connection in England, but to some confusion in dates in the office of the American Consul General in London, nothing was accomplished.

Eugenia Amanda (Palmer) Duffy, daughter of Truman Dixon Palmer and descendant of Christopher Palmer, often spoke of "The Fortune" to her children. She spoke of phrases related by her parents as "the stables were paved with Parisian marble" and "a street of blue houses" which were part of the property in London.

He married first, on December 10, 1751 in Bradford, Susanna Bacon, born on January 22, 1728/29 in Bradford, daughter of Josiah and Mary Bacon. She died on July 31, 1758 in Bradford and is buried in the Ancient Burial Ground in Bradford. Inscription on her headstone reads: / HERE LIES / BURIED THE / BODY OF MRs / SUSANNA Ye / WIFE OF Mr / EBENEZER / PALMER WHO / DEPARTED THIS / LIFE JULY 3 1758 / IN Ye 30th YEAR / OF HER AGE /. Ebenezer married second, on August 19, 1760 in Haverhill, Rebecca Burbank, baptised on October 31, 1731 in Bradford, daughter of Timothy Burbank and Susannah Hardy of Bradford.

Ebenezer resided in the Groveland section of Bradford until about 1767 when he removed to Pelham, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire and continued to reside there the rest of his life. On April 3, 1767, Ebenezer Palmer of Bradford was deeded land in Pelham. A petition by the inhabitants to the General Assembly in 1769 and again on March 7, 1774, had Ebenezer Palmer as one of the petitioners.

During the Revolutionary War, Ebenezer enlisted on September 29, 1777 as a private in Capt. Amos Gages Company, Col. Moor's Regiment which marched from Pelham to join the northern Continental Army at Saratoga. He was discharged on October 28, 1777 after one month in service. During his month in service, he was paid a total of 8 Pounds, 3 Shillings and 10 Pence. The standard rate for one month wages was 4 Pounds, 10 Shillings. The remainder of his pay was for travel time and provisions received at Bennington.

Ebenezer married third, on June 30, 1785 in Pelham, Mrs. Thankful Williams. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Pelham with one male over 16, beside himself and one female. Ebenezer prepared his will on January 8, 1798, listed as "yeoman". He mentioned his wife Thankful, sons Ebenezer and Asa, and daughters Phebe, wife of Stephen Webster and Susanna, wife of Christopher Williams. Ebenezer and his wife Thankful were admitted to the First Congregational Church in Pelham on December 7, 1800.

Ebenezer died on December 16, 1803 in Pelham. The death dates of his wives are unknown at this time.

Born on April 12, 1694 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. As a young man, Edward served during Queen Anne's War in 1712 as part of a scouting party under the command of Capt. James Davis. He spent two weeks time in service and was paid 12 Shillings. Edward married on March 29, 1724/25 in Greenland, New Hampshire, Bethiah Philbrick, baptised in 1715 in Greenland, daughter of Elias Philbrick and Rhoda Perkins of Greenland and North Hampton, New Hampshire. Bethiah was born probably about 1705.

Edward lived in Hampton Falls soon after marriage and was listed in an inventory of property in that town on May 18, 1727 having six acres of land. On October 4, 1737, Bethiah Palmer was dismissed from the church in Hampton Falls to form a new church in Kensington, Province of New Hampshire. On March 1, 1750/1 in Hampton Falls, a notice was posted for a town meeting and one topic of discussion was to resolve the matter of Edward Palmer and Henry Lamprey who refused to pay their tax rates. What action was taken with these two men, the record does not show, or on what grounds they refused payment of their rates. Edward removed to Kensington about the same time where he continued to reside the rest of his life. He is recorded as having various land transactions in Hampton, Hampton Falls and Kensington.

Edward died on April 19, 1775 in Kensington and his wife Bethiah died on April 18, 1775 in Kensington. There is no will or administration on record for either Edward or his wife.

IV-10-1 John PALMER (James,III-10-1 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born in August 1694 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. John went with his parents to Exeter, Province of New Hampshire in 1715. He married about 1719. The only record of his wife indicates that her name was Rachel.

On April 20, 1719, John Palmer of Exeter, deeded land in the towns of Exeter and Stratham to Roger Shaw of Hampton. Sometime after 1719, John evidently removed to New Market, Province of New Hampshire. On July 30, 1731, John of New Market deeded land in that town. On April 23, 1744, John of New Market deeded land in that town to his son James. On November 21, 1746, John and his son Growth, both of New Market, were among a group of inhabitants of New Market petitioning for a bridge to be constructed between that town and Stratham. On January 31, 1748/9, John of New Market deeded land in Bow, New Hampshire to his son Growth of New Market. The last deed on record of John was dated February 21, 1753. There is no further record of John as to a will or administration. From a deed dated June 18, 1756 in which Rachel Palmer joins with her son James, deeded land in New Market to Charles Rundlet.

It would appear that John Palmer died sometime after February 1753 and before June 1756.

Jonathan probably resided in Hampton Falls immediately after marriage which section later was set off on April 1, 1737 and incorporated into the town of Kensington. He had various land transactions in Hampton and Hampton Falls. In 1746 he was paid 4 Shillings for mending the constable's staff at Kensington. On October 24, 1759, Jonathan and his wife Anna of Kensington deeded to Stephen Brown rights in the estate of William Brown of Hampton, "our brother," covering lands in Kensington, Hampton Falls and elsewhere. On June 28, 1762, Jonathan of Kensington deeded to his son Stephen in Kensington. A Jonathan of Kensington took the oath of allegiance at Kensington in 1776, however there is no military record on Jonathan available at this time. This Jonathan could also be a son who was born about 1741.

Jonathan died on November 13, 1779 in Kensington and his wife Anna died on May 14, 1796 in Kensington. There is no will or administration of his estate on record for Jonathan or his wife.

Born on July 16, 1699 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. Joseph went with his parents to Stratham, Province of New Hampshire in 1715 and continued to live there the rest of his life. He married about 1725 in Exeter, Province of New Hampshire, Sarah Robinson, born in Exeter, daughter of John Robinson and Mehitable Stanyan of Exeter.

On May 20, 1727, Joseph was listed as one of the petitioners for a grant under the charter of Bow, New Hampshire and on January 31, 1748/49 he deeded his interests in this charter. On March 26, 1740, he inherited the homestead lands in Stratham as outlined in the will of his father James. (See James Palmer's Will of 1739, III-10-1) Sarah Palmer was mentioned as a daughter in the will of John Robinson of Exeter, dated July 7, 1749. She was to be given 50 Pounds in Bills of the old Tenor. The will was proved on August 22, 1755. On November 25, 1755, Joseph was listed as a petitioner along with other inhabitants of New Market, relative to erecting and maintaining a new bridge over the Exeter River from Stratham to a place called the Newfields in New Market.

Joseph Palmer, formerly of Stratham, prepared his will on March 15, 1759 while residing at a place called Buckstreet, which later was incorporated as Pembroke on November 1, 1759. Joseph and his family were evidently one of about sixty families who settled partly within the township of Bow and partly at a place called Suncook and at a place called Buckstreet.

He died before May 30, 1759 probably in Stratham. Death records of Stratham indicates that Joseph Palmer's son died on September 1, 1742 and two other children of Joseph died on September 2nd and 3rd, 1742. Sarah Palmer, widow of Joseph, was living in 1759.

IV-10-5 Joseph PALMER (Richard,III-18-1 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born on August 2, 1719 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on October 1, 1745 in Rowley, Essex County, Hannah (Colman) Harriman, baptized on May 16, 1725 in Rowley, daughter of Thomas Colman of Newbury and widow of Nathaniel Harriman, Jr., who died on October 26, 1744 in Bradford.

Joseph resided in Rowley after marriage. A deed dated 1764 by Joseph Palmer of Rowley, along with other brothers and sisters, granted rights of the estate of their uncle. On May 21, 1769, Joseph Palmer of Rowley, joiner, was deeded land in Campton, Grafton County, New Hampshire. He later removed to Campton in 1769 after that town was re-granted on January 5, 1767. He continued to reside in Campton the rest of his life. At the first town meeting held in Campton in 1772, Joseph Palmer and Joseph Pulsifer were chosen as surveyors of lumber. An entry recorded in the town records of Campton in 1779 reads, viz: "At a meeting of the Proprietors of Campton held this twenty eigth day of January AD 1779 at the house of Mr. Isaac Foxe in said Campton Tuesday 2 o'clock agreeable to a notification from under the hand of the proprietors desk warning said Meeting." It was voted at the meeting, "That Mr. Joseph Palmer have liberty to Pitch a piece of Common upland laying between his upland & Intervale lot to go as far as his Intervale extends." On March 21, 1780, at the annual town meeting in Campton, Joseph was chosen by the voters to be a surveyor of lumber for the ensuing year. He was chosen for the same position on March 16, 1784. On August 24, 1782, Joseph Palmer and his son, Joseph, Jr., were signers of a petition relative to the town of Campton to be annexed to the County of Grafton. The petition was granted by an act passed on September 14, 1782. On March 18, 1783, at the annual town meeting in Campton, Joseph was chosen by the voters to be a fence viewer for the ensuing year. On July 23, 1783, Joseph Palmer of Campton, laborer, was deeded land in Campton. Joseph Palmer appeared on the Campton assessment invoice and tax lists from 1793 to 1805.

A record of the Centennial Celebration of the town of Campton on September 12, 1867 states that Joseph Palmer came from Rowley, Massachusetts and settled on the west side of the river. Joseph is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Campton, living alone. His two sons, Joseph, Jr. and Dudley, are listed in the same census with families of their own.

Joseph's wife, Hannah, is believed to have died before 1790 in Campton. Joseph is believed to have died about 1805, also in Campton.

IV-19-2 Samuel PALMER (Richard,III-18-1 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born on April 27, 1713 in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts. Baptized on May 9, 1714 in Bradford, Essex County. His marriage intention was recorded on July 3, 1738 in Newbury and he was married on August 21, 1738 in Rowley, Essex County, to Anne Evans, born about 1717.

Samuel resided in Rowley for a short time after marriage and then removed to Methuen, Essex County, about 1745. A deed dated 1764 by Samuel Palmer of Methuen, along with other brothers and sisters, granted rights of the estate of their uncle. About 1770, Samuel probably removed to Sandown, Province of New Hampshire where he took the oath of allegiance in 1776. A Samuel Palmer of Methuen deeded land in Methuen to Asa Palmer on November 20, 1787. It is believed that Asa was his son who was living in Methuen at that time. No further record of Samuel or his wife can be found at this time.

IV-19-3 Samuel PALMER, Jr., Esq. (Samuel, III-19-1 Christopher, 2 William 1)

Born about 1685 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. The earliest record of Samuel Palmer was recorded in 1708 when he was a soldier during Queen Ann's War at Fort William and Mary located in New Castle, New Hampshire from June 15 to June 29, 1708.

Samuel married first, on February 7, 1717 in Hampton, Deborah Lamprey, born in 1690 in Hampton, daughter of Benjamin Lamprey and Jane Batchelder. In 1720, Samuel was chosen as a Selectman of Hampton at age 36. On November 28, 1722, Samuel Palmer was noted on a document as being the surveyor of the second division of land which was laid out.

On April 24, 1724, Samuel Palmer's wife Deborah died at the early age of 34 in Hampton and two years later on March 2, 1726, he married second, in Hampton, Rebecca Page, born on November 24, 1681 in Hampton, daughter of Deacon Francis Page and Meribah Smith. He was also a Selectman of Hampton the same year. Samuel lived on the northern part of what was to be Joseph A. Philbrick's homestead in 1893 near Nathaniel S. Locke's place.

Samuel Palmer, Jr. was engaged in numerous land transactions. The first recorded transaction was on May 20, 1727 when he was listed as one of the proprietors of the new plantation in Chichester, Province of New Hampshire. In the afternoon of July 5, 1727, Samuel and his young son Samuel had a brush with death when a bolt of lightning struck two trees a few yards in front of them. They were riding a good pace towards the woods, so that in less than a minute they would have been up to the place where the lightning struck.

On May 25, 1728, Samuel Palmer, James Grey and John Sweat were selected as a committee by the proprietors of Londonderry to survey, establish and correct the true boundary line between the town of Chester and Kingston in the Province of New Hampshire. At the completion of the survey, Samuel Palmer's reply was as follows:

"according to an order of Council to us bareing Date may 25. 1728 we did repair to Kingston north Corner bounds on thursday the 30th of may fore sd to try the trew Corse of the Divideing Line between the towne of Chester and sd Kingston and we find the Centre of the trew Corse between the Sd towns to be eight degrees to the westward of South & better or South & between 8 & 9 deg west:ly as the Line has been run & marked out between the two Said towns formerly and understanding the said order that the trew Corse of said Line when found should be Contineued on to the southward on the uper & westly part of Kingston till itt came to the Extent of Said Kingston to the southward. we Did accordingly the next Day Contineu on the same Corse of South and between 8 & 9 deg w:ly to a white oke now marked standing on the south Easterly Edg of high Land Laying nere and on the North westrly Part of a Pond Called Island Pond and time failing us wee could Proceed no further and this is the Servay that wee have taken upon the above Said order that wee Receved."

On March 14, 1731, Samuel was chosen as a Selectman of Hampton and held the position until 1738. He held the position of Selectman for Hampton on numerous occasions throughout his career. On March 1, 1732, he was authorized by the petitioners of Hampton for a new Parish, to measure and establish proper boundaries on the west part of Hampton and lower part of Kingston. The endorsed Hampton Falls petition and paper read, viz:

"being desired by Some of the Petitioners for a new Parish on the west Part of Hampton and Lower Part of Kingston I did with them mesiour the Distance from the Line on the head of Hampton falls near as the road by ye new meeting House frame on Hampton line or near itt gos till wee Came in to the broad street near Tuckes Corner square with Kingston old meeting house and we found the distance to be 4 mile and 12 rod and the nearest distance on the Line between meeting house & the frame for a meeting house neare Hampton Line is 3 mile and 3/4 & 50 rod and from the Line between Hampton & Kingston where said frame stands to the old meeting house att Hampton falls on a straight Line is five mile and 1/2 & 10: rod and near as the Road goes to the distance is six mile & 100 rod."

(sig) Samuel Palmer Junr

On March 7, 1732/33, Samuel Palmer was a member of a committee selected to reach a speedy settlement of the boundary lines between the neighboring province. On April 12, 1732, an inventory, for the purpose of the quantity of land, rated as planting and mowing land was conducted by Capt. Jabez Dow and Samuel Palmer, Jun. The report read as follows, viz:

"in 1732, the quantity of land in Hampton, rated as "planting and mowing land" was 2,378 acres; as "pasture land", 2,546 acres; the number of "Heads", 257; of houses, two stories high, 142; one story high, 29; oxen, 241; cows, 486; three year olds, 198; two year olds, 201; one year olds, 277; horses, 158; swine, 45. The assessment on Dr. Sargent's negro slave was 12 Pounds; on Jonathan Elkins' and Capt, Thomas', 20 Pounds each; on Dr. Toppan's Indian slave, 18 Pounds."

The invoice, from which the above is taken was made by Capt. Jabez Dow and Samuel Palmer, Jun., who were chosen by the town for that purpose. They certified the same, on April 12, 1732. Samuel Palmer was chosen on numerous occasions as moderator for the legal meetings of the freeholders and inhabitants of Hampton, the annual town meetings which were normally conducted in March of each year and other special meetings. His first position as moderator was recorded on September 26, 1733. He was also chosen as clerk at other types of meetings from time to time. Samuel Palmer was very active in numerous local civic matters as well as being active as a member of the House of Representatives in the Province of New Hampshire. He was often called upon to participate as a member of numerous committees, etc. On December 31, 1733, he was chosen as a representative for the town of Hampton to serve in the General Assembly until 1734. He was again chosen to serve on various occasions as a representative in the General Assembly until about 1745. On March 12, 1734, he was one of three men chosen as a committee to make a determination on a minister for Hampton. On May 9, 1734, at a church meeting, Samuel and his committee chose Mr. Ward Cotton as the new pastor for the parish due to the ill health of the current pastor, Rev. Nathaniel Gookin, who later died in his sleep on August 25, 1734.

On September 2, 1736, Samuel Palmer was one of four men on a committee to establish the town boundaries of Hampton Falls. In October 1739, Jabez Dow, Christopher Page, Sr. and Samuel Palmer, Jr. were appointed as a committee along with the pastor of the North Hill Parish to settle the dispute about the many members of the new parish requesting a dismission for the purpose of being organized into a church in connection with the new parish.

On June 13, 1744, Samuel Palmer signed a bill in behalf of the Selectmen of Hampton for the purchase of gun powder to be furnished a detachment of twenty five men. Each man was supplied with one half pound of gun powder. On June 21, 1745, Hon^{ble} Eben^{r} Stevens, Esq., Sam^{l} Palmer, Esq., and Thomas Wallingford, Esq. were voted by the House of Representatives as members of a committee viz:

> "to join with such as may be appointed by the Hon^{ble} Council to sign the six Thousand Pounds Voted to be impressed for further carrying on the Expedition against Louisburg & that s^{d} Com^{tee} or any three of them sign each Bill, & when they are sign'^{d} that they deliver them to the Treasurer of y^{e} Province for y^{e} time being, & that they be under oath to y^{e} faithful Discharge of the Trust reposed in them."

On June 24, 1745, at a legal meeting of the freeholders and inhabitants of Hampton, it was voted that, viz:

> "M^{r} Samuel Palmer, Esq^{r}: & M^{r} Gershom Griffith they or either of them shall be and hereby are constituted and appointed Agents or Agent for the said freeholders and inhabitants and in there name & behalf to prosecute & Defend any action or actions moved or to be moved for or against the said freeholders and inhabitants and pursue the same to final judgment & execution & to use all Legal Means in order there to with full powers of substitution."

On August 25, 1746, at a legal meeting of the freeholders and inhabitants of Hampton, it was voted that, viz:

> "M^{r} Samuel palmer Esq^{r}: & Cap^{t}: Ephraim Marston or either of them shall be and hereby are constituted and appointed agents or agent for the said freeholders & inhabitants and in there name and behalf to prosecute & defend any action or actions moved or to be moved for or against the said freeholders & inhabitants or where in the said freeholders & inhabitants are or May be any ways Interested or concerned and pursue the same to final judgment and execution & to use all Means in order there to with full power of substitution."

On May 29, 1747, at a meeting of the House of Representatives, Mr. Samuel Palmer, Mr. Zeb Giddings and Mr. James Clarkson, dissented on a vote to subject certain lands to be taxed. On May 1, 1748, at a legal meeting of the freeholders and inhabitants of Hampton, it was voted that, viz:

> "Sam^{ll}: Palmer Esq^{r}, Jabez Smith, Esq^{r}; and Capt: Epharium Marston be a committee to proportion the money and Let North Hampton parish have their proportion."

On December 31, 1748, the Masonian Proprietors granted to Samuel Palmer of Hampton and others, territory which was originally called Palmer's-town and afterwards called New Salem. It was eventually incorporated as Meridith on December 30, 1768. On July 13, 1749, a tract of land known as the "Plantation", was laid out by a committee consisting of Christopher Page, Sr., Deacon Josiah Moulton and Samuel Dow, with Samuel Palmer as the surveyor, and their return was accepted by the proprietors. Purpose of this land to be laid out was to build a fence from Deacon Tuck's mill to the mouth of the Little River, to protect the beach against cattle upon it.

In January 1753, a committee was chosen by the town of Hampton to consider what defense might be made in all cases of claims "against the inhabitants of that which was called Hampton at the time when such grants are said to have been made." Samuel Palmer, Esq. was part of that committee. On July 7, 1755, the town of Hampton allowed that there shall be a gate set up at the west end of the Cassey or at the most convenient place from the 20th of November to the 20th of October next ensuing. It was voted, to authorize Capt. Ephraim Marston, Samuel Palmer, Esq., Jerimiah Moulton, John Lamprey and Jonathan Marston, Jr. (chosen to have the care of the fence and gates to preserve the beach), to impound all cattle, horses and sheep found on the beach, between the river's mouth and North Hill line, from November 20th to October 20th following, and to collect a fine of thirty shillings for each offense, from any person, breaking any gate or throwing down any fence, erected to save the beach.

In the Spring of 1758 a few cases of small-pox occured in the town of Hampton. In order to prevent an epidemic, the Selectmen of Hampton agreed to provide a pest-house to control the spread of the disease and it was decided that the houses of Samuel Palmer, Esq. and Jerimiah Moulton be used for the next seven weeks. On March 26, 1759, Samuel Palmer and his wife Rebecca deeded land to his son Samuel, 3rd.

Rebecca Palmer died on April 30, 1759 in Hampton. At the annual town meeting in 1761, Samuel Palmer, Esq., was allowed 130 Pounds, old tenor, "for all his trouble in letting out the Town's money for ten or eleven years past." Samuel Palmer prepared his will on August 27, 1759 in Hampton which was probated on June 30, 1762 after his death on June 8, 1762. On November 24, 1762, an inventory of the estate of Samuel Palmer was attested and signed by John Weeks and John Lamprey. The amount of the estate was 5,317 Pounds.

Riding in Olden Times on a Pillion

In the earliest years of the New England colony, travel by land was on foot. The first settlements were along the water front, on the ocean, bays or rivers and the earliest means of conveyance was the boat, dugout or canoe. The water was as prepared for travel then as it is now, whereas in the surrounding forest, paths fit for horseback riding were not in existence, even though horses had been at hand. Horses were soon used, and bridle paths through the woods had to be prepared by the thinning out of trees and removal of rocks and underbrush along a selected course. Men rode astride, but women and children usually sat upon a pillion behind the men. Thus a family proceeded to church or market or went on a visit.

Stephen married on December 2, 1731 in Hampton, Sarah Cass. He was listed in a petition in 1739 with other inhabitants of New Hampshire asking to be annexed to Massachusetts. On July 29, 1748, Stephen Palmer, Christopher Palmer, Jonathan Palmer and William Palmer, all inhabitants of the Parish of Rye, New Hampshire, petitioned for grants of land. IV-23-2 William PALMER (Joseph,III-10-4 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born on May 1, 1700 in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts. William spent his childhood years in Newbury. The first record of William Palmer is his marriage on January 24, 1727/28 in Brookfield, Worcester County, Massachusetts, to Lydia Beman (also Beeman).

A few days after his marriage, William is listed in a deed dated January 28, 1728, of land in Newbury, being the rights of William Palmer, freeholder. William appears to be the only William Palmer who might have had land in Newbury at this time. The Beman family were also early settlers in Essex County and others from that section of Massachusetts settled in Brookfield at about this time. For this reason it is believed that William Palmer of Brookfield and of Newbury in 1728 is the same person.

On June 6, 1759, William Palmer of Brookfield, "husbandman," was deeded land in that town. On February 26, 1765, Samuel Palmer of Brookfield deeded land in that town in connection with the estate of his father William. The will of William Palmer of Brookfield, "husbandman," is dated May 26, 1761 and was probated on August 20, 1761, in which he mentioned his four sons David, Samuel, Eldad and Ebenezer. To the two sons David and Samuel, he gave all his lands in Brookfield and to the two sons Eldad and Ebenezer, legacies when they reached twenty one years of age. William's wife Lydia was not mentioned in his will and it is presumed she predeceased him before 1761. David was appointed executor of his fathers will. It can also be presumed that his eldest son Joseph probably died in infancy or in early life unmarried.

Born on May 19, 1741 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. Andrew went to Buxton, York County, Maine probably with his brothers James, Stephen and Richard in 1764 and located near Union Falls in Buxton. He later crossed the river and settled in the town of Hollis.

Andrew is believed to have married about 1766 probably in Buxton. He does not appear in the 1790 or 1800 Federal Census of Maine, New Hampshire or Massachusetts, although his brothers Richard and Stephen are listed in Buxton in the 1790 Census. His brother James may be the one listed in the 1790 Census of Londonderry, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. It is uncertain when Andrew and his wife may have died.

George Alvin Palmer, a great-grandson of Andrew Palmer, stated in 1923 that Andrew Palmer had nine children, 6 boys and 3 girls. The only children that can be found at this time are the following.

She married on November 8, 1784 in Campton, Edward Taylor, born in East Haddam, CT. A second date of marriage is recorded in the Campton Vital Records as October 25, 1784. This date is probably the marriage intention date.

He married on May 12, 1802 in Pelham, Mary B. Fletcher, born on September 20, 1780 in Pelham, daughter of Elijah Fletcher and Mary or Mercy Butterfield who were married in Dunstable, Middlesex County, Massachusetts.

About 1812, Asa Palmer removed to Lyndeborough, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire where he settled on Farm Number 1 in North Lyndeborough and continued to reside there the rest of his life as a farmer. The History of Lyndeborough, New Hampshire refers to Asa Palmer as "Captain".

Asa Palmer is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Pelham, Rockingham County, New Hampshire, living with his wife, four males under 10, one male, age 10-16 and one female over 45. The female over 45 is believed to be Asa Palmer's step-mother, Mrs. Thankful Williams Palmer or the mother of his wife, Mary B. Fletcher. The male, age 10-16 is unknown at this time. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Lyndeborough, Hillsboro County, living with his wife, three males under 10, three males, ages 10-16 and one female under 10. Asa is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Lyndeborough, as a farmer, living with his wife and one female, age 20-30, who is believed to be his daughter, Mary E. Palmer. He is also listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Lyndeborough, as a farmer, living with his wife "Polly" and grandson, Ebenezer Palmer, age 9 years.

Asa died on August 24, 1851 in Lyndeborough and his wife Mary died on July 25, 1857 also in Lyndeborough.

V-1-5 Asa PALMER (Samuel,[IV-19-2] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1759 in Methuen, Essex County, Massachusetts. Asa resided his entire life in Methuen as a farmer. During the American Revolutionary War, he was a private in Capt. David Whittier's Company under the command of Major Benjamin Gage's Regiment. On October 2, 1777, they marched to join the Northern Army and served for 40 days. On August 24, 1781, he enlisted as a private in Capt. James Mallon's Company under the command of Col. Putnam's Regiment. The Regiment was raised in Essex and Plymouth Counties to reinforce the Continental Army for 3 months. Asa served for 3 months, 22 days including 12 days travel home time. (240 miles)

He was discharged on December 4, 1781.

He married first on April 4, 1787 in Methuen, Priscilla Parker. He married second, about 1806, Lucy Bools, born about 1780 in Massachusetts. Their marriage intentions were listed on June 25, 1806. On November 20, 1787, Samuel Palmer of Methuen, (probably Asa's father) deeded land in Methuen to Asa Palmer.

Asa is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Methuen living with two females. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Methuen, living with his wife, age 26-45 and two females over 45, who are unidentified. He is also listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Methuen, living with his wife, age over 45, two males under 10, one female, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26. (The wifes age of over 45 is an error. It should read 26-45) Considering that no children were listed in the 1800 Census, it is believed that the one female, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26, are children of Asa's second wife, Lucy.

Letters of administration on the estate of Asa Palmer of Methuen were issued on October 17, 1815. (Essex County Probate Court Record # 20423) He died sometime before October 1815. Lucy Palmer is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Methuen, as a widow, age 26-45, living with two males under 10 and one female under 10.

On April 15, 1823, Letters of Guardianship were issued for the five minor children of Asa Palmer. (Essex County Probate Court Record # 20439) On January 25, 1825, Mrs. Lucy Palmer of Methuen, married second, John Wyman II, born about 1761-1770 probably in Pelham, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. John Wyman is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Pelham, living with his wife, age 50-60 and one female, age 10-15. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Hudson, Hillsboro County, living with his wife, age 60-70. John is believed to have died before 1850, probably in Hudson. His widow, Lucy, age 70, is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Hudson, living in the household of John B. Robinson.

V-2-1 Benjamin PALMER (Jonathan,[IV-10-2] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Baptized in July 1746 in Hampton Falls, Province of New Hampshire. Benjamin is believed to have married about 1771, Elizabeth "Betsey" Tilton, born 1748, daughter of Samuel Tilton and Abigail Batchelder of Hampton.

Benjamin and Elizabeth probably went to Weare, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire soon after their marriage. He appears in the 1790 Federal Census of that town with two males under 16 and two females. He was listed as a taxpayer in Weare from 1788 to 1793 and is probably the same Benjamin who was later a taxpayer in the town of Pembroke, Merrimack County, New Hampshire in 1805.

Benjamin probably went to Loudon, Merrimack County, New Hampshire where his brother Trueworthy was residing. On September 20, 1824, Benjamin Palmer of Loudon, yeoman, deeded land in that town. On October 19, 1824, a son Benjamin of Loudon, husbandman, and wife Polly deeded land in that town and Betsey Palmer, his mother, was a witness. It would seem probable that Benjamin Palmer, Sr. may have been deceased at this time. There is no will or administration of Benjamin or of his wife and any additional information about them is unavailable at this time.

Children born probably in Weare:

V-4-2 David PALMER (William,IV-23-2 Joseph,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born about 1735 in Brookfield, Worcester County, Massachusetts. David served during the French and Indian War in his early twenties on August 9, 1757 under the command of Captain Jacob Abbott. He also served in 1758.

On January 21, 1762, David Palmer of Brookfield, "husbandman," deeded land in Brookfield to Katherine Upham of Brookfield, "gentlewoman." David had other land transactions in Brookfield, both as grantor and grantee, in 1765.

David married on January 17, 1766 in Springfield, Hampden County, Massachusetts, Eunice Carew, born on August 3, 1740 in Springfield.

A deed dated March 3, 1777 to Sarah Palmer, the widow of Samuel Palmer, indicates that David Palmer was of Belchertown, Hampshire County, Massachusetts. On October 17, 1780, David Palmer of Belchertown, "yeoman," deeded land in Brookfield to Benjamin Bachellor of Brookfield. Both of these deeds clearly indicates that David removed to Belchertown. No further record of David is available and it is not known if he continued to reside in Belchertown the rest of his life or moved elsewhere. It is presumed that he may have moved to some part of New York State. He does not appear in the 1790 Federal Census in Massachusetts.

V-4-4 Dudley PALMER (Joseph,[IV-10-5] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on March 5, 1752 in Rowley, Essex County, Massachusetts. Dudley spent his childhood years in Rowley and as a young man enlisted during the American Revolutionary War as a private in Captain Eliphalet Spafford's Company in Colonel Samuel Gerrish's Regiment. Dudley was in a detachment which marched on the alarm of April 19, 1775, from the West Parish in Rowley to Cambridge and returning home on April 23rd after serving 6 days. He also served under the command of Lieut. Moses Bradstreet's detachment in defense of Gloucester Harbor for 14 days during the Lexington Alarm. He enlisted for the 14 days and was rendered for wages and billeting, dated in Rowley on November 15, 1775 and sworn to in Ipswich.

Dudley did not follow his father and brother directly to Campton, Province of New Hampshire in 1769, but first went to Salisbury, New Hampshire and was a taxpayer in that town from 1775 to 1780. He settled on the east side of Searles Hill as a farmer.

Dudley married on March 27, 1777 in Rowley, Rebecca Pingree, born on September 25, 1755 in Rowley, daughter of Ensign John Pingree and Elizabeth Jewett of Rowley. Dudley is mentioned in the Gazetteer of Grafton County as being a settler in Campton in 1777. Although he was granted lot #67 in Salisbury on July 22, 1784, it would appear that he did not move to Campton until about 1788.

On March 17, 1789, at the annual town meeting of Campton, Dudley Palmer was chosen by the voters as a tythingman for the ensuing year. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Campton with two males under 16 and four females. On March 17, 1795, he was again chosen as a tythingman for the ensuing year. On March 19, 1793, at the annual town meeting, he was chosen by the voters to be a surveyor of highways along with others for the ensuing year. In 1793 he was assessed 10 Pounds, 19 Shillings, 8 Pence for the Highway Tax. On March 18, 1794 at the annual town meeting, he was chosen by the voters to be a hog reeve for the ensuing year, and again was chosen for the same position on March 18, 1800. Dudley is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Campton, living with his wife, one male under 10, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26, two females under 10, two females, ages 10-16 and one female, age 16-26. Also listed is one male over 45 who is believed to be Joseph Palmer, the father of Dudley. Joseph was an 81 year old widower living in 1800. On March 17, 1801 at the annual town meeting, he was chosen by the voters to be a fence viewer for the ensuing year, and again was chosen for the same position on March 10, 1812. On March 12, 1805, Dudley was again chosen by the voters to be a surveyor of highways for the ensuing year. He is also listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Campton, living with his wife, one male, age 10-16 and two females, ages 16-26. The three children are believed to be Alphia, Hepzibah and Theodore. On March 12, 1816 at the annual town meeting, he was chosen by the voters as the pound keeper for the ensuing year. He was again chosen for the same position on March 11, 1817, March 10, 1818 and March 9, 1819.

Shortly before March 13, 1821, a legal notice was posted to the legal voters of Campton. The 10th article of the notice stated, "To see if the town will disannex Messrs. Dudley Palmer & Theodore Palmer from school District No. 4 and annex them to District No. 9." On March 13, 1821 at the annual town meeting it was voted to dismiss the 10th article. Dudley Palmer appeared on the Campton assessment invoice and tax lists from 1793 to 1823. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Campton, living with one female, age 70-80 who is believed to be his wife, Rebecca, and one female, age 30-40 who is believed to be his daughter, Alphia.

Rebecca died on December 24, 1834 in Campton and it would appear that Dudley died in Campton after 1830.

Born on April 14, 1762 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. Ebenezer went with his parents to Pelham, Province of New Hampshire about 1767.

As a young man of only 15 years of age, Ebenezer enlisted during the American Revolutionary War on April 15, 1777 as a private in Captain Frederick M. Bell's Company, Colonel Adam's Regiment, General Poor's Brigade for three years. He was later under the command of Captain Frederick M. Bell's Company, Colonel Nathan Hale's Regiment on May 7, 1777.

Ebenezer married on September 8, 1786 in Pelham, Dorothy "Dolly" Williams, born 1764, baptized on May 12, 1765 in Dracut, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Simeon Williams and Lucy Colburn of Dracut. Marriage intentions were recorded on July 7, 1786 in Dracut.

Ebenezer is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Pelham with two males under 16 and one female. Soon thereafter, he removed to Alstead, Cheshire County, New Hampshire where he appeared on May 31, 1793 as one of the inhabitants signing a petition remonstrating against setting off a parish in the eastern part of the town. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Alstead living with his wife, three males under 10, one male, age 10-16 and one female under 10. He was later living in Lincoln, Addison County, Vermont before 1810 where he resided the rest of his life as a farmer. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Lincoln living with his wife, one male under 10, two males, ages 10-16, two males, age 16-26, three females under 10 and one female, age 16-26. Ebenezer is not listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Lincoln, as head of household, but is believed to be listed in the household of his son, Simeon.

On April 2, 1818, Ebenezer Palmer submitted an application for a pension due to his service in the Revolutionary War. On July 6, 1820, he submitted a statement giving his age as 59 years, residing in Lincoln, Vermont as a farmer. He stated that for the past eight years at home he had large sores on his legs which for two years rendered him wholly incapable of labor and still disables him that it is with great difficulty he can labor, and has besides for ten years been afflicted with rheumatism. He also stated that he has a wife, aged 56 years and three children living with him in his family; viz: Simeon, age 18 years, Lucinda, age 12 years, Polly, age 10 years.

Ebenezer died on April 8, 1832 in Lincoln, age 70 years, and is buried in the orchard on his farm. After Ebenezer's death, his widow Dorothy resided with her son Simeon and is listed in the 1840 Federal Census, age 76 years and also was receiving a pension. Dorothy Palmer is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Lincoln living with her grandson Francis B. Palmer and his family. She was 85 years of age.

On January 24, 1851, Dorothy Palmer submitted a request to obtain full benefits of a pension she was entitled to receive that her husband had been previously receiving. Dorothy died on September 3, 1851 in Lincoln, age 87 years, and is buried with her husband in the orchard on their farm. There is no will or administration for either Ebenezer or his wife.

V-5-2 Ebenezer PALMER (William,[IV-23-2] Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1745 in Brookfield, Worcester County, Massachusetts. Ebenezer married on November 30, 1775 in Brookfield, Eleanor Rutherford of Ware, Hampshire County, Massachusetts.

On March 3, 1777, Ebenezer is mentioned in a deed to Sarah Palmer, widow of Samuel, as a resident of Ware. It was stated that about 1778, Ebenezer Palmer, together with John Eldredge, Lazarus Barrus and Stephen Warren settled near the Goshen line in Ashfield, Franklin County, Massachusetts.

On May 6, 1778, Ebenezer Palmer of Brookfield was deeded land by Josiah Beeman of Brookfield. On May 16, 1780, Ebenezer of Brookfield and wife Eleanor deeded land to John Shaw. On November 21, 1781, Ebenezer Palmer of Montague, Franklin County, Massachusetts was deeded land in that town. On November 22, 1781, Ebenezer Palmer of Montague, yeoman, was deeded 63 acres of land in that town. On June 1, 1784, Ebenezer Palmer of Southwick, deeded land in Montague. From the above deeds, it is evident that Ebenezer Palmer resided in Brookfield and Ware until about 1780, then removed to Montague in 1781 and by 1784 was residing in Southwick. His brother David had left Brookfield by 1777 and had gone to Belchertown; his brother Eldad had also left Brookfield by 1777 and had gone to Westfield and later to Southwick. It would appear that the three brothers, Ebenezer, David and Eldad, deeded their father's property to Sarah, the widow of their brother Samuel, and then all three left Brookfield at about the same time.

Ebenezer does not appear in the 1790 Federal Census in Massachusetts and may have left the area sometime between 1784 and 1790. An Ebenezer Palmer is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in the town of Cambridge, Albany County, New York with one male over 16, being himself, two males under 16 and five females. There is a possibility that this is our Ebenezer.

An Ebenezer J. Palmer, age 68, born in Massachusetts, is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Ashfield, Franklin County, Massachusetts, living with the John Barber family. There is a possibility that this Ebenezer may be the son of our Ebenezer.

Other than the Ebenezer Palmer living in New York in 1790, there is no further record of him and his family.

V-5-3 Eldad PALMER (William,[IV-23-2] Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1733 in Brookfield, Worcester County, Massachusetts. A Private Eldad Palmer of Massachusetts served during the French and Indian War under the command of Benjamin Day's Company, Timothy Ruggles Regiment during the Crown Point Campaign from September 15 to December 9, 1755.

Eldad married on September 1, 1756 in Westfield, Hampshire County, Massachusetts, Experience Stiles, born on March 26, 1730 in Westfield, daughter of Ephraim Stiles and Mercy Fowler of Westfield. They were married by Rev. Mr. John Ballantine.

An entry in the town records of Westfield states that Eldad Palmer took up "a stray pale red heffer three years old coming mark with a slit in y^{e} top of each ear & a slit under each ear." On July 27, 1773, he was deeded land in Westfield. On March 3, 1777, Eldad and his brothers Ebenezer and David, deeded land to Sarah Palmer, widow of their brother Samuel. Eldad was listed as residing in Westfield. On April 12, 1780, Eldad of Westfield, yeoman, and his wife Experience sold land in that town. On April 14, 1780, Eldad of Westfield deeded land in Hampton Plains, Hampshire County, Massachusetts. On January 19, 1782, Eldad and Experience Palmer of Southwick, Hampshire County, deeded land. It was about 1782 when Eldad moved from Westfield to Southwick and continued to reside there the rest of his life. On April 12, 1786, Eldad of Southwick, deeded 18 acres in Southwick to William Palmer of Southwick and also 65 acres to Levi Palmer of Southwick. On April 24, 1786, another deed on record indicated that Eldad of Southwick deeded 21 acres.

It has been said that Eldad had a large family. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census at Southwick with one male over 16, being himself and two females. There is no will or administration of Eldad or of his wife.

Death dates of Eldad and his wife Experience are not available at this time. It is probable that Eldad died before 1800.

He served in Captain Savory's detachment in the 2nd Foot Company of Bradford, which marched November 30, 1775 for the defense of Cape Ann. He served for five days. Esther and Henry resided in Kensington, New Hampshire. Henry died on September 10, 1772, probably in Kensington and it is presumed that Esther also died in Kensington. There is reason to believe that there are more children than listed below but the names are not available at this time.

V-7-1 Growth PALMER (John,[IV-10-1] James,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1725 in Exeter, Province of New Hampshire. There is a record of a Growth Palmer who was a private soldier in Captain Joseph Sherburn's Company, Colonel Samuel Moore's Regiment during the expedition to Louisbourg, Cape Breton, Canada on November 20, 1745. This Growth Palmer could possibly be the son of John. The first record of our Growth is in a deed dated January 31, 1748/49 when he received land in Bow, New Hampshire from his father John. It is believed he married probably sometime before 1755. No record of his wife is available at this time.

On February 14, 1757, Growth Palmer of New Market, New Hampshire deeded land in Bow to Walter Bryant. There is no will or administration of Growth Palmer nor any further record available, but it is believed that he had several children, three of whom are recorded below.

Children:

V-10-1 Jacob PALMER (Christopher,[IV-3-1] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on November 15, 1745 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. He married about 1767 in Hampton Falls, Apphia "Effa" Sanborn, born on November 16, 1749 in Hampton, daughter of Enoch Sanborn and Mary Morrill of Hampton Falls.

Jacob was among a group of soldiers from Hampton who went to Portsmouth in October 1775 for five days. On June 4, 1776, during the American Revolutionary War, he took the oath of allegiance and signed the declaration to oppose the Hostile Proceedings of the British Fleets and Armies, against the United American Colonies. Jacob was listed on the pay roll of Colonel Jonathan Moulton's Regiment of Militia in October 1777. He enlisted as a private soldier on September 30th and was discharged October 30th after serving one month. He marched with the militia in October 1777 from Hampton to join the Army under General Gates near Saratoga, New York.

In 1784 shortly after the Revolutionary War, Jacob and his family removed to Machias, Washington County, Maine and settled on the Dublin side of the Machias River in that section known as Machiasport. Records at the Machiasport Congregational Church indicates that Jacob was a proprietor of the East Meeting House where he held pew #27. Jacob's mark for creatures was "smooth prop off right end and half penny on upper side, and a slit in left ear".

In 1790, Jacob was listed as paying the poll tax of 1 Pound, 4 Pence. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Machias Town with three males over 16 including himself, two males under 16 and three females. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Machias, living with his wife, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26 and one female, age 10-16.

Jacob died on September 9, 1814 in Machiasport. His widow Apphia is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Machias living alone. She is believed to have been living in the household of her grandson, William A. Palmer, in Machiasport in 1820. She died on November 27, 1832 in Machiasport.

V-10-2 James PALMER (Andrew,[IV-1-2] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on September 21, 1735 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. James married on March 17, 1764 in Bradford, Mary Hopkinson, born on July 27, 1735 in Bradford, daughter of probably John Hopkinson and Sarah Carlton who were married in 1728 in Bradford and later resided in Buxton, York County, Maine.

James went to Buxton in 1764 with his brothers Stephen, Andrew and Richard. He was deeded land by John Donnell on Lot #2, Range M, in Buxton on September 20, 1764. The church in Buxton was organized on March 16, 1763, but James and his wife were not admitted until June 1, 1766.

It is believed that James returned to Bradford sometime after 1767 with his wife and two children, James and Benjamin. James does not appear in the 1790 Federal Census in Buxton or Bradford and it would appear that he may be the James, age over 45, listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Londonderry, New Hampshire, living with two males over 16, beside himself, two males under 16 and two females. James is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Londonderry, age over 45, living with his wife only, age over 45. James is believed to have died before 1820.

V-10-3 James PALMER (John,[IV-10-1] James,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1720 in Exeter, Province of New Hampshire. He married about 1743, Susannah Goodwin, daughter of James and Susannah Goodwin of New Market.

On April 23, 1744, James received land in New Market from his father John. On June 18, 1756, James of New Market and wife Susannah and Rachel, his mother, deeded land in New Market to Charles Rundlet. The will of James Goodwin of New Market, dated March 23, 1757 and probated May 25, 1757, mentions his wife Susannah, son James and daughter Susannah Palmer. Susannah was to be given 10 Shillings.

On August 2, 1758, James and wife Susannah deeded land in New Market. This deed was the last on record in New Market. Considering that no further record of James Palmer can be found after the last deed in New Market on August 2, 1758, it is believed that he moved to Stratham, New Hampshire about 1759 where his son James was born and also he may have removed to Carroll County, New Hampshire in later years. He may also have died before the 1790 Census.

Only two children are recorded but it is believed there were more children of which no record can be found. One son was James who applied for a Revolutionary War Pension in 1832. Another son could be Growth, who was living in Eaton, Carroll County, New Hampshire as late as 1840. Descendants of Growth Palmer have clearly stated that he came from New Market and was a son of James of that place.

Children:

VI-10-6 i James, b. ca. 1759, d. 20 Sep 1843.
VI-7-2 ii Growth, b. ca. 1767, d. aft. 1840.

V-10-4 James PALMER (Samuel,[IV-19-2] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born in 1749 in Methuen, Essex County, Massachusetts. He was baptized on May 21, 1749 in Methuen. James married on October 6, 1772 in Methuen, Elizabeth Barker.

James resided in Bradford, Essex County immediately after marriage and is believed to be the corporal and later Sergeant James Palmer of Captain John Savory's Company (2nd Foot Company), Colonel Samuel Johnson's Regiment, which marched to Cambridge in response to the alarm of April 19, 1775. He marched on April 19th, and left the place of rendezvous on April 20th, 1775. He served 2 1/4 days.

It is uncertain if James remained in Bradford or removed elsewhere after 1775. A James Palmer is listed in the 1790 Federal Census living in Methuen with one male under 16 and six females. The Methuen vital records do not disclose any children being born to James and Elizabeth nor in Bradford. A son James is believed to have been born about 1774/75 in Bradford and was residing in Methuen at the time of his marriage in 1796. A daughter Abigail is believed to have been born about 1776/77 and married Ebenezer Ballard of Haverhill, Massachusetts in 1796.

No record of other children can be found at this time nor a record of the death of James and his wife Elizabeth.

He is not listed in the 1800 and 1810 Federal Census in Methuen.

Jeremiah married on April 20, 1758 in Kensington, Hannah Lowell of Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts.

Jeremiah is believed to be the Jeremiah who served as a private in the Revolutionary War in Captain William Prescott's Company, Colonel Jonathan Moulton's Regiment on December 14, 1776. He was in the group that joined the army in New York in Colonel Tash's Regiment. On March 4, 1831, he received a pension while residing in Derry.

V-10-9 John PALMER (Joseph,[IV-10-3] James,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on May 6, 1743 in Stratham, Province of New Hampshire. In his father's will of 1759, while John was only 16 years old, he was bequeathed sixty acres of land situated in the town of Bow, Province of New Hampshire. John Palmer and his brother Daniel signed a petition on January 30, 1760 as residents of New Market, Province of New Hampshire. The petition was relative to the construction of a new bridge over the Exeter River from New Market to Stratham at a place called New Fields. On November 25, 1755, John's father Joseph was one of the original petitioners for the construction of the new bridge, but the bridge was never built.

It is not known at this time when and who John Palmer married, but it is believed he married about 1764 probably in New Market. It has been established that John was residing in Middleton, Strafford County, New Hampshire in 1784. On January 19, 1784, John Palmer of Middleton deeded land in that town. In 1785, John Palmer was among a group of petitioners of Middleton and Wolfeborough, being the second division of Middleton, asking to be joined to a new town to be annexed to Wolfeborough. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census residing in Middleton with one male over 16 beside himself and two females, presumably his wife and daughter.

No other records of John Palmer are available at this time.

V-10-10 John PALMER (Joseph,[IV-10-5] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on February 9, 1749/50 in Rowley, Essex County, Massachusetts. John did not go to Campton, Grafton County, New Hampshire with his parents in 1779 but continued to remain at Rowley. He married on September 28, 1775 in Wenham, Essex County, Massachusetts, Martha Friend, born on April 4, 1749 in Wenham, daughter of John and Martha Friend of Wenham.

John is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Rowley, living with his wife, one male under 16 and four females. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Rowley, living with his wife, one male under 10, one male, age 16-26, one female, age 10-16 and two females, ages 16-26. The age group for John and his wife states 26-45, but it is evidently an error and should read over 45. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Rowley, living with his wife, one male, age 16-26, who is believed to be Daniel and one female, age 16-26, who is believed to be Hannah. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Rowley, living with his wife only. He is also listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Rowley, living with his wife, one male under 5, one male, age 5-10, two males, ages 10-15, one male, age 20-30, one male, age 30-40, one female, age 15-20, one female, age 20-30, one female, age 30-40 and one female, age 40-50. The one male and one female, ages 30-40 are believed to be son Daniel and his wife Deborah.

The two males, ages 10-15 and one male under 5 are believed to be the children of Daniel. Daniel is not listed in the 1830 Census in Rowley as head of household, and therefore it is presumed that he was living in the household of his parents. The female, age 40-50 is believed to be daughter Martha and the remaining children could possibly be her children.

John died on May 18, 1833 in Rowley, age 83 years and is buried in the Union Cemetery, Georgetown, Essex County, Massachusetts. His wife Martha died on August 15, 1830 in Rowley, age 82 years. There is no will or administration of the estate on record for John or his wife.

John is believed to be listed with his wife in the 1830 Federal Census in Methuen in the household of his son Asa Palmer.

John died on December 30, 1835 in Methuen, age 89 years. His widow Esther died on December 8, 1849 also in Methuen, age about 94 years.

V-10-12 Jonathan PALMER (Christopher,[IV-3-2] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on April 28, 1710 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. Jonathan spent his childhood years in Hampton and later in Rye, New Hampshire by 1721. He was residing in Rye when he married first on October 9, 1735 in Greenland, New Hampshire, Clara Ann Meloon of Greenland. They were married by Rev. William Allen of Greenland.

Jonathan removed to North Hampton about 1742. On May 20, 1746, Jonathan married second, in Rye, Abigail Rowe, born on January 31, 1722 in Hampton, daughter of Robert Rowe and Mehetabel Swaine of Hampton. About 1763, Jonathan and his family removed to Chester, New Hampshire in that section which later became the town of Raymond. On March 24, 1763, Jonathan was deeded land in Chester by Jethro Batchelder of Chester. On March 8, 1764, Jonathan of Chester deeded land in Chester to his son-in-law James Rowe of North Hampton. On June 3, 1765, Jonathan of Raymond, deeded land in the parish of Raymond, town of Chester, to John Paine of Chester. On March 8, 1770, Jonathan of Raymond deeded land in Raymond to James Rowe of Raymond. On April 2, 1770, Jonathan was deeded land, house and buildings in New Amesbury, or Warner, New Hampshire by Joseph Palmer of Levittstown, New Hampshire.

Chester, New Hampshire was the original town, Candia being taken from Chester in 1763 and Raymond from Candia in 1764. In October 1766, Jonathan and Jonathan, Jr., both of Raymond, petitioned for a meeting house to be located in the upper parish. Various deeds of land by Jonathan of Raymond in that town are dated May 21, 1770, June 28, 1770, July 18, 1770 and August 30, 1770. On March 16, 1771, Jonathan of Raymond deeded to Robert Wilson of Chester, land in a tract heretofore granted to Richard Jenness, et al. On September 19, 1771, Jonathan was deeded land and buildings in Raymond by Thomas Parsons and Enoch Poor of Exeter, being the same land that Jonathan deeded to them on May 21, 1770.

According to the history of Sutton, New Hampshire, 1890, p. 849, by Augusta H. Worthen, Jonathan Palmer was of Warner, New Hampshire who came from Rye and Chester. There is some speculation as to whether Jonathan actually removed to Warner or remained in Raymond and was probably still living with his son Jonathan in the 1790 Federal Census. It is a matter of record that three of Jonathan's sons, John, James and Jeremiah, settled on a Lord Proprietor's lot, No. 8, drawn to the original right of John Moffat, one of the Masonian proprietors. This locality has been known as Palmerstown, or Palmer Gore, and adjoins Warner Gore.

It is unknown at this time as to the exact date and location of death for Jonathan Palmer and both his wives, Clara Ann and Abigail.

Baptized in March 1741 in Kensington, Province of New Hampshire. He married on September 16, 1764 in Kensington, Mary Morrill, b. about December 1740.

Jonathan was residing in Salisbury, Essex County, Massachusetts in 1765, when he purchased the estate of his older brother Stephen, who moved to Dunbarton, New Hampshire after the deaths of his four young children in the Spring of 1764. A deed dated April 1, 1765 verifies this transaction. Jonathan resided in Kensington after 1765 and is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Kensington with two males under 16 and six females. Jonathan is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Kensington, living with his wife and probably two daughters Mary and Anna. Also listed beside his wife, is one female, age over 45 years. She is unidentified at this time.

Jonathan prepared his will on November 13, 1811 which was probated on June 19, 1815 (Rockingham County Probate Court Record # 9099).

Jonathan died on May 29, 1815 in Kensington. His widow Mary died on September 11, 1833 also in Kensington, age 92 years, 9 months. She is buried in the New Cemetery in Kensington.

V-10-14 Jonathan PALMER (Joseph,[IV-10-4] Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on May 27, 1754 in Plaistow, Province of New Hampshire. About 1775, Jonathan removed to Litchfield, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire, where he married first, on May 10, 1776, Phebe Richardson of Litchfield. It is recorded that Jonathan took the oath of allegiance on September 26, 1776 in Atkinson, New Hampshire, which adjoins Plaistow on the west. He appeared on the tax lists in Litchfield until at least 1786. He was later found in the town of Londonderry in 1792 to 1794 or possibly later. Londonderry was commonly called Derryfield at that time. He was also located in Goffstown, where his older brother William had previously resided, and continued to live in that town and the adjoining towns of Bedford and Manchester for the remainder of his life. It is believed that Jonathan married second, a Mrs. Ward.

Although Jonathan signed the Association Test in 1776, there seems to be no Revolutionary War record of him. Jonathan is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Londonderry with two males under 16 and four females. He evidently had at least three daughters but only one is recorded below. He may have also had more than two sons, but only two are recorded below.

Jonathan died on in July 1825 in Bedford, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. There is no will or administration of his estate to be found for Jonathan or his wives.

V-10-15 Joseph PALMER (Christopher,[IV-3-1] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on April 10, 1730 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. Joseph lived his entire life on the homestead in Hampton as a farmer. He married on August 4, 1757 in Hampton, Mary Moulton, born on November 24, 1734 in Hampton, daughter of John Moulton and Hannah Lamprey of Hampton.

On February 13, 1768, Joseph Palmer of Hampton petitioned for a separate parish in that town. He is probably the Joseph who took the oath of allegiance in 1776 together with his son Benjamin from North Hampton. In December 1783, a petition was submitted by the inhabitants of North Hampton which included Joseph Palmer. Joseph's wife Mary, died on December 25, 1784 in Hampton. Joseph is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Hampton, with two males over 16 beside himself and one female. In 1796, a petition for a Congregational parish in Hampton included signers Joseph, Joseph, Jr., and Samuel Palmer.

The will of Joseph Palmer of Hampton is dated March 31, 1810 in which he mentioned his children Joseph, Samuel, Mary, wife of Moses Perkins and Hannah, wife of John Blake. (Rockingham County Probate Court Record # 8324) Joseph Palmer died on November 18, 1810 in Hampton.

V-10-16 Joseph PALMER (Joseph,[IV-10-4] Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on January 13, 1747/48 in Plaistow, Province of New Hampshire. The first record of Joseph Palmer appears on a petition dated February 13, 1767 in Plaistow. He was one of the signers requesting that a portion of the town of Plaistow not be set off from the main town. He was also a signer of a petition dated December 3, 1767 in Plaistow relative to the annexation of a separate parish from Plaistow.

Joseph married on November 7, 1771 in Hampstead, Rockingham County, New Hampshire, Susannah Beel Gile, born about 1750. It appears that he resided in the town of Atkinson, Rockingham County after marriage. He took the oath of allegiance on September 26, 1776 in Atkinson, but no record of him actually serving during the Revolutionary War can be found.

He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Atkinson with one male over 16 beside himself, one male under 16 and seven females. The records seem to indicate that Joseph and his wife removed to Vermont after 1790 to live with or near his older children. He is believed to have first settled in West Fairlee, Orange County, Vermont and later in Thetford and Vershire, Orange County. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in West Fairlee, living with his wife, one male, age 16-26, one female, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Thetford, living with his wife, one male, age 26-45 and two females, ages 16-26. He is also listed in the 1820 Federal Census in West Fairlee, as a farmer, living with his wife, one male, age 26-45 and two females, ages 26-45.

Joseph died on July 6, 1821 in Thetford, which is an adjoining town to Vershire. His widow Susannah died on August 23, 1829 also in Thetford. There is no will or administration of either Joseph or his wife.

Joseph married on December 25, 1776 in Campton, Grafton County, New Hampshire, Martha Taylor, born on April 14, 1763, daughter of Ebenezer Taylor of Campton. On March 20, 1787 at the annual town meeting of Campton, Joseph, Jr. was chosen by the voters to be one of four of the surveyors of highways for the ensuing year. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Campton living with four females. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Campton, living with his wife, one male under 10, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26 and three females, ages 16-26. The male, age 16-26 is unidentified at this time. He appeared on the Campton assessment invoice and tax lists from 1793 to 1832. Joseph is also listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Campton, living with his wife Martha.

Joseph died on July 26, 1838 in Campton. His widow, Martha, died on July 6, 1855 probably in Campton. Both are buried in the Old Meeting House Cemetery in Campton. There is no record of any will or administration of Joseph or his wife.

V-10-18 Joseph PALMER (William,[IV-23-1] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Baptized on May 8, 1737 in Hampton or North Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. Joseph married on December 15, 1757 probably in Durham, Province of New Hampshire, Lydia Glidden, born about 1737/38 in Durham, daughter of Joseph Glidden and Mary Smart of Durham. Joseph and Lydia were married by the Rev. John Adams.

Joseph served during the Revolutionary War in 1777, as a private, in Captain Joseph Parson's Company, Lt. Colonel Joseph Senter's Regiment. He enlisted on July 1, 1777 and was discharged on January 5, 1778 after serving six months, five days. Captain Parson's Company marched from Exeter, New Hampshire to Providence, Rhode Island in 1777 for a distance of 100 miles and returned home on a march from Warwick, Rhode Island for a distance of 117 miles.

Joseph and his family lived on the homestead in North Hampton after marriage until shortly after the War when he removed to Deerfield, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census at Deerfield with two males over 16 beside himself and three females.

Joseph prepared his will before 1820 which was probated in 1822. He called himself "husbandman" and mentioned his wife Lydia and children as follows: William, Jeremiah, Molly, wife of Michael Dalton, Hannah, wife of David Sawyer, Joseph, Simon, Comfort, wife of Nathaniel Dearborn, and Jonathan. Simon was appointed as the executor. (Rockingham County Probate Court Record # 10517)

It would appear that Joseph died probably in 1822 in Deerfield. No record of the death of his wife can be found at this time.

V-10-19 Joshua PALMER (Samuel,[IV-19-2] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on November 6, 1761 in Methuen, Essex County, Massachusetts. Joshua served as a soldier during the Revolutionary War .

He married first about 1787 to Rhoda ( ). He married second on May 23, 1791, Mariah Cooper. He married third about 1796, Sarah Sweet, born on June 3, 1772 in Raymond, Rockingham County, New Hampshire, daughter of John Sweet and Lydia Leavitt who were from Newbury, Massachusetts and later of Raymond. He married fourth after 1830, Jane ( ), born in 1772. Very little information is available about his wives.

Joshua is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Sandown, Rockingham County, New Hampshire with himself and two females. Later he removed to Raymond after his third marriage where the rest of his children were born. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Raymond, living with his wife, age 16-26, one male under 10 and one male, age 10-16. The male, age 10-16 is probably an error and should read one female, age 10-16 who is believed to be a daughter Mary, born in 1788. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Raymond, living with his wife, age 26-45, two males under 10, one male, age 10-16 and two females under 10. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Raymond, living with his wife, age over 45, two males under 10, one female under 10, one female, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26. His third wife Sarah, died on October 25, 1828, probably in Raymond. Joshua is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Kingston, Rockingham County, age 60-70, as a widower, living with his son Samuel, age 20-30 and his family.

The History of Nashua (formerly known as Nashville), New Hampshire, 1897, p. 582, states that Joshua was present at the Nashua Celebration in 1833, age 73 years and was of Dunstable at that time. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Nashua, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire, as a Revolutionary War Pensioner, age 75, living with his wife, age 50-60. His fourth wife, Jane, died on December 1, 1842 in Nashua, aged 70 years.

Davis Batchelder was a farmer all his life and left quite a large estate. He resided in Hampton until 1770 and then relocated to Northwood, where he resided the rest of his life.

Davis Batchelder died on October 5, 1816 in Northwood, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He had four children by his first wife Mary Taylor. V-19-1 Samuel PALMER (Samuel,IV-19-2 Richard,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born on March 6, 1760 in Methuen, Essex County, Massachusetts. Samuel married first about 1785, Mary ( ). He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts with one male under 16 and three females.

On August 20, 1795, Samuel Palmer deeded land in Newbury to Jonathan Palmer, and in 1799 Samuel was deeded land in Salem, Essex County, Massachusetts. Samuel is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Salem, living with five males under 10, two males, ages 10-16, two females under 10 and two females, ages 10-16. His wife, Mary, is not listed in the census record. On August 8, 1801, Samuel Palmer of Salem, housewright, and his wife Mary, deeded land to Jonathan Palmer, shipwright. It is apparent that Samuel removed to Salem sometime after 1795 since that is where his wife died. She was buried on August 10, 1807.

Samuel married second in late 1807 or early 1808, after his marriage intentions were recorded on November 5, 1807 in Salem. His second wife was Dorcas Cole, baptized on May 20, 1770 in Beverly, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Solomon Cole and Elizabeth Butman of Beverly.

There is probable cause to believe that Samuel removed to Waldoboro, Lincoln County, Maine about 1812 and later went to Bristol, Lincoln County, Maine. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Bristol, living with his wife, Dorcas, two males under 10, three males, ages 10-16 and one female under 10. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Bristol, living with his wife, two males, ages 15-20, two males, ages 20-30 and one female, age 10-15. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Bristol, living with his wife Dorcas, four males, ages 20-30, one male, age 30-40 and one female, age 15-20. There is reason to believe that the female, age 15-20 and one male, age 20-30 are grandchildren.

Samuel died on January 8, 1847 and is buried in the Palmer Cemetery, located in New Harbor near Quimby Field in Bristol. The inscription on his headstone reads, / In memory of / SAMUEL PALMER / Who died Jan. 8. 1847 / Aged 86 years. 10 mos. 2 dys /

Samuel's widow, Dorcas, is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Bristol, living with her sons, Israel, age 43, Jeremiah, age 40 and Thomas, age 35. Dorcas died on April 16, 1852 probably in Bristol. There appears to be no will or administration of the estate of Samuel or his wife.

Born on June 17, 1739 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. Stephen went to Buxton, York County, Maine, probably with his brothers James, Andrew and Richard in 1764 and located on Lot 2, Range M.

Stephen married on September 27, 1764 in Buxton, Elizabeth Bradbury, born on March 18, 1739 probably in Salisbury, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Jacob Bradbury and Abigail Eaton of Biddeford and Buxton, Maine. Jacob and Abigail were married on December 18, 1733 in Salisbury.

Stephen is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Buxton with three males over 16, beside himself, one male under 16 and three females. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census at Buxton, living with his wife and one female, age 10-16. An administration on the estate of a Stephen Palmer of Buxton was issued in 1775 in York County. It is not known at this time if this was our Stephen Palmer.

No death record of Stephen and his wife can be found at this time. He was not listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Maine.

V-19-5 Stephen PALMER (Jonathan,IV-10-2 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Baptized on September 3, 1730 in Kensington, Province of New Hampshire. Stephen married on November 30, 1752 in Kensington, Hannah Clifford, born about 1730, daughter of Samuel Clifford and probably Sarah Dow.

Stephen resided on the South Road, line of travel between Kingston and Hampton, New Hampshire and kept a tavern for ten years until 1765. He was deeded land in South Hampton by Benjamin Flanders of Salisbury, Essex County, Massachusetts on December 11, 1753. Hannah Palmer was mentioned as a daughter of Samuel Clifford of Kensington in his will dated February 8, 1760. The will was proved April 27, 1763. Stephen Palmer lost four young children during the Spring of 1764 as a result of throat distemper. On October 24, 1764, Stephen deeded land in Hampton to Jeremiah and Abigail Knowles. On October 29, 1764, Stephen and his wife Hannah deeded to Joseph Clifford of Kensington, land that his father Jonathan had sold to David Green.

In early 1765, Stephen moved to Newbury, Massachusetts and on April 1, 1765, Stephen Palmer of Newbury, "formerly of Kensington," deeded to Jonathan Palmer of Salisbury, Massachusetts, land and buildings in Kensington. Jonathan is believed to be his brother. Stephen may also have lived in Dunbarton, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. No further record of Stephen is to be found, nor is there a will or administration on record. He does not appear in the 1790 Federal Census.

V-19-6 Stephen PALMER (Stephen,IV-19-7 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on October 7, 1741 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. Stephen went to Dunbarton, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire with his father sometime after 1763 and probably resided there the rest of his life. He married about 1765 probably in Dunbarton. His wife's name is believed to be Betsey who was a witness to a deed in 1794. He is probably the Stephen Palmer of Dunbarton who refused to take the Oath of Allegiance on November 25, 1776 in Dunbarton.

Stephen is probably the one who was deeded land in Dunbarton by Benjamin Palmer of the same place on June 5, 1777 at which time he was called "miller." On November 24, 1790, Stephen Palmer of Dunbarton, "yeoman," was deeded land in Dunbarton. On December 5, 1794, Stephen of Dunbarton deeded land to his son Levi of the same place, with Betsey Palmer as a witness. Stephen does not appear in the 1790 Federal Census in Dunbarton.

Stephen is believed to be the Stephen Palmer listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Dunbarton, living with his wife, age over 45, one male, age 26-45, believed to be his son, Levi, one female, age 16-26, believed to be the wife of Levi, one female, age 16-26, who is unidentified and one male under 10, believed to be a son of Levi.

V-20-1 Trueworthy PALMER (Jonathan,IV-10-2 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on July 20, 1749 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. Trueworthy married first, on April 27, 1772 in Kensington, Rockingham County, New Hampshire, Joanna Webster, born on July 15, 1749 in Kingston, Province of New Hampshire, daughter of Thomas Webster and Judith Noyes of South Hampton and Kingston.

Trueworthy served during the Revolutionary War as a private soldier, enlisting on May 26, 1775 for 2 months, 11 days and served in Captain Philip Tilton's Company, Colonel Enoch Poor's Regiment. His occupation was listed as tailor and resided in Kingston at the time of his enlistment. On October 11, 1775, Trueworthy was one of the subscribers of Captain Tilton's Company acknowledging the receipt of four dollars for the purchase of the regimental coat which was promised by the Colony of New Hampshire. He also served in Captain John Calfe's Company, Colonel Thomas Bartlett's Regiment which reinforced the Continental Army at New York in 1776.

Trueworthy, of East Kingston, was listed as signing the Oath of Allegiance on April 12, 1776. On June 4, 1777, he was among a group of the East Parish in Kingston, petitioning for a separate Military Company. The petition was granted by the Council and House of Representatives of New Hampshire in Exeter on June 18, 1777. It is believed that Trueworthy and his family removed to Loudon, Rockingham County, New Hampshire about 1781.

On April 20, 1785, Trueworthy was among a group of petitioners of Loudon, requesting that Captain Benjamin Sias be appointed as an additional Justice of the Peace for the parish of Loudon. Trueworthy is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Loudon with one male over 16 (being himself), four males under 16 and five females.

Trueworthy's wife Joanna died on February 14, 1794 in Loudon. He married second, on June 14, 1795 in Loudon, Love Perkins. There is some question as to her identity. It has been said that she married for her first husband, Ivory Perkins of Loudon and had four children by him and after his death married Trueworthy Palmer. She may also have been a daughter of Newman and Sarah Perkins of Wells, Maine, as they had a daughter named Love, born on March 20, 1757. Her mother Sarah was known to have been a full-blooded Indian of Wells, Maine and Josiah Robinson may have been her grandfather.

He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Loudon, living with his wife, age over 45, two males under 10, one male, age 10-16 and one female under 10. According to the Prescott Genealogy, 1870, p. 271, Trueworthy is recorded as marrying third, Dorothy Prescott, born on September 27, 1757 in Kensington, daughter of John Prescott and Betsey Tilton of Kensington. He is believed to have removed to Conway, Strafford County, New Hampshire sometime before 1820. Unfortunately the 1820 Federal Census record for Conway is missing.

Trueworthy died on June 25, 1830 in Conway and is buried in the Stott or Goshen Cemetery in Conway Center along with his second wife. A granite stone monument was erected on the grave of Trueworthy by a few of his descendants sometime before 1925. The project was organized and supervised by a great grandson, Jasper Thomas Palmer of Mount Vernon, New York. The other contributors were William Lincoln Palmer of Boston, Aaron Blake Palmer of Amherst, Mass., Miss Mary Tilton Palmer of Boston, Miss Elizabeth Palmer of Boston, Mrs. Georgianna Palmer Blake of Wakefield, Mass. and Mrs. John H. Bartlett of Portsmouth, NH.

It is worthy to note that Trueworthy's first wife, Joanna Webster, was a second cousin, once removed to the Honorable Daniel Webster, famous American Statesman and Orator.

V-23-1 William PALMER (Christopher,[IV-3-2] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on May 3, 1712 at North Hill Parish, a part of Hampton, Province of New Hampshire, which later became North Hampton on November 26, 1742. He married on June 27, 1736 in Rye, New Hampshire, Jane Foss, daughter of Joshua Foss and Sarah Wallis of Rye.

In 1763, William Palmer, yeoman, deeded one-half of his farm, farm implements, stock and household goods in New Hampshire, to his son Benjamin. On June 30, 1764, William and his wife and also Joseph Palmer, (probably a son) all of Rye, deeded land in Rye, North Hampton, Jennesstown, New Hampshire and Ryegate, Vermont to Richard Jenness. On July 12, 1764, land was also deeded by William, his wife and Joseph Palmer to Richard Jenness, lying partly in Rye and partly in North Hampton. William resided in North Hampton and Rye with his brother Jonathan until about 1769/70 when he removed to Leavitt's Town, New Hampshire. William and his son Joseph took the oath of allegiance at Leavitt's Town in 1776.

In March 1778, William, William Jr., and Joseph Palmer petitioned for a road from Leavitt's Town to Wakefield. (Leavitt's Town was later incorporated as Effingham on August 18, 1778) On June 2, 1784, the Palmers petitioned for repairs to the road from Effingham to Wakefield and Dover. On June 1, 1786, the Palmers again petitioned for repairs to the same road requesting the use of previous taxes which were not used for the repairs of the road.

William is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Effingham with two males under 16 and two females. The two males under 16 are believed to be grandchildren as his children were all mature by 1790.

There is no record of any will or administration of his estate. The death dates of William and his wife are not available at this time

V-23-2 William PALMER (Joseph,[IV-10-4] Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on October 21, 1752 in Plaistow, Province of New Hampshire. William married on June 10, 1772 in Hampstead, Rockingham County, New Hampshire, Susannah Mills, born in 1749 in Hampstead, daughter of John Mills and Elizabeth Emerson of Hampstead.

William and Susannah moved immediately after marriage to Goffstown, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. This section at that time was known as Derryfield and later came under the jurisdiction of Manchester.

On April 12, 1773, William Palmer, "cooper," of Goffstown was deeded land in that town bounded east by the Merrimack River. He was also deeded land on March 28, 1775. On March 24, 1779, William Palmer, "cooper," of Goffstown and his wife Susannah deeded land in Haverhill, Essex County, Massachusetts, which was acknowledged in Goffstown and witnessed by Joseph Palmer. There are various other land transactions of William Palmer recorded in Goffstown in which he was designated as "cooper." On July 2, 1777, William was designated as "trader," in another deed.

William Palmer served during the Revolutionary War as a sergeant and corporal in the 4th Company of the 2nd Continental Regiment from New Hampshire in 1780, commanded by Colonel George Reed. He was paid 40 Shillings for his wages. No further record of his military service can be found at this time.

About 1785, William Palmer removed to Hallowell, Kennebec County, Maine and the following year he appeared on the tax list in Hallowell. As early as September 5, 1787, William attended a convention at Portland, Maine to consider the formation of a state government of the three counties of York, Cumberland and Lincoln as separate from that of Massachusetts. William is listed in the 1790 Federal Census at Hallowell with one male over 16, beside himself, three males under 16 and two females.

William continued to live in Hallowell for a number of years, but later he appears in deeds which indicates he was living in the towns of Ballston and Fairfax, Kennebec County, Maine and later removed to Norridgewock, Somerset County, Maine to live with his son John. On January 1, 1809, William deeded part of lot #11 in Fairfax to his son Moses. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census at Norridgewock, living with his wife and one female, age 10-16 who is believed to be his daughter Susan. He is also listed in the 1820 Federal Census at Norridgewock, living with his wife only. William died in 1829 at Norridgewock. His wife Susannah died September 9, 1827 also at Norridgewock.

Straw Cutting Box
circa 1760

Hay, straw and roots were laid lengthways inside the box, and the portion that protruded beyond one end was cut off by means of a knife-edged lever. A devise that enabled the operator to hold the straw or other material fast whilst it was being cut was later attached to the box

VI-1-4 Abraham PALMER (William,V-23-2 Joseph,4 Joseph,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born in 1777 probably in Goffstown, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. Abraham went with his parents to Hallowell, Kennebec County, Maine about 1785. He married probably in Hallowell. His wife was named Hannah who was born about 1779 according to the inscription on her tombstone in North New Portland, Somerset County, Maine, which reads, "died July 9, 1841, age 62 years."

It is believed that our Abraham Palmer is the one listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Solon, Somerset County, Maine, living with his wife, two males under 10 and two females under 10. Solon is approximately 7 miles east of North New Portland. It is also believed that our Abraham is the one listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Anson, Somerset County, living with his wife, one male under 10, two males, ages 10-16, two females under 10 and two females, ages 10-16. Anson is approximately 10 miles south-east of North New Portland. He is also listed in the 1840 Federal Census in New Portland, living with his wife and one female, age 15-20.

Abraham died on February 5, 1849, in North New Portland, aged 72 years. Very little is known about Abraham Palmer and his family and it is believed that he is a son of William Palmer from Goffstown. Also in view of the fact that Abraham was residing in the New Portland area where other members of William Palmer's family lived.

There are no records of the names of any children available at this time, but considering that a Benjamin Palmer was in New Portland and died there in 1892, he is probably a son of Abraham.

VI-2-3 Benjamin PALMER (James,[V-10-2] Andrew,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on April 22, 1767 in Buxton, York County, Maine. Baptized on May 3, 1767 in Buxton. Benjamin went with his parents to Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts sometime after 1767 when he was a young child and later to Londonderry, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. Benjamin is believed to have married about 1792 in Londonderry, Elizabeth Carlton, born on November 5, 1768.

It appears that Benjamin was living in Londonderry in 1797 when he signed a petition on November 11, 1797, regarding the church parish in Londonderry. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Londonderry, living with his wife, three males under 10 and one male, age 10-16. He is also listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Londonderry, living with with his wife, one male under 10, two males, ages 10-16, one male, age 16-26 and one female, age 16-26.

Benjamin is believed to have died in 1859 in Derry, Rockingham County. His wife Elizabeth is listed in the 1850 Census in Derry, living with her son William and his family. She is believed to have died before 1860 as she is not living with her son William in 1860. Only six children are recorded below and it is possible Benjamin may have had other children.

VI-2-4 Benjamin PALMER (Joseph,[V-10-17] Joseph,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on October 25, 1790 in Campton, Grafton County, New Hampshire. Benjamin spent his childhood years in Campton until his marriage. He appeared on the Campton assessment invoice and tax list from 1812 to 1814.

He married on January 8, 1815 in Campton, Abigail Goodwin, born about 1794, probably in Campton. They were married by Rev. John Webber. Shortly after marriage, Benjamin removed to the nearby town of Thornton in Grafton County, to reside there as a farmer. Unfortunately the complete 1820 Federal Census records of 1820 for Grafton County are missing. It is believed that he returned to Campton about 1828 and remained there until 1832. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Campton, living with his wife, age 30-40, one male under 5, two males, ages 5-10, one male, age 10-15, one female under 5, one female, age 5-10 and one female, age 10-15. He appeared on the Campton assessment invoice and tax list from 1828 to 1832. He probably left again about 1832 to live with his son Lorenzo in Haverhill in Grafton County.

He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Haverhill, as a farmer, living with his wife, age 40-50, one male, age 10-15, one male, age 15-20, one male, age 20-30, one female, age 10-15, one female, age 15-20 and one female, age 20-30.

Benjamin Palmer died on February 26, 1860 in Haverhill. The administration of his estate was granted to Benjamin Franklin Palmer of Philadelphia in April 1860. Benjamin F. Palmer is believed to be his youngest son. His widow, Abigail, age 75, is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Haverhill living with her son Lorenzo Palmer, age 50, as an auctioneer. She died on September 5, 1874 in Haverhill, age 79 years. Both Benjamin and Abigail are buried in the Pike Cemetery in East Haverhill.

VI-2-5 Benjamin PALMER (William,[V-23-1] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born about 1743 in North Hampton or Rye, Province of New Hampshire. Benjamin married on October 10, 1768 in North Hampton or Rye, Lydia Knowles, born about 1747, daughter of Amos and Elizabeth Knowles. She was baptized on February 22, 1747 in Rye.

On September 29, 1766, at a meeting of the Masonian Proprietors in Portsmouth, New Hampshire at the home of James Stoodly, Esq[r]., a regrant of land in Effingham, New Hampshire was made to Benjamin Palmer of North Hampton. It is unsure whether he settled on that grant or not.

Benjamin Palmer is probably the one who served in the Revolutionary War from Stratham, New Hampshire, enlisting on April 15, 1777 in Captain Michael McClary's Company, Colonel Scammels Regiment for a period of three years. It is believed that Benjamin participated in the Battle of Saratoga in September 1777 at which time Captain McClary was killed. Benjamin was listed in Colonel Joshua Wentworth's Regiment of the First New Hampshire Battalion Militia in February 1779. In January 1788, Benjamin received a bounty of 27 Pounds by the town of Stratham for his services in the War.

Benjamin is probably the one who is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Candia, New Hampshire with three males under 16 and five females. Sometime before 1790, it is presumed that Benjamin went first to Candia and then to Maine with his younger children, his oldest son Benjamin having gone there before 1790. All other children were located in Fayette, Kennebec County, Maine which was originally known as Starling Plantation. It is believed that Benjamin had at least eight children, seven of whom are listed in the 1790 Census in Candia. The Benjamin Palmer who removed to Fayette from New Hampshire about 1796 is believed to be our Benjamin. He is believed to be the Benjamin listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Fayette, living with his wife, age over 45, one male, age 16-26, one female, age 10-16 and two females, ages 16-26. He is also listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Fayette, living with his wife, age over 45, one male under 10, two females under 10, one female, age 16-26 and one female, age 26-45. The children under ten years of age are probably the children of the daughter Lydia who married Ozem Knowles.

There is no record of a will or administration for Benjamin or his wife. Benjamin is believed to have died after 1810 and his widow Lydia died in May 1840 in Fayette. In 1917, Mrs. Charles Wesley Day (Etta Josephine Palmer), a great-great granddaughter of Benjamin, stated that an old deed exists in the family which indicates that land was given to Benjamin by his father William in 1763. This deed was in the possession of George Melvin Palmer, great grandson of Benjamin, in 1932.

VI-5-4 Enoch PALMER (Jacob,[V-10-1] Christopher,[4] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on November 16, 1785 in Machias, Washington County, Maine. Enoch went to St. John, St. John County, New Brunswick, Canada as a young man, engaged in the lumber business and became very successful. He was a large man and noted for his great strength, his integrity, fairness and honesty in business.

He married first, on June 18, 1814 in Sheffield, Sunbury County, New Brunswick, Lydia Burpee, born on September 2, 1792 in Sheffield, daughter of Judge David Burpee and Betty Gallishan. (It is worthy to note that Judge David Burpee was the grand-father of David Burpee III, the founder of the Burpee Seed Company in Philadelphia.) They resided in St. John for several years after marriage and later removed to Queensborough, Queens County, New Brunswick, where he purchased a farm. Lydia died on November 17, 1836 in Queensborough, shortly after the birth of her 13th child, Lydia. She was 44 years old and died as a result of complications after childbirth. Her remains were taken to the Church of England Cemetery for burial, but Mr. Desborough, the clergyman of Sheffield, met the funeral cortege at the church yard gate and would not allow her remains to be placed in the consecrated ground. Her remains were then taken back to the family farm where she was buried and remained there for several years. Her remains were later exhumed by her son John, from the burial site on the farm in Queensborough and removed to the Burpee family plot in Sheffield. After her untimely death, leaving 12 children, age 3 days to 21 years, Enoch placed some of his children in the homes of relatives. His eldest son, Stephen, was working as a farmer for himself. Robert and Enoch were attending college in Fredericton and William was an apprentice in the carpentry trade. Mary, the oldest daughter, looked after the family while she was married to William Underhill. One year after his wife's death, Enoch traveled alone to Canada West in 1837 where he purchased land in Brant County (Ontario). He returned to New Brunswick and later in the spring of 1840, he and his children, Robert, Enoch, Phebe and Hepzibah drove a team of horses from Fredericton, New Brunswick to Mount Pleasant, Brant County, Canada West, (Ontario). The trip took 6 weeks and 1 day.

Enoch married second, on May 7, 1847 in Norwich, Eliza Caverhill, born about 1809 in Dumfrieshire, Scotland. In 1848, Enoch purchased the Caleb Tompkins farm, one mile north of Norwich in Oxford County where he farmed and lived the rest of his life. He is listed in the 1851 Census in District 1, Norwich Township, Oxford County, Canada West, as a farmer, living with his wife Eliza and children, Lidia, age 16, Edwin, age 4 and Annie Palmer, age 2. VI-10-6 James PALMER (James,V-10-3 John,4 James,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born about 1759 in Stratham, Province of New Hampshire. He was living in Stratham in 1776 according to his pension record of 1832.

Very little information is available on this James Palmer and it is probable that he may be the James Palmer of Stratham who enlisted on July 20, 1780 in Captain Daniel Jewell's Company, Colonel Thomas Bartlett's Regiment of the New Hampshire troops for the defense of West Point during the Revolutionary War. He was discharged on October 25, 1780. He again enlisted on October 1, 1781 from the First Militia of Stratham for three months in Captain Joseph Parson's Company, Lieut. Colonel Joshua Wentworth's Regiment. He was among the group to march for Charlestown by way of Portsmouth on October 1, 1781.

James is also believed to be the same James from Stratham who was in Captain Joseph Parson's Company, Colonel Runnel's Regiment of the New Hampshire Militia at Charlestown on November 24, 1781. He was listed as a corporal.

A James Palmer is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Middleton, Strafford County, New Hampshire with three males under 16 and two females. It is not certain if our James was the one listed in this census but it is highly probable that he is the one.

James was married twice but the name of his first wife is unknown. He married second, on July 6, 1832 in Starksboro, Addison County, Vermont, Eunice A. Maynard, born about 1786. He applied for a pension on July 25, 1832 from Starksboro, age 72 years, stating he was born in Stratham. His pension records also reveal that he was living in Moultonboro, Carroll County, New Hampshire with his daughter in 1836.

James died on September 20, 1843 in North Hampton, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. It is not certain if the children listed below are definitely the children of our James. Considering that James was living in Starksboro, Vermont after 1832, it appears probable that he is the father of three Palmer's who were later found in the town of Dickinson, Franklin County, New York. They went there from Huntington and Monkton, Vermont which are near Starksboro.

James Palmer appears to have traveled and lived in a wide range of locations and therefore much of what is recorded is speculation. Further research is necessary in order to determine a more accurate record of our James Palmer.

VI-10-7 James PALMER (James,[V-10-4] Samuel,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1774/75 in Bradford, Essex County, Massachusetts. James probably spent his early years as a child in Methuen, Essex County, until his marriage on January 14, 1796 in Plaistow, Rockingham County, New Hampshire to Abigail Smith, born on August 27, 1767 in Ipswich, Essex County, daughter of Moses Smith and Ruth Little.

The Haverhill Vital Records states that James was of Methuen and Abigail was of Salem, Massachusetts at the time of their marriage. However, the New Hampshire Vital Records states that James was of Bradford and Abigail was of Plaistow.

James is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Haverhill, Essex County, living with his wife, two males under 10 and one female under 10.

James died on August 30, 1807 in Haverhill as a result of drowning according to the Haverhill Vital Records. No record of the death of Abigail is available at this time.

VI-10-8 James PALMER (John,[V-10-9] Joseph,[4] James,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1765 in New Market, Province of New Hampshire. James is believed to have been living with his parents in 1790 and married within a year or two. He married before 1794, Mary. (surname is unknown)

James is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Tamworth, Strafford County, New Hampshire, living with his wife, two males under 10 and two females under 10. Also listed are two females, ages 16-26 who are unidentified. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Tamworth, living with his wife, one male, age 10-16 and one female, age 10-16. Also listed is one female, other than his wife, age over 45.

On October 25, 1810, James Palmer, "husbandman," and wife Mary of Tamworth, deeded land in Middleton, Strafford County. In view of the fact that the deed was dated in 1810 in Tamworth, it appears that James and his family removed from Middleton to Tamworth sometime after 1785 and before 1794. The 1820 Federal Census record for Tamworth is missing. It is believed that James and his wife removed to Sandwich before 1830 where his son James was residing. He is believed to be the James Palmer listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Sandwich, living with his wife only.

The records of their deaths can not be found at this time.

VI-10-9 James PALMER (Jonathan,[V-10-12] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on January 10, 1753 in North Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. About 1763, James went with his parents to Chester, New Hampshire in that section which later became the town of Raymond on May 9, 1764. In 1774, as a young man, James went to Warner, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire probably with his brothers John and Jeremiah at about the time his brother Jonathan of New Amesbury, sold and deeded to James a tract of forty acres of land for Fifteen Pounds, lawful money. This transaction took place on May 18, 1774 after Jonathan fought for his right to keep the land.

James married first, on May 9, 1775 probably in Warner, Miriam Flanders, born on January 24, 1754 in Chester, New Hampshire, daughter of Philip Flanders and Hannah Morrill of Chester.

On May 4, 1775, James and his brother John, enlisted as privates during the American Revolutionary War. On August 1, 1775, James was listed on the pay roll of Captain Gordon Hutchins's Company, Colonel John Stark's Regiment and fought at the battle of Bunker Hill. He was discharged on August 9, 1775 after serving three months and five days. He was again in service on October 4, 1775 in Captain Gordon Hutchins's Company, Colonel John Stark's Regiment. He served in camp at Winter Hill near Cambridge, Massachusetts until December 24, 1775. He was again in service in 1777 in Captain Daniel Flood's Company. He is also believed to be the same James Palmer who served as a private in Captain Daniel Jewell's Company, Colonel Thomas Bartlett's Regiment of Militia of New Hampshire from July 20 to October 25, 1780. The militia was raised for the defense of West Point.

James had various land transactions in Warner, the first being on November 11, 1782, when he was called "James Palmer of the Gore at Kearsarge Mountain." He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Kearsarge Gore, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire with one male over 16, beside himself, two males under 16 and four females. James married second, on January 18, 1795 probably in Warner, Anna Shepard of Kearsarge Gore. Anna may have been a widow at the time of her marriage to James. Her previous husbands name may have been Morgan. James is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Kearsarge Gore, living with his wife Anna, three males under 10, one male, age 10-16, two females under 10 and one female, age 10-16.

At the annual town meeting held in Warner in March 1804, James Palmer was chosen as one of three selectmen for the ensuing year. On February 16, 1814, a list of voters of Kearsarge Gore was made up by the selectmen which included James Palmer. James is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Warner, as a farmer, living with his wife, two males, ages 10-16, one male, age 16-18 and one female, age 16-26. He is also listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Sutton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire, living with his wife only.

On March 20, 1826, James of Sutton, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire and his wife Anna were deeded land by their son Nathaniel. There is no will or administration of either James or his wife nor any record of their deaths available at this time.

VI-10-10 James PALMER (William,V-23-1 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born about 1738 in Rye or North Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. It is believed that James was residing in New Durham, Strafford County, New Hampshire and was probably the one who was one of the inhabitants in a settlement report of April 1770. He settled on lot No. 89 in New Durham which consisted of 19 acres of improved land, 10 acres of land cleared and 8 acres of felled trees.

On May 20, 1788, James and his brother Jeremiah were signers of a petition along with inhabitants of Rochester, Barnstead, New Durham and the Gore adjoining New Durham. The petition was for a tract of land to be erected into a town by the name of Alton and that an Act of Incorporation be passed. A James Palmer is listed in the 1790 Federal Census at New Durham living with one male under 16 and three females.

Very little information is known about our James Palmer, but according to the will of Jeremiah Palmer of New Durham, dated September 20, 1820, he mentions his nephews Joseph Palmer of Tuftonborough and Mayhew Palmer, whom he named executor of his will. It is believed that Joseph and Mayhew are sons of our James, who were found in this section on May 20, 1788, together with Jeremiah. Mayhew was also a resident of New Durham. It is also believed that James perhaps had another son Jonathan, who married on March 7, 1816 in Alton, Strafford County, Abigail Kinistone.

VI-10-11 Jeremiah PALMER (Jonathan,V-10-12 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born in 1756 in North Hampton or Rye, Province of New Hampshire. About 1763, Jeremiah went with his parents to Chester, New Hampshire to that section which later became the town of Raymond. In 1774 he went with his brothers, Jonathan, James and John to Warner, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire and resided in that section known as the Kearsarge Gore. His house was near the Salisbury line. They all settled on a Lord Proprietor's lot No. 8, drawn to the original right of John Moffat, one of the Masonian Proprietors.

Jeremiah was in the Revolutionary War serving in Captain Moses Leavitt's Company, Colonel Abraham Drake's Regiment. Colonel Drake's Regiment was raised from the 3rd Militia Regiment commanded by Colonel Jonathan Moulton to reinforce the northern Continental Army at Stillwater in September 1777. Jeremiah enlisted as a private on September 8, 1777 and was discharged on December 15, 1777. He served 3 months, 8 days.

Jeremiah married on June 27, 1782 in Warner, Hannah Beckham or Bickam, born in 1754. He is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Kearsarge Gore, with six males under 16 and one female. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Kearsarge Gore, living with his wife, two males under 10, three males, ages 10-16, three males, ages 16-26 and one female, age 10-16. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Sutton, living with his wife, three males under 10, two males, ages 10-16, two males, ages 16-26, one male, age 26-45 and two females, ages 16-26. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Sutton, as a farmer, living with his wife, one female, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26. His son, Jeremiah, Jr., was in the same census, living in Warner. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Sutton, living with his wife only. He is also listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Sutton, as a farmer and widower, living with one female, age 30-40, who is believed to be a daughter, one female, age 15-20, two males, ages 10-15 and one male under 5, whom are all believed to be grandchildren.

Jeremiah died after 1840 in Warner, and Hannah died in 1835 also in Warner. There is no will or administration of the estate of Jeremiah or his wife.

VI-10-12 Jeremiah PALMER (Stephen,V-19-5 Jonathan,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born in 1773 in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married first, on January 17, 1796 in Danvers, Essex County, Sarah Larrabee, born in 1771, daughter of Stephen Larrabee of Danvers.

Jeremiah resided in Newbury, Danvers and Lynn, Massachusetts and he appeared on the tax list in Danvers in 1798 as an occupant and owner of a house standing on the land of Stephen Larrabee on Mill Street. Jeremiah is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Danvers, living with his wife, one male under 10 and one female under 10.

The death date of Sarah is recorded in the Danvers Vital Records as February 5, 1808 and the Lynn Vital Records gives the birth of James Palmer, as September 7, 1810, and as the son of Jeremiah Palmer without the name of Jeremiah's wife. It would appear that Jeremiah would have married a second time and had a son James by his second wife.

Jeremiah died on April 8, 1825 in Lynn, Essex County, Massachusetts.

VI-10-13 Jeremiah "Jeremy" PALMER (William,V-23-1 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born in 1745 in North Hampton or Rye, Province of New Hampshire. He married on January 8, 1784 in North Hampton, Martha Moore, born before 1765.

Jeremiah is probably the one found in the 1790 Federal Census in New Durham, New Hampshire with himself and two females. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in New Durham, living with his wife, age over 45, one male, age 16-26, one female under 10 and one female, age 16-26.

The will of Jeremiah of New Durham was dated September 20, 1820 and probated on October 10, 1820 in which he mentioned his wife Martha and nephews Joseph Palmer of Tuftonborough and Mayhew Palmer, who was named executor of his will. Mayhew qualified by giving a bond on October 10, 1820. From this will it is quite evident that Jeremiah's children died before 1820.

Jeremiah died probably in October 1820.

VI-10-14 John PALMER (Andrew,V-1-2 Andrew,4 Richard,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born about 1771 in Buxton, York County, Maine. He married first, on December 10, 1793 in Buxton, Martha Elden, born about 1772. He married second, on June 8, 1796/97 probably in Buxton, Charlotte Lane, born about 1773 in Buxton, daughter of Captain Daniel Lane and Mary Woodman of Buxton.

John is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Buxton, living with his wife, two males under 10 and two females under 10. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Buxton living with his wife, one male under 10, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26 and one female, age 10-16. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Buxton, as a farmer, living with his wife, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26 and one female, age 16-26. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Buxton, living with one male, age 40-50, who is unidentified, one male, age 30-40, one female, age 30-40, who may be husband and wife, two males, ages 5-10, one male under 5 and one female under 5. The youngest children born between 1820 and 1830 are believed to be grandchildren and children of the the male and female born between 1790 and 1800. John's wife, Charlotte, is not listed in the 1830 Census. John is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Hollis, York County, as a widower, engaged in manufacturers and trades, living with one male, age 30-40, one female, age 20-30 and one male under 5. The one male, age 30-40 is probably an error in age and is believed to be John's youngest son, Alvin Bacon Palmer and his family. John is also listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Buxton, as a millman, living with his son Alvin Bacon Palmer and his family.

John died on April 28, 1853 in Buxton, aged 82 years. Charlotte died on September 29, 1837 in Buxton, aged 64 years. Both are buried in the Riverside Cemetery in Hollis.

VI-10-15 John PALMER (Benjamin,V-2-1 Jonathan,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born about 1781 probably in Weare, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. John is believed to be the son of Benjamin of Loudon, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. The first record of John Palmer is on November 16, 1805 in Conway, Strafford County, New Hampshire when he deeded land in that town.

He married on November 27, 1806 in Conway, Anna "Annie" Estes, born about 1788 in Maine. John is believed to have resided in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine, as a farmer, until about 1838/39 when he removed to Jefferson, Coos County, New Hampshire. He is believed to have cleared and settled on Lot 14 in the 10th Range in Jefferson. On July 17, 1817, John Palmer mortgaged land in Conway. There appears to be some speculation as to when John actually removed to Jefferson. It is stated in source 916 that he moved to Jefferson about 1820 and settled on Lot 14, Range 10 in Jefferson, yet source 331 states that he spent most of his years in Fryeburg.

He cannot be found in the 1820 and 1830 Federal Census in Jefferson nor can he be found in the same census period in Fryeburg. (research pending) John is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Jefferson, as a farmer, living with his wife, one male, age 10-15, believed to be his son, John, Jr., one male, age 20-30 and one female, age 20-30. The male and female, ages 20-30 are believed to be his son, Lewis Jewett and his wife, Susan. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Jefferson, as a farmer, living with his wife Anna and Keziah Estes, age 50, who is believed to be a sister of Anna. John reportedly divided his land between his two sons, Lewis Jewett and John, Jr. The old house was cut and a part of it moved to Lewis' share. The remainder or middle portion went to John's share.

John died about 1852, age 71 years. His widow, Anna, is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Jefferson, living with her son John Palmer, Jr. and his family. On May 4, 1775, John and his brother James enlisted as privates during the American Revolutionary War. On August 1, 1775, John was listed on the pay roll of Captain Gordon Hutchin's Company, Colonel John Stark's Regiment and fought at the battle of Bunker Hill. He was discharged on August 9, 1775 after serving three months and five days. He was also in Captain William Stillson's Company in July 1776 and served for five months. He was again in service for two months under the command of Captain Daniel Flood's Company in 1777 and fought at the battle of Bennington on August 16, 1777 with his brother Simon. He was in service again in July 1778 under Lieut. Waldron of Warner for a period of nine months. VI-10-25 John PALMER (William,V-23-2 Joseph,4 Joseph,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born on November 22, 1790 in Hallowell, Kennebec County, Maine. He received his education in the district schools and early in life he went to Castine, Hancock County, Maine at age 21, where he enlisted as a soldier in the War of 1812. When the war was over, he went to Norridgewock, Somerset County, Maine, and there for some years he followed the toilsome but peaceful life of a farmer.

He married in 1817, in Norridgewock, Betsey Nichols, born on April 9, 1798 in Monmouth, Kennebec County, daughter of Nathaniel Gilman Nichols and Nancy D. Blake of Monmouth. On June 28, 1818, John Palmer of Norridgewock, yeoman, was deeded land in Fairfax, Maine, being part of Lot #11 from his brother Moses Palmer. On March 2, 1822, Moses Palmer of Hallowell, Maine, deeded land in Bangor to John Palmer of Norridgewock, trader.

John is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Norridgewock, as a farmer, living with his wife and eldest son, Sumner Palmer. Also listed is one female, age 10-16, who is unidentified at this time. In 1827, he removed to Athens, Somerset County, and for two years operated a village hotel in that place. After two years he changed the scene of his enterprise to Cornville, Somerset County, buying a farm, and managing it in connection with the country hotel that he opened in the vicinity, cleverly furnishing the supply for his own demand. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Cornville, Somerset County, living with his wife, one male, age 5-10, one male, age 10-15, one female under 5 and one female, age 5-10. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Cornville, as a farmer, living with his wife, one male, age 5-10, one male, age 15-20, one male, age 20-30, one female under 5, one female, age 5-10 and two females, ages 10-15. He is also listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Cornville, as a farmer, living with his children, Louisa, John, Cynthia, Ann, Susan and Henry M. His wife Betsey is not listed as living in the same household in the 1850 Census. After carrying on this two fold business for a number of years, he sold out his interests in Cornville, and removed to Waterville, Kennebec County, Maine, where he purchased a farm and continued to live there the rest of his life.

John died on October 1, 1863 in Waterville. His wife Betsey is believed to have died on June 8th. (year not known)

VI-10-26 Jonathan PALMER (Jonathan,[V-10-12] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born in 1747 in North Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. About 1763, Jonathan went with his parents to Chester, New Hampshire in that section which later became the town of Raymond on May 9, 1764. Jonathan was a resident of Raymond in 1768 when he and his father petitioned for a meeting house for the upper part of the parish. He may have been the one who was listed as a teacher in Raymond in 1768.

Jonathan is believed to have removed from Chester and went to Warner, New Hampshire about 1765 where he took up a forty acre lot, and made certain improvements upon it. The town of Warner was originally referred to as New Amesbury when it was granted to seventy-five men on March 14, 1749. These grantees were mostly residents of Rye and New Castle. Christopher, Jonathan, William and Stephen Palmer of Rye were among the grantees in this section.

About 1770, Jonathan married first, Phebe ( ) who died on October 20, 1814 in Vasselboro, Kennebec County, Maine. He then married second, Margaret ( ), born about 1741. The surnames of his wives are unknown at this time.

It appears that the town of Warner was technically the property of the Rye grantees and subsequently repeated attempts were made by the Amesbury proprietors to drive Jonathan Palmer out. Jonathan had selected an ordinary lot to make a farm. It was a half mile long and forty rods wide which was very fair for pasture land. He cleared, or partly cleared three or four acres, and built something that he called a house, though the Amesbury proprietors called it a "frame." The Amesbury proprietors allowed that if Palmer had complied with the terms of settlement by the Rye grantees (even though they had no authority), he should go unmolested. But they denied that he had done this, and claimed that he was simply a trespasser on land not his own. They therefore voted, in March, 1767, "to give Increase Morrill a 40 acre Lot near where Palmer built a frame, he (Morrill) complying with the terms and settling as other settlers." This meant that Morrill was to have the very lot that Palmer had pre-empted, and the first step was to drive Palmer off. The law was appealed to for this purpose, and Portsmouth was the theatre of the conflict. But the law's delays and the law's uncertainties were again exemplified. Palmer still "held the fort." Seed-time and harvest came, years passed on, and, in August, 1770, a meeting was called at Amesbury "To see if the proprietors will choose a committee to carry on the Lawsuit commenced by Increase Morrill, against Jonathan Palmer, of Chester, for Trespass;" and Ezekiel Evans and Jonathan Barnard were chosen to take the advice of the Lord's proprietors in relation to the law-suit against said Palmer.

Then, after another long delay intervened, the proprietors, on March 24, 1773, choose a committee to proceed in this law-suit, and eject this man from the lot he had selected. On January 24, 1774, Jonathan Palmer petitioned the Governor and Legislature regarding the legal contest against him. The result of these contests was never determined. And finally, this latter vote is repeated and emphasized at the annual meeting on March 10, 1774.

Justice requires the presentation of the grounds on which Palmer stood and claimed a verdict. He contended he was rightfully there, because he entered upon the lot under the sanction of the Rye grantees. He contended further, that even if he had acquired no rights under the Rye people, he had acquired a perfect title under the Amesbury proprietors by fulfilling every obligation which they demanded of settlers. This the Amesbury people denied. They represented, in court and elsewhere, that he had not complied with a single condition; that the land he had pretended to clear was covered with logs and with standing trees, and that the house he had built "was unfit for a pigeon-roost."

Palmer fought valiantly, single-handed, and against great odds. He evidently lost the field in one encounter, but he seems to have regained it in another. The records of Hillsboro County show that this redoubtable Jonathan Palmer, of Amesbury, on May 18, 1774, sold and deeded to his brother, James Palmer, of the same place, for the sum of fifteen pounds, lawful money, a tract of forty acres of land, described by him as follows: "It being a Lot that was laid out to me by my right, and afterwards recovered to me by law."

Thus the contest with Jonathan Palmer seems to have ended in a victory for him, whatever may have been the fate of the one who held under him. He was not ejected.

After he sold his lot, he left the scene and evidently went to the adjoining town of Sutton. Jonathan is listed in the Roll List of Captain Daniel Flood's Company in 1777 during the Revolutionary War. He is also listed in Captain John Eastman's Company, Colonel Thomas Bartlett's Regiment of Militia from July 16-24, 1780. The regiment was raised for the defense of West Point.

Jonathan is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Kearsarge Gore, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire living with one male over 16, beside himself and one female who is believed to be his wife.

Jonathan is believed to have removed to Maine with his brother Samuel and was the one who died in Vasselboro on April 10, 1831, aged 84 years. His wife, Margaret, died a few years earlier on December 30, 1826 in Vasselboro, age 85 years. There is no will or administration of Jonathan. Any record of children at this time is very sketchy.

VI-10-27 Jonathan PALMER (Jonathan,V-10-14 Joseph,4 Joseph,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born about 1777 in Litchfield, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. He married on November 21, 1808 in Bedford, Hillsboro County, Susan "Sukey" Parker, born on October 21, 1783, daughter of William Parker and Abigail "Nabby" Parker of Litchfield. They were married by Rev. David McGregore.

Jonathan is believed to have resided in Litchfield and Bradford his entire life. He is probably the Jonathan who was listed as one of the incorporators of the Piscataquay Fire Engine Company in 1820. Piscataquay was in the north-east part of the town of Bedford but later became part of the city of Manchester.

Jonathan is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Bedford, Hillsboro County, living with his wife. Also listed in the same household is one male, age 16-26 and two females, ages 16-26. He is also listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Bedford, living with his wife and one male under 10. Also listed are three males, ages 16-26 and one female, age 16-26. The 1820 Census states that one person is engaged in agriculture, two in commerce and one in manufactures and trades.

The only confirmed child of Jonathan is Gilman. The exact date of death of Jonathan is not known at this time, but he is believed to have died in Bedford before 1830. A Susan Palmer, age 50-60, is listed as living alone in the 1840 Federal Census in Nashua, Hillsboro County. She is believed to be our Susan "Sukey" Palmer, widow of Jonathan Palmer. There is no will or administration for Jonathan, but letters of administration on the estate of "Sukey" Palmer of Nashville (now Nashua) New Hampshire were issued to her son Gilman Palmer of Merrimack on April 1, 1845. (Hillsboro County Probate Court Record # 07409) "Sukey" Palmer died in 1844.

VI-10-28 Jonathan PALMER (Joseph,V-10-18 William,4 Joseph,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on September 19, 1772 in North Hampton, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He married on October 10, 1796 in Sanbornton, Strafford County, New Hampshire, Rhoda Gale, born about 1776, probably in Lancaster, Grafton County, New Hampshire, daughter of Daniel Gale and Rhoda Burleigh of Lancaster.

It is believed that Jonathan removed to Somerset County, Maine about 1819. He was engaged in numerous land transactions, the first being recorded on April 2, 1819 when he, as a yeoman, of Mercer, Somerset County, was deeded land in that town, being the western part of the lot he then occupied, and he gave a mortgage on the same lot.

Jonathan is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Rome, Kennebec County, Maine, as a farmer, living with his wife, age 26-45, two males, ages 16-26, one female under 10 and one female, age 10-16. On April 7, 1820, Jonathan, of Rome, was deeded land in New Sharon, Franklin County, Maine by Ezekiel Gilman of New Sharon. On December 10, 1821, Jonathan of Rome and his wife, deeded land partly in Rome and in Mercer to his son Daniel G. Palmer of Mercer. On December 28, 1824, Jonathan, of Rome, deeded land partly in Rome and in Mercer to his son Jonathan, Jr. This land was bounded on the south-east by land of Daniel G. Palmer. Jonathan is also listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Rome, living with his wife, age 50-60, one male, age 10-15, one female, age 15-20 and one female, age 20-30.

On April 1, 1834, Jonathan and Rhoda Palmer of Rome, deeded land in that town to Benjamin Allen and on the same date deeded land in Rome to Joseph Littlefield. On April 8, 1836, Rhoda Palmer of Rome, widow, deeded to her son Jonathan of Rome, yeoman, one-half of an undivided lot in Rome and on the same date, Jonathan Jr. deeded to Rhoda, land in Rome for her lifetime, with the provision that if he supported her, he was to have the use of the land free.

Jonathan Palmer prepared his will on February 12, 1835. He died three days later on February 15, 1835 in Rome, age 61 years. His widow Rhoda died on May 30, 1838, in Rome, age 61 years. Both are buried in the Rome Cemetery in Rome.

VI-10-30 Jonathan PALMER (Trueworthy,V-20-1 Jonathan,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on January 25, 1782 probably in Loudon, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He married first, on March 15, 1807 in Gilmanton, Strafford County, New Hampshire, Anna Osgood, born on December 10, 1783 in Gilmanton, daughter of Joseph Osgood and Anna Ranlet of Epping and Gilmanton. Jonathan was residing in Gilmanton at the time of his marriage and continued to reside there after marriage. His wife Anna died on February 5, 1808 in Gilmanton and he then married second, on April 22, 1810 in Gilmanton, Martha Prescott, born on July 4, 1789 in Kensington, Rockingham County, daughter of Jonathan Prescott and Lydia Tuck of Gilmanton. They were married by Isaac Smith, clergyman.

Jonathan removed to Exeter Mills, Penobscot County, Maine about 1810 where he continued to reside the rest of his life as a farmer and where he became very active in the municipal affairs of that town. On March 9, 1810, Jonathan Palmer of Exeter, yeoman, was deeded land in Lot #1, Range 7 in Exeter, by John W. Buswell and Jonathan Sargent of Exeter.

Jonathan is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Gilmanton, living with his wife Martha and son Henry. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Exeter, as a farmer, living with his wife Martha, four males under 10, one male, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26, who is unidentified. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Exeter, living with his wife Martha, one male under 5, three males, ages 10-15, one male, age 15-20, one female under 5, one female, age 5-10 and one female, age 15-20, who is unidentified. The one male under 5 should probably read, one male, age 5-10, who is believed to be James Monroe Palmer. Jonathan is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Exeter, as a farmer, living with his wife Martha, one male, age 5-10, one male, age 15-20, three males, ages 20-30, one female, age 5-10 and one female, age 10-15. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Exeter, as a farmer, living with his wife Martha, son David S. and his wife Frances. He is also listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Exeter, as a farmer living with his wife Martha, son David S. and his wife Frances, daughter Martha Ann and Ralph W. Palmer, age 3.

Jonathan died on November 24, 1866 in Exeter Mills, aged 84 years, 10 months. His widow, Martha, died on March 23,1879 in Exeter Mills, aged 89 years, 8 months, 19 days. Both are buried in the Exeter Mills Cemetery.

Jonathan Palmer

VI-10-31 Jonathan Hilliard PALMER (Benjamin,V-2-1 Jonathan,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on March 13, 1791 in Weare, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. Jonathan married first, about 1816 in Eaton, Strafford County, New Hampshire, Judith Littlefield, born about 1800. She is believed to be the daughter of Samuel Littlefield of Eaton. On August 29, 1816, Samuel Littlefield, yeoman, of Eaton, deeded 50 acres of land on the west end of lot 74 in the Eaton East Division, to Jonathan H. Palmer, yeoman, of Conway, Strafford County, New Hampshire. On March 16, 1824, Jonathan H. Palmer, yeoman, of Eaton, deeded 50 acres of land on the west end of lot 74 in the Eaton East Division, to Oliver Griswold, yeoman, of Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine. On December 8, 1828, Samuel Littlefield, yeoman, of Eaton, deeded land on the south side of the west half of lot 74 in the Eaton East Division, to Jonathan H. Palmer, yeoman, of Eaton.

Jonathan is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Eaton, living with his wife, age 30-40, one female under 5, one female, age 5-10 and one female, age 10-15. He is also listed on the Resident Tax List of Eaton in 1830. His wife, Judith, died in 1833. Jonathan married second, Mary Brooks, born about 1802 in Maine. Mary was residing in Roxbury, Oxford County, Maine and Eaton, New Hampshire before marriage. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Eaton, as a farmer, living with his wife, age 30-40, one male under 5, one male, age 5-10, one female, age 10-15, one female, age 15-20 and one female, age 80-90. The female, age 80-90 is believed to be Jonathan's widowed mother "Betsey" Palmer. He is also listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Eaton, as a farmer, living with his wife Mary, age 48, sons Abraham P., age 18, William H., age 11 and George A. Palmer, age 6. Jonathan is not listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Eaton, but his wife Mary, age 59, is listed as head of household, living with her sons William H., age 21 and George A. Palmer, age 16.

There appears to be questions about the actual birth date of Jonathan H. Palmer. Considering that the 1840 Census gives his age between 40-50 which would place his birth between 1790 to 1800 and also considering that his age in the 1850 Census reads 38 instead of 58, it would seem probable that he was born about 1791/2. It appears that his age of 38, in the 1850 Census, is in error and should read 58. It is also unlikely that he was not 38 years of age in 1850 due to the fact that Samuel Littlefield deeded land to Jonathan in 1816 about the time of his marriage to Judith Littlefield.

Another factor to consider is that a Jonathan Palmer is mentioned in the History of Carroll County, New Hampshire by Merrell, 1889, p. 85 as being a member of Captain Stone's Company in the War of 1812. Presuming that Jonathan H. Palmer was born in 1791/2, he would have been at the prime age of 20 for service in the war.

Jonathan H. Palmer is believed to have died before 1860.

VI-10-32 Joseph PALMER (Growth,[V-7-1] John,[4] James,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1770 probably in Bow, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. Very little is known about Joseph at this time, but he is believed to be a son of Growth Palmer of Bow. He married about 1796 probably in Bow. His wife was born probably about 1776.

Joseph is listed in the 1820 Federal Census at Bow, living with his wife, one male under 10, two males, ages 10-16, three males, ages 16-26, three females under 10, one female, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26.

VI-10-33 Joseph PALMER (Jonathan,[V-10-12] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William 1)

Born about 1749 in North Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. About 1763, Joseph went with his parents to Chester, Province of New Hampshire in that section which later became the town of Raymond in 1765. He is also believed to have resided in North River, Epping, Rockingham County before removing to Dorchester, Grafton County, New Hampshire about 1782. The name of his wife is not known at this time but he married probably about 1770. The first record of Joseph in Dorchester was on August 14, 1782, when he was granted land in that town and listed as a "joiner".

Joseph is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Dorchester living with two males over 16, beside himself, one male under 16 and three females. On October 19, 1793, Joseph of Dorchester, yeoman, deeded to John Palmer of Dorchester, yeoman, land in that town. John is believed to be a son of Joseph. Joseph is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Dorchester, living with his wife, age over 45, two males, ages 16-26 and one female, age 16-26. He is also listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Dorchester, living with his wife, age over 45, one male, age 26-45 and one female, age 16-26. On August 28, 1811, Joseph of Dorchester, joiner, deeded to Jonathan Palmer of Dorchester, husbandman, land in that town. Jonathan is believed to be a son of Joseph. Unfortunately the complete Federal Census of 1820 for Grafton County is missing.

No further record of Joseph or his wife is available at this time although it has been stated by descendants that his wife was Sarah Willey. Whether Sarah Willey was the wife of our Joseph remains to be investigated. At the present time, Sarah Willey is recorded as being the wife of Joseph Palmer, born on May 8, 1740, son of William Palmer and Jane Foss (see V-23-1 & VI-10-39). There is a possibility and reason to believe that our Joseph may have moved to Sumner, Oxford County, Maine to live near or with his son Joseph Palmer, Jr., although he is not listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Sumner.

The death date of Joseph is unavailable at this time. A letter, dated April 20, 1826, written by their son Jonathan, to his brother, Samuel and his wife, states that their mother died on April 4, 1826. He also stated that his father is "as well as could be expected but I think he fails fast".

Letter of Jonathan Palmer, 20 Apr 1826

[1] A letter, dated April 20, 1826, written by John's brother, Jonathan, states that John attended his mother's funeral and that "his family was all well". He evidently lived close enough to his mothers home in Dorchester to attend her funeral.

NOTE: Jonathan could not be the son of Joseph Palmer (VI-10-39) due to the fact that Joseph died in 1824. The letter dated April 20, 1826 states that Jonathan's father was still living in 1826.

VI-10-34 Joseph PALMER (Joseph,[V-10-15] Christopher,[4] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on October 14, 1765 in Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. He married on May 2, 1792 in Hampton, Deborah Tuck, born on October 20, 1768 in Hampton, daughter of John Tuck and Elizabeth Cate of Hampton.

Joseph resided his entire life in Hampton on the easterly side of his father's home lot and his son Joseph in turn also lived on the same lot, whose grand-daughter Mrs. James Winchester Berry (Annie M. Dunbar) was the owner in 1893.

Joseph and his wife Deborah were admitted to the church in Hampton on October 29, 1799. Joseph is probably the one listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Hampton, living with his wife, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26, one female, age 10-16 and one female, age 16-26. Although the age brackets in the census record differ slightly from the actual year of births, it is believed that Joseph is properly placed. He is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Hampton, living with his wife, one male, age 16-18, one male, age 16-26 and one female, age 10-16. He is also listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Hampton, living with his wife and one female, age 20-30 who is believed to be his youngest daughter Mary "Polly" Palmer. Mary married in July 1830.

Joseph died on June 25, 1832 in Hampton. His widow Deborah, is believed to be listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Hampton, living in the household of her son, Joseph Palmer and his family. Deborah died on April 17, 1843 in Hampton. Both Joseph and Deborah are buried in the Ring Swamp Cemetery in Hampton.

VI-10-35 Joseph PALMER (Joseph,V-10-16 Joseph,4 Joseph,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born on May 25, 1773 in Atkinson, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He is believed to have married about 1795 in New Hampshire or Orange County, Vermont, Rachel ( ), born about 1774 in Massachusetts.

Joseph is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Vershire, Orange County, living with his wife, one male under 10 and one female under 10. He is believed to be the Joseph Palmer listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Thetford, Orange County, living with his wife, two males, ages 10-16, two females under 10 and one female, age 10-16. He is also listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Vershire, as a farmer, living with his wife, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26 and two females, ages 10-16.

Joseph is believed to have died before 1850 probably in Vershire. His widow, Rachel, is believed to be the Rachel Palmer, age 76, born in Massachusetts, listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Vershire, living in the household of William Smith. William is believed to be her son-in-law, who married Orinda Palmer.

Rachel died on March 20, 1857 in Vershire.

Children:

VII-10-47	i	Joseph, b. ca. 1791-1800, d. 24 Oct 1849.

After marriage, they settled near the south end of her grand-fathers 2nd Division, Lot No. 62 in Sanbornton.

VI-10-37 Joseph PALMER (Philbrick,V-16-2 Edward,4 Joseph,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on February 8, 1766 in Kensington, Province of New Hampshire. He married on December 2, 1784 in Kensington, Sarah Bray. Joseph resided his entire life in Kensington, remaining on his father's farm where he lived with his two unmarried sisters, Abigail and Elizabeth. His two unmarried sons Mark and Timothy also remained on the farm.

Joseph is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Kensington with two males under 16 and three females. He is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Kensington, living with his wife, three males under 10, two males, ages 10-16 and two females, ages 10-16. Also listed in the same household are two females, ages 26-45 who are believed to be Joseph's two unmarried sisters, Abigail and Elizabeth. Also listed is one female, over 45 who is believed to be Joseph's widowed mother, Judith Palmer. Joseph died on March 4, 1831 in Kensington. There is no will or administration of Joseph or of his wife.

In view of the fact that the estate of Deborah (Palmer) Felch of Kensington showed legacies to Benjamin Palmer, William Palmer and Mark Palmer, it is believed that Joseph had other children. Listed below are seven children. Benjamin, Aaron and William are believed to be children of Joseph.

Children born in Kensington:

	ii	Timothy, b. ca. 1786. Living in 1819, unmarried.

VI-10-38 Joseph PALMER (Samuel,[V-19-1] Samuel,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born about 1804 in Salem, Essex County, Massachusetts. He went with his parents to Waldoboro, Lincoln County, Maine about 1812 and later to Bristol, Lincoln County.

He married about 1828 probably in Bristol, Sally MacFarland, born about 1804. Joseph is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Bristol, living with his wife, two males under 5 and two males, ages 5-10. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Bristol, as a carpenter and widower, living with his children Lorana, Samuel, Francis and Thomas. Samuel and Francis are listed as being in the fishing business. He is also listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Bristol, as a fisherman, living with his daughter, Lorana and son Thomas. Also listed in the same household is Winfield Palmer, age 9, born in Maine.

Lorana is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Bristol, age 40 and probably unmarried, living with her uncle Israel Palmer, age 64, who is listed as "idiotic" and also Winfield Palmer, age 19, born in Maine. Winfield could possibly be a son of Lorana.

Sally Palmer died on July 27, 1848 probably in Bristol. Joseph died on May 9, 1870 probably in Bristol. Both are buried in the Palmer Cemetery located in New Harbor near Quimby Field in Bristol.

VI-10-39 Joseph PALMER (William,[V-23-1] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on May 8, 1740 in North Hampton or Rye, Province of New Hampshire. On June 30, 1764, Joseph Palmer, his father and mother, all of Rye, deeded land in Rye, North Hampton, Jennesstown, New Hampshire and Ryegate, Vermont to Richard Jenness. On July 12, 1764, land was also deeded by Joseph and his father and mother to Richard Jenness, lying partly in Rye and partly in North Hampton.

Joseph is believed to have married on March 9, 1767 in Rye, Sarah Willey, born on December 15, 1741 in Dover, Province of New Hampshire. There is some speculation that Sarah Willey may have married another Joseph Palmer, born about 1749, son of Jonathan Palmer of North Hampton as stated by some descendants. However, the New Hampshire Vital Records states that a Joseph Palmer, born on May 8, 1740 in North Hampton or Rye, married Sarah Willey on March 9, 1767 in Rye and she was born on December 15, 1741 in Dover. At the present time, it would be safe to presume that the New Hampshire Vital Records are correct.

Joseph went to Leavitt's Town, New Hampshire about 1769 with his father and was head of household there in 1770. Joseph and his father took the oath of allegiance at Leavitt's Town in 1776. Although he took the oath of allegiance, there is no record of military service in the Revolutionary War for Joseph.

In March 1778, Joseph, his father William and William, Jr. petitioned for a road from Leavitt's Town to Wakefield. (Leavitt's Town was later incorporated as Effingham on August 18, 1778). On June 2, 1784, Joseph Palmer and other inhabitants of Effingham petitioned for repairs to the road from Effingham to Wakefield and Dover. On June 1, 1786, Joseph and other inhabitants of Effingham again petitioned for repairs to the same road requesting the use of previous taxes which were not used for the repairs of the road.

Joseph is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Effingham, Strafford County, New Hampshire with one male over 16 beside himself, one male under 16 and two females.

Joseph died in 1824 in Effingham and his widow, Sarah, died in 1827 also in Effingham. There is no record of any will or administration of the estate of Joseph or his wife.

Children born in Leavitt's Town:

VII-19-20 i Stephen, b. ca. 1772, d. 1813. iii Sarah, b. ca. 1777; m. 11 Nov 1797, John Simpson of Effingham.

Children born in Effingham:

iv Deborah, b. ca. 1780; m. 20 Jan 1801, Samuel Nelson of Effingham.
VII-10-48 ii Joseph, b. ca. 1783, d. ca. Jun 1850.
v Mary, m. Erastus Freeman, M.D. Dr. Freeman practiced in Effingham from 1805 to 1807. One day he left home on horseback and was never heard of again.

NOTE: There is reason to believe that Joseph may have had other children.

Born about 1767 in Dunbarton, Province of New Hampshire. He married about 1791 probably in Dunbarton, Abigail ( ), born about 1769.

The first record of Simeon is a deed dated October 11, 1790 when Caleb Stark of Dunbarton, deeded to Simeon Palmer of Dunbarton, land in that town, bounded by the land of Stephen Palmer. There were other land transactions of Simeon Palmer of Dunbarton, the last one being on July 30, 1805. One deed dated July 7, 1803 was by Simeon and his wife Abigail.

Simeon is listed in the 1800 Federal Census in Dunbarton living with his wife, Abigail, four males under 10 and 2 females under 10. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Dunbarton, living with his wife, Abigail, four sons and two daughters. He is also listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Dunbarton, living with his wife, one male, age 10-16, two males, ages 16-26, one female, age 10-16, one female, age 16-26 and one female, age 26-45. The two males, ages 16-26 and Simeon are listed as being engaged in agriculture.

About 1820, after some time planning to move west with his family and sons, Simeon Palmer and his family removed to Unadilla, Otsego County, New York to join his sons Simeon and Paul who had journeyed there the previous year to seek a new home. He purchased a farm near the center of town which years later was owned by Edgar DeForest in 1927. Simeon is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Unadilla, living with his wife, Abigail, and his youngest son Levi. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Unadilla, living with his wife Abigail.

Simeon, age 83, is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Unadilla living with his son Levi Palmer and his family. He died on January 21, 1853 in Unadilla Center. His wife Abigail is believed to have died before 1850 because she is not listed in the 1850 Federal Census record.

Their ages do not coincide with other records and subsequently further research is required to determine their relationship to this family. If they are the daughters of Simeon Palmer, then their ages are incorrect as stated on the census record. Also a Betsey Palmer, age 77, is listed in the 1860 Federal Census at Unadilla, living with Stephen Palmer and his family. She is listed as being born in New Hampshire.

VI-19-12 Simon PALMER (Jonathan,V-10-12 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born in 1761 in North Hampton, Province of New Hampshire. About 1763 when Simon was a young child, he went with his parents to Chester, New Hampshire in that section which later became the town of Raymond. Most of his childhood years were spent in Raymond until he went with his older brothers Jeremiah, John, James and Jonathan to Warner, New Hampshire in 1774.

In July 1777, he was listed on the pay roll of Captain Ebenezer Webster's Company in Colonel George Reed's, Regiment in General John Stark's Brigade, raised out of the Regiment of New Hampshire Militia to join the Northern Continental Army at Bennington and Stillwater from July 20 to September 20, 1777. He was in the battle of Bennington with his brother John.

Simon served in different detachments during his three year service and at one time was with the Artillery at Springfield. He was listed on the pay roll of Captain Henry Butler's Company in Colonel Thomas Bartlett's Regiment of Militia raised by the State of New Hampshire for the defense of West Point. He and his brother John left Warner on July 4, 1780 for West Point and served for two months as a Ranger on scouting duty until his discharge on October 25, 1780.

Some time after the Revolutionary War Simon removed to Maine to live with his brothers Samuel and Jonathan. He married first on December 13, 1785 in Pownalboro, Cumberland County, Maine, Mary Lovering. Mary died probably sometime after May 1794 and before October 1796. A record of her death can not be found. Simon is listed in the 1790 Federal Census in Balltown, Lincoln County, Maine with three males under 16 and one female. His marriage intentions to Miss Phebe Barnes of Pownalboro was recorded in Pownalboro on October 23, 1796. He married second on December 15, 1796 in Pownalboro, Lincoln County, Maine, Phebe Barnes, born in 1776. Pownalboro was later known as Wiscasset. He is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Malta, Kennebec County, Maine, living with his wife Phebe, one male under 10, one male, age 10-16, three females under 10 and one female, age 10-16. It appears that the children of his first wife are not listed in the 1810 Census.

On November 22, 1810, Simon Palmer of Malta, yeoman, was granted 130 acres in Lot 72 in Malta on the west side of the Sheepscot River by the Kennebec Proprietors and on December 19, 1810, Simon gave a mortgage on the same land to the proprietors of the Kennebec purchase. On July 28, 1814, Simon and his wife Phebe deeded the same land to Joshua Wingate.

On March 27, 1818, Simon Palmer, from Malta, testified under oath that he enlisted during the Revolutionary War in June 1777, as a private, in Captain Ebenezer Webster's Company, Colonel George Reed's Regiment of New Hampshire for a period of three years. He also made application for a pension, giving his age as 57 years and in 1820 the Pension Board showed his age as 59 years, wife Phebe as 44 years and the following children: Paulina, age 13; Joseph, age 11; Pamelia, age 8; Eliza, age 4; and Simon, age 1. Simon is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Malta, as a farmer, living with his wife Phebe, one male under 10, one male, age 10-16, two females under 10 and two females, ages 10-16. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Windsor, Kennebec County, living with his wife Phebe, one male, age 5-10, one male, age 10-15, one male, age 20-30, one female under 5 and one female, age 10-15. The two youngest children, one male, age 5-10 and one female under 5 are probably grandchildren. He is also listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Windsor, living with his wife Phebe, one male, age 20-30 who is believed to be his son Simon Row, one male, age 15-20 and one female, age 10-15. The latter are believed to be grandchildren of Simon. Simon is also listed as a pensioner of the Revolutionary War at age 79.

Simon died April 26, 1842 at Windsor. His widow Phebe applied for a pension on February 26, 1849, age being 72 years while living with her son Joseph at Windsor. She is listed in the 1850 Federal Census at Windsor, living with her son Joseph. Phebe is not listed in the 1860 Federal Census and it is presumed that she may have died before 1860. No record of her death has been found. The town of Windsor was formerly called Malta.

Simon Palmer's Pension Application

March 27, 1818

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

I Simon Palmer, aged fifty seven years, a citizen of the U. States born in North Hampton in New Hampshire, now resident in Malta in the District of Maine, upon oath testify and declare that in June 1777 I enlisted as a private soldier in the war of the revolution against the common enemy upon the continental establishment for the period of three years in Capt. Ebenezer Webster's company and Col. Reed's regiment New Hampshire unit. This period I fully served out and took my honorable Discharge from the service at West Point in October 1780. My discharge I have since lost and it is not now to my knowledge in existence. I was two months employed in the ranging service scouting. I was employed at and near West Point from the spring of 1779 until my discharge in October 1780. The reason why I was not discharged when my time was out, was on account of the treason of Arnold, by reason of which I and others were detained after terms expired. Not knowing my officers or soldiers living in the District of Maine with whom I served, I am unable to furnish other or further evidence of my service.

From my reduced circumstances, I need the assistance of my country for support. And I do hereby relinquish all my claims to every pension heretofore allowed me by the laws of the U. States, if any, but I am not to my knowledge been on any pension list whatever. I request that I may be placed upon the pension list for the District of Maine.

Born on July 17, 1786 in Loudon, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He went to Dover, Strafford County, New Hampshire before marriage and continued to reside there the rest of his life. His brother Stephen Perkins Palmer accompanied him and they both became masons by trade. In October 1813, William offered his services in Dover, to build, at the shortest notice, "Russian Stoves, on a new and improved plan, with or without fireplaces." William and his brother Stephen, both of Dover, masons, alias bricklayers, were deeded land in Loudon by Jonathan Rollins of Loudon on March 26, 1827. The barrel churn gradually replaced the earlier plunger variety and was commonly called tumbling churns because of their end-over-end motion.

He married about 1829 in Hampton, Betsey Barker, born on February 5, 1808 in Hampton, daughter of Samuel Barker and Dolly Blake of Hampton. He is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Hampton, living with his son Aaron and daughter Hannah in the household of his brother Jonathan and his family. He had the distinction of participating in the Carnival parade of the 8th annual Hampton Beach Carnival in September, 1922. He rode in an automobile as the oldest resident of Hampton holding an eleven day old baby in his arms as the youngest resident. As a young man, Aaron made a number of trips to the Magdelen Islands and Labrador on the fishing schooner Ellen from Newburyport. Aaron Palmer was a tall and sparely built man with thick hair, not yet wholly gray at the age of 93. Aaron often spoke of the time when Place Cove on the North Shore was lined with fish houses and forty wherries, twenty dories and over a hundred men who followed off-shore fishing in the winter. He also mentioned casually when he was a boy, remembering eight oxen teams that came down from Vermont each winter with butter, cheese and wool to barter for fish which were laid out to freeze solid and then peddled by the Vermonters on their homeward trek. A lengthy article appeared in the Sunday Union Leader Newspaper on January 28, 1923 about Aaron T. Palmer. He apparently had fallen on the ice at home and severely fractured his shoulder. On January 25th, despite his injury, he and his nephew traveled 12 miles on the slow ride by train to Portsmouth, NH, where he was admitted to the hospital. He smoked a clay pipe most of his life with the exception of his first cigarette during the train ride to Portsmouth. He died on 28 Feb 1923 in the Portsmouth Hospital as a result of his injuries.

VII-1-9 Abner PALMER (James,[VI-10-9] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born about 1776 in Warner, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. He married on December 21, 1799, Mary H. ( ), born about 1779. Her surname is not known. It is believed that Abner may have lived in Vermont after marriage for a period of time, considering that the 1850 and 1860 census records state that his son, Joseph F. Palmer, was born in Vermont.

Abner is found in Coventry, Grafton County, New Hampshire in 1818 and it is believed that he probably married there and also resided there for most of his life. The New Hampshire Vital Records for Coventry and Plymouth list five children being born there, but reported from the town of Benton, Grafton County. It is believed that these children belong to Abner Palmer, considering that he was residing in the area during this time. Coventry was the former name of present day Benton and it is located approximately 6 miles east of the Vermont state line. The name change occured between 1840 and 1850.

Abner is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Bath, Grafton County, living with his wife, age 50-60 and one male, age 20-30, who is believed to be a son, James T. Palmer. It appears that one of their children, perhaps Mary H., was married and living with her husband and five children in the household of her parents in 1840. (Research pending)

The death dates of Abner and his wife are unavailable at this time.

VII-3-13 Clara PALMER (Jacob,[VI-10-1] Jacob,[5] Christopher,[4] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on April 18, 1812 in Machiasport, Washington County, Maine. She married about 1837, probably in Machiasport, Captain Joseph Hooper of Tennants Harbor, Knox County, Maine, born about 1812.

Capt. Hooper was a sea captain of Machiasport and was the master of numerous schooners from 1842 to 1855. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Machiasport, as a sea captain, living with his wife Clarissa and six children, Laura H., Hannah, William T., Susan A., George W. and Eunice E. Hooper.

About 1854, Capt. Hooper sailed to Boston in the early fall, taking Hannah, his daughter along for company. On the return trip home from Boston, they ran into a violent storm and the ship was blown off course and became disabled. They were off the coast of Nova Scotia and had to abandon ship in a lifeboat. Soon after they left the ship, it capsized. They were in the lifeboat all night and the next morning they landed at a small fishing village where they were fed and given dry clothing. They had to stay there for awhile until another ship docked there and took them to a port near Machiasport. They then traveled by stage to East Machias where they hired a horse and sleigh to bring them home to Machiasport. In the meantime their ship was found or what was left of it and it was presumed that all hands on board were lost at sea. On Christmas Eve, Capt. Hooper and his daughter, Hannah were finally safe at home.

Clara is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Machiasport, living with her children, Laura, Thomas, Susan, George W. and Eunice Hooper. Thomas is listed as a sailor, age 18.

Capt. Joseph Hooper died probably before 1860 as he was not listed in the 1860 Census with his wife and children. Clara died about 1892 in Machiasport.

ii Mary Hannah, b. 1 Dec 1840; m. Capt. James Peterson, a widower with no children. His first wife, Margaret, died of yellow fever in a foreign port. Before she died, she extracted a promise from her husband that she not be buried there, but to bring her home to Machiasport for burial. The law in those days required dead bodies to be buried at once, but James resorted to strategy. He confided in his crew, swearing them to secrecy about the death. At midnight they opened a cask of rum and placed her body in it, fastened the head of the cask on again, and so his wife came home to be buried in the church yard.

A Nathaniel Vittum is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Sandwich, living with his wife and three children. However, the age bracket of he, his wife and children do not coincide with the actual ages of our Nathaniel Vittum and his family. Nathaniel is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Sandwich, living with his wife, age 30-40, one male under 5, one male, age 10-15 and one female, age 15-20.

They remained on the home farm and cared for his father and mother as long as either were living. He prospered and was able to retire from active work and spend many years in peaceful old age. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Canton, as a farmer, living with his wife Clarissa and three children, Sarah J., Daniel W. and Martin V. Vittum. VII-5-2 Edwin Caverhill PALMER (Enoch,[VI-5-4] Jacob,[5] Christopher,[4] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on May 16, 1848 in Norwich, Oxford County, Canada West. (Ontario) He married first on March 27, 1872 in Ontario, Elizabeth G. Ruttan. born in December 1851 in Norwich, daughter of William and Hannah Ruttan. She died on April 9, 1884 in Norwich, age 32 years, 4 months, as a result of complications after childbirth and is buried in the Norwich Cemetery.

Edwin was a farmer residing on Lots 6 and 7, Concession 11 in Norwich Township before moving into Norwich Village about 1877. He was involved in an early partnership with Herman Jefferson Dager as Stave and Heading manufacturers, but this partnership was dissolved on July 9, 1877. He was later in partnership with his brother, Thomas Jordan Palmer. They had an oatmeal and flour mill in a brick building factory on Tidey Street. Jordan supervised these mills. After three years of establishing their mills, they were doing approximately half of the business being done in the village. Henry S. Moore also had an interest in the mills. Edwin was also involved in the first partnership for the processing of cider along with Solomon Allen and Herman Jefferson Dager. The firm was formed on September 26, 1881 under the name of Allen, Dager & Palmer, but was later dissolved on April 27, 1883.

The south part of Norwich Village was developed by Edwin C. Palmer and for several years was called Palmertown. An article in the Gazette of March 25, 1886 states that Palmertown was a swamp lot in 1876 but because of the foresight of Mr. Palmer, it became a place of beauty.

He married second on February 17, 1887 in Norwich, Isabelle Barr, born on August 28, 1861 in Norwich, daughter of James A. Barr and Beatrice Eddy of Scotland. About 1887, Edwin left Norwich for Hamilton, Ontario, but it appears that he became a resident of Altamont in Deuel County, South Dakota, where he farmed 640 acres. He and Isabelle later removed to the Dunes in the lower south west part of Michigan near Chicago, to manage a hog, cattle and sheep ranch. He also raised livestock for the Chicago Packing House. He later went to Detroit, Michigan and was involved in a partnership with another person owning a stove factory from about 1904 to 1910. After his retirement, he moved back to his home town in Norwich.

After his retirement, he visited his children and while visiting his son Frederick in Denver, he died on September 16, 1926 in Denver, Colorado. He is buried in the Fairmount Cemetery in Denver. His widow, Isabelle, died on April 12, 1935 in Beaver Dam, Dodge County, Wisconsin and is buried in the Oakwood Cemetery in Beaver Dam.

VII-9-2 Isaac PALMER (John,VI-10-22 Jonathan,5 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher 2, William 1)

Born on March 17, 1781 in Warner, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. Isaac probably lived in Kearsarge Gore and Warner, Hillsboro County, during the early part of his life. He married about 1805 probably in Kearsarge Gore, Mary Haskell, born about 1787 in New Hampshire.

On December 10, 1808, Isaac Palmer, husbandman, of Kearsarge Gore, near Warner, was deeded land in Sutton and gave a mortgage on the same land. On February 16, 1814, a list of voters of Kearsarge Gore was made up by the selectmen which included Isaac Palmer's name. On March 9, 1814, at the annual town meeting in Warner, Isaac was chosen as a selectman along with Isaac Annis and Robert Savory. On November 10, 1814, Isaac Palmer and Robert Savory, selectmen of Kearsarge Gore, and Samuel Kimball and Obadiah Clough, selectmen of Wilmot, established or confirmed the boundary line between the two communities. They left it precisely as it stands in the charter of Wilmot of 1807.

Isaac and his family are believed to have removed to Franklin County, New York before 1820 after a short stay in Lower Canada. It was in Franklin County where their sixth child, Truman Dixon Palmer was born. He later removed to Conneaut Township, Ashtabula County, Ohio, close to Lake Erie and the Pennsylvania state line sometime before 1837 where his daughter Elizabeth married John Colton. It is believed he settled on a farm near Clark Corners in Ashtabula County near the Pennsylvania line.

Isaac is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Conneaut Township, Erie County, Pennsylvania with his wife Mary, son Isaac Jr. and daughter Mary Ann Palmer. Also listed in the same census is Truman D. Palmer and his family living adjacent to Isaac.

VII-10-27 John Burpee PALMER (Enoch,[VI-5-4] Jacob,[5] Christopher,[4] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on January 9, 1828 in Sheffield, Sunbury County, New Brunswick, Canada. When he was 17 years old, he went with his father to Canada West in 1845 to Norwich Township, Oxford County (Ontario). In 1850, he and his brother, Enoch, started their trek to California in hopes of discovering gold. At one of the jump-off locations in Missouri, they discovered they didn't have enough money for a team and wagon and supplies. They found a wagon train waiting to depart for California without a guide. John took the job of guiding the train to California and successfully arrived in California by following the wagon wheel ruts from previous wagons. He was no fool! The trail was known as the Oregon Trail.

After two years of prospecting in California, he found enough gold to pay for passage on a sailing ship to Australia where there had been gold discoveries in the Northwest Territory. On July 29, 1852, he left his brother and co-workers for San Francisco and boarded a sailing ship for Australia. His brother, Enoch, returned to Canada about March 1853. John found a partner in Australia and the two of them became engaged in mining and merchandising until 1856. A story about John and his partner has been passed on down to the present generation. It seems that one day when John was digging in a deep hole trying to follow the traces of gold to a vein while his partner was above hauling up buckets of dirt, they began to quarrel and shout at each other. John climbed out to settle things with his partner and as they were arguing or perhaps scuffling, the hole suddenly collapsed on itself. Luck was with John. He had just narrowly escaped being buried alive. After finding enough gold, they decided to purchase as many candles as possible until they had a monopoly on most of the candles available in Australia. They, of course, raised the price of candles and then control of candles became stronger. After a quarrel one day, John insisted on selling the candles at the regular price but his partner wanted to wait until people became desperate and were willing to pay a higher price. The quarrel ended with John selling his share to his partner. Not long after, a ship arrived from England with a cargo that included enough candles to break the monopoly. After Australia, he visited India, Egypt and England before returning home to Canada during the latter part of 1856.

He married on July 7, 1858, probably in Norwich, Harriet Jane Wagoner, born in December 1837 in Canada West (Ontario), Canada. She was a resident of Dereham Township in Oxford County at the time of marriage. Harriet was qualified as a "Second Class Teacher" on March 21, 1855 and March 19, 1856 to teach a Common School for the County of Oxford. Her parents were born in New York. On October 13, 1858, thru the Bank of Australasa in Melbourne, Australia, John received a check of Eighty pounds, four shillings. John is listed in the 1861 Census in District 3, North Norwich Township, as a yeoman, living with his wife Harriet J., age 24 and children, Charles W., age 2 and Herbert Palmer, age 1. Also listed in the same household is Mary Underhill, age 18, who is a niece. She is the daughter of William and Phebe (Palmer) Underhill. Also listed is Anna Mahon, age 19, born in Ireland. On March 25, 1862, John B. Palmer, yeoman, of the Township of North Norwich, South Riding of the County of Oxford, Province of Canada West, purchased from Alfred Gillam, one hundred acres of land, more or less, part of lot number eight in the Second Concession of the Township of Norwich. He later removing to St. Marysville Township, Miami County, Kansas on October 19, 1869.

John is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in St. Marysville Township, Miami County, Kansas, as a farmer, living with his wife Harriet J., age 32 and children, Willard, age 11, Herbert, age 9, Kate, age 7, Hattie, age 6, Ella, age 3 and Johnnie Palmer, age 1. He is also listed in the 1900 Federal Census in Spring Hill City, Johnson County, Kansas, as a retired farmer, living with his wife Harriet, age 62 and daughter, Geneva Palmer, age 22. According to the 1900 Census Record, Harriet J. Palmer was the mother of nine children, all of whom were still living in 1900.

On November 6, 1876 at the Miami County Court House in Paola, Kansas, John filed his intention to become a citizen of the United States. On March 28, 1889, he received his naturalization certificate as an American citizen. John is listed in the 1878 Miami County records as owning 160 acres located in the SE 1/4 of Section 25, Township 15 South, Range 23 East of the 6th Principal Meridian. The property is approximately two miles south east of the town of Spring Hill, Johnson County. John was a faithful and consistent member of the Presbyterian Church for about 45 years before his death.

John died on February 27, 1910 in Spring Hill City, Johnson County. Harriet, age 72 is listed in the 1910 Federal Census in Spring Hill City, as a widow, living alone. According to the 1910 Census Record, she was the mother of nine children, eight of whom were still living in 1910. She died in 1916. VII-10-39 Jonathan PALMER (Joseph,[VI-10-33] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[2] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born about 1770, probably in Epping, Rockingham County, Province of New Hampshire. He went with his parents to Dorchester, Grafton County about 1782. He is believed to have married about 1793 in Dorchester, Dolly Colby, born about 1776, probably in New Hampshire.

Jonathan does not appear in the 1800 and 1810 Federal Census Records in Dorchester. However, there is a Jonathan Palmer listed in Concord, Grafton County during the 1800 and 1810 Census. It is not certain if this Jonathan Palmer of Concord is our Jonathan.

Our Jonathan is believed to be the Jonathan Palmer of Dorchester, husbandman, who was deeded land in Dorchester on August 28, 1811 by Joseph Palmer of Dorchester, joiner, who is probably his father.

Unfortunately the complete Federal Census of 1820 for Grafton County is missing but there is a record of a Polly Parmer, listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Corinna, Somerset County, Maine. She is listed as head of household, living with three males under 10, one male, age 10-16, one male, age 16-26, one female under 10 and one female, age 10-16. In view of the fact that two of her sons and one daughter were residing in Corinna as early as 1828, may explain her presence there in 1820. It is conceivable that Jonathan and his wife may have been temporarily separated or divorced before 1820.

Jonathan wrote a letter, dated April 20, 1826 from Dorchester, to his brother, Samuel and sister-in-law Sarah, informing them of the death of their mother on April 4, 1826. He also mentioned that brother John attended the funeral and brother Joseph had not been heard from for awhile.

No further record of Dolly Palmer can be found at this time. She is not listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Corinna. The names "Dolly" and "Polly" are interchangeable nicknames for Mary. A Jonathan Palmer is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Dorchester, age 68, as a farmer, living in the household of Samuel P. Lillis and his family. Also listed in the same household is Betsey Lillis, mother of Samuel P. Lillis and also believed to be a sister of Jonathan Palmer. (His age of 68 is questionable and probably should read 78) (see VII-5-7)

The children of Jonathan and Dolly Palmer are listed in the New Hampshire Vital Records as being born in Lisbon, Grafton County. However, they are believed to have been born in Dorchester and later entered on the Lisbon records after Jonathan moved to Lisbon after 1813.

Jonathan is believed to have died before 1860.

Farm Wagon

Annes Squam Sept 13th 1846

Dear Brother

It is my painful duty to inform you of the loss of Levi B Palmer for the information of his friends. We beat out of Newburyport on Sunday with the wind South - stood off on the wind till 3 O. clock, then took in main sail and flying jib and hove to to wear to Eastward -

Palmer Lowell & Jacob Chase were in my watch, and as the weather was moderate I turned in; but previously telling Chase to wear round when Squam bright bore S. West.

It was ½ before 10. when Chase put the helm up. Lowell & Palmer were sitting on the windlass when the Schooner got before the wind. Lowell got up and came & took hold of the fore sheet. Palmer got up, came along to the leward and took hold some part of the sheet: just at that time the fore sail fetched a slat, the block on deck capsized and parted the mousing; the boom swung out against the shroud & carried Palmer with it.

Chase thought he struck the rail, and was thrown a considerable distance - Lowell called all hands.

We dropped the boat, Chase, Lowell & Harry sprang in, and quickly rowed back in our wake - We wore round to cross the wake. They had been gone ½ hour it being dark & hearing nothing of the boat, we put up a light to guide them back. They came but saw or heard nothing of Palmer. It blew about a 8 knot breeze. We stood into the Bay in the morning &. and spoke a Pilot. She waited for me to write a few lines to Capt Baley, saying that if he thought necessary he might send a man to Squam I wish to have you inform his parents of the particulars of the accident -

Palmer was not seen after he struck the rail & we think he was so badly hurt that he immediately sunk -

Yours Truly C. H. S

VII-10-45 Rev. Joseph PALMER, Jr. (Joseph,[VI-10-33] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on June 18, 1774 at North River, Epping, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He went with his parents to Dorchester, Grafton County, New Hampshire about 1782. About 1792 he felt the "calling" to preach, but struggled with his intuition for some time to the call of God. The local preacher worked with him and on April 20, 1794 at the age of twenty, Joseph preached for the first time. After preaching in his home and neighboring towns, Joseph decided to travel and preach as an itinerant preacher in the habitable parts of Vermont. During his trip he preached in the western part of New Hampshire at Alexandria, New Chester and Grafton with some success before entering Vermont. While at Norwich, Windsor County, Vermont, he preached day and night for two weeks where he converted about forty persons. He preached in other towns for awhile before returning to Norwich where he helped establish a Baptist Church. He remained in Norwich for about three years and later joined a church in Sharon, Windsor County where he was later ordained as a Baptist Minister on December 18, 1799.

On June 4, 1800 he left Vermont for the Kennebec country in Maine. For the next year during his travels he kept a journal, the original of which, is currently in the possession of his third great granddaughter, Linda Palmer of Plymouth, California. As he traveled to Maine he preached in various towns of New Hampshire, preaching fifty nine sermons from June 4th to August 22nd. On September 1st he entered Maine where he preached in numerous towns before establishing churches in Cornville and Harmony in Kennebec County. By June 4, 1801, he had recorded in his journal that he had preached 210 times, baptized 81 persons and received by gifts or contributions, $93.00.

He married on August 30, 1801, probably in Cornville, Betsey Smith, born on February 17, 1773 in Newmarket, Rockingham County, daughter of Joseph Smith and Esther Rundlett. He was pastor of the Cornville Baptist Church until about 1807 when he was granted land on February 9, 1807 in Township 4, Range 3 north of Waldo Patent in Sidney, Kennebec County. The land was granted to him by Benjamin Conner of Exeter, New Hampshire. From 1807 to 1813, he was pastor of the Baptist Church in Sidney. On October 19, 1809, Joseph Palmer of Sidney, "preacher of the Gospel," was deeded land in Sidney by Timothy Reynolds, being the northerly half of Lot 44.

Joseph is listed in the 1810 Federal Census in Sidney, living with his wife, age 26-45, three males under 10 and one female under 10. On February 25, 1813, Joseph Palmer and his wife Betsey, of Sidney, "preacher of the Gospel," deeded to Timothy Reynolds, Jr. of Sidney, land in that town. In 1814 he removed to New Sharon, Kennebec County. On October 24, 1814, Joseph Palmer, Jr. of New Sharon, was deeded land by Ebenezer S. and Abigail Hoyt of Grafton, New Hampshire, part of Lot 9 in New Sharon. On the same date, Joseph Palmer, Jr., "gentleman," gave a mortgage to the Hoyt's. He later removed to Sumner, Oxford County, Maine in March 1817. On April 5, 1817 he became the pastor of the Baptist Church in Sumner and remained as such until June 15, 1830 and continued to support the church until April 30, 1831. He purchased a farm which was located on the river road about one and one half miles north of East Sumner village. On March 11, 1818, Joseph Palmer, Jr. of Sumner, "gentleman," deeded to Ebenezer S. and Abigail Hoyt the same land in New Sharon that he had purchased on October 24, 1814.

Joseph is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Sumner, living with his wife, age over 45, two males under 10, two males, ages 10-16, one male, age 16-18 and one female, age 10-16. Joseph mentioned in a letter, dated March 21, 1825, to his brother Samuel, that he purchased 150 acres of land for $125. which was adjoining his property. The land was purchased for his two sons, Joseph and Samuel, from a man in Concord. In 1831, he sold his property to two of his sons, Samuel and Ira, before removing to Montville, Waldo County, Maine where he was pastor of the Baptist Church until 1835. According to a letter dated June 18, 1836, Rev. Palmer mentioned to his brother, Samuel, that he was living with his son Ambrose in Winslow, Kennebec County, Maine. From 1835 to 1840 he preached at various churches including Winslow. He preached on occasions about the abolition of slavery and stated that he was an abolitionist. In his later years, he was known as Elder Joseph Palmer.

Elder Palmer died on March 28, 1840 in Winslow, aged 66 years and is buried in the McClintook Cemetery in Winslow. According to a letter written by the widow, Betsey Palmer, dated in April 1840, she mentions the last days of her husband, Elder Joseph Palmer. It appears that while he and his wife were riding out in a wagon on Friday, March 21st, he suddenly felt something give way in his side and he became very lame. They returned home so he could rest and on Saturday and Sunday he sat up most of the time. On Monday he got up but on Tuesday he began to fail very fast. On Friday, March 28th at 5 o'clock in the morning, he died in the presence of his wife and sons Joseph, Ambrose and Arnold. According to a letter written by Ambrose, dated April 19, 1840 to his uncle in Columbia, Ohio, he mentions the death of his father and the final moments before he died. Elder Joseph raised his eyes towards heaven as if he saw somebody, then pointed his finger up and smiled. He died without a struggle or groan.

His widow, Betsey, age 77, is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Winslow, living with her son, Ambrose and his family. She is also listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Winslow, age 87, living with her son Ambrose and his family.

He married first, on May 31, 1803 in Ossipee, Strafford County, Hannah Davis, born about 1780, probably in Ossipee or Effingham. VII-13-21 Moses Greenleaf PALMER (John,[VI-10-25] William,[5] Joseph,[4] Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on September 19, 1822 in Norridgewock, Somerset County, Maine. He went with his parents to Athens, Somerset County in 1827. About 1829, he moved again with his parents to Cornville, Somerset County. He was educated in the district schools and in the Bloomfield Academy.

At age seventeen, he joined the Maine militiamen and participated in the Aroostook War, which took place from February to May 1839. He was assigned to Fort Fairfield in Somerset County.

Moses married on February 3, 1847 in Monmouth, Kennebec County, Maine, Martha Jane Ayer, born on August 3, 1823 in Monmouth, daughter of Rev. Philip Ayer and Mary Moody of Monmouth. In 1848, he went with his brother, Sumner C., to Foxboro, Norfolk County, Massachusetts where they established a straw bonnet and hat factory. Moses invented a plaster of Paris block instead of the handmade wooden block. It soon became universally accepted by numerous manufacturers, who saw at once that the reduced cost of the new blocks would greatly increase their profits. The sale of Palmer bonnet and hat blocks became so extensive that a ton of calcined plaster was consumed daily in producing a sufficient number to supply the demand.

Moses is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Foxboro, as a manufacturer of bonnet blocks, living with his wife Martha. Also listed in the same household is his brother, Sumner and his wife Abby, and also Harriet Folsom, age 18 and Sophia Smith, age 27. After the death of his brother, Sumner, in December 1853, Moses returned to Maine in 1854 and resided in Portland with his wife. He opened the first wholesale millinery store ever established in the State of Maine, and succeeded in building up an extensive and profitable trade, from which he retired in 1861. He is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Portland, as a dealer in straw goods, living with his wife Martha J. and son Fremont M. Palmer.

In 1867, he disapproved the poet's statement that "It's all in the bonnet, and nothing in the shoe", and with that statement, he established a flourishing retail shoe house, which was conducted for many years under the firm name of the Palmer Shoe Company. He is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Portland, as a boot and shoe dealer, living with his wife Martha J. and children, Fremont M., George M. and Harry R. Palmer. In 1872, he was elected Treasurer of the Old Orchard Camp Meeting Association, a position he held for numerous years. He is listed in the 1880 Federal Census, residing at 171 Oxford Street in Portland, as a retail shoe dealer, living with his wife Martha and sons Fremont M., age 24, as a clerk in the shoe store and George M., age 19, as a clerk in dry goods.

Besides his mercantile ventures, inventions and manufactures, Moses was deeply interested in public enterprises. He was a charter member of the first horse railway company in Portland, of which corporation he was Treasurer, and in the construction and operation of which he was most active. While he was holding the position of Treasurer of the new road, the directors became dissatisfied, and made complaint of what they termed his extravagant methods. The charges against him were that he was using an unnecessary amount of labor, a conductor and driver being considered more than was needed for one car, and the second horse a redundant force. A new manager was therefore appointed, and the road was conducted on a less expensive plan. The "superfluous" man and horse were discharged; and the "bob-tail" car, as it was called, was inaugurated in Portland. Three years later, however, Moses had the satisfaction of seeing his own previously abandoned methods again in operation, which became thoroughly successful.

Moses Palmer retired from active life in 1889, however, he displayed his usual business acumen in 1895, when he purchased a large portion of stock of the Second National Bank in Portland, which was at that time in a precarious situation and bad repute. The stock was eventually capitalized at one hundred thousand dollars; and at the next annual meeting a new Board of Directors was elected, by whose skillful management financial prosperity was restored, and the business was closed out to the First National Bank at a good profit. It was also through his instrumentality that the stock of the Maine Central Railroad, which was being sold at the low rate of two dollars and seventy-five cents per share, was elevated to its proper value. A new board, which included himself, was formed by his influence; and the improvement made by the new management continued steadily. Moses was the first to advocate and advise the introduction of electric light into Portland.

He was a member of the Masons, Portland Lodge, A.F. & A.M. and was the last surviving member of the Board of Trustees who held office during the election of the Chestnut Street Methodist Episcopal Church edifice, upon the Building Committee of which he also served.

Moses died on December 27, 1898 in Portland. His will was probated on February 7, 1899 in which he mentioned his wife and only son, George Melvin Palmer. (Cumberland County Probate Court Record # 658) His widow, Martha, died on September 27, 1913 in Portland. The will of Martha J. Palmer is dated September 12, 1912 and was probated on November 4, 1913 in which she mentioned her grand-daughter, Florence P. Dunn and Annie F. Palmer, widow of her deceased son, George M. Palmer. William J. Knowles was appointed as executor of her will.

VII-19-12 Simeon PALMER (Simeon,[VI-19-11] Stephen,[5] Stephen,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William[1])

Born on July 8, 1792 in Dunbarton, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. As a young man, he was taken into the Stark family in Concord, New Hampshire where he came to be highly respected and beloved, and was given training and educational advantages.

During the War of 1812, General John Stark, of Revolutionary War fame, was called away to the front. As the owner of numerous cotton mills in New Hampshire, he delegated his son as superintendent of the mills. The son attending the mills was stricken and died. General Stark put Simeon Palmer in charge as superintendent and also wished to adopt the young man as his son.

During the time he was superintendent, he often passed through the work rooms finely dressed, even to a high silk hat and cane. It was during one of his trips through the mill that he noticed the slight, pretty maiden of French descent, Mary "Polly" Flanders, and even then was having thoughts of pioneering in the far west, New York state. It was told that General Starks sister became captivated with Simeon, but no attentions of her's could take his eyes off that dainty little Polly in the mills. One evening as Simeon returned to the house, a lady in rustling silk skirts brushed past him and as she stepped from the porch on her way out, embraced him. It was dark; neither spoke, but Miss Stark's body was found drowned in the stream that flowed near the house. Love and suicide, even in those olden days!

After winning the affection of Polly, he married her on October 5, 1816, in Weare, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. She was born on February 9, 1796 in New Hampshire. After a quiet wedding ceremony, he took his new bride for a horse back ride to his father's home for a time. During this period, Simeon, his father and brothers discussed and planned to move west. It is believed that Simeon and his brother Paul set out on a journey over the Vermont hills and down through the wilderness of New York State, into Pennsylvania, coming back into Unadilla Township in Otsego County, New York seeking a new home for their families. It is recorded in the Otsego County records that a land deed was issued to Simeon Palmer on April 6, 1819 and on the same date gave a mortgage covering said property. Paul Palmer was a witness to the deed. If these facts are true, there is probable reason to believe that Simeon returned to Dunbarton to pick up his family. Sometime in 1819 he moved his family in a one horse lumber wagon, bringing all their possessions, to their new home in Unadilla. The farm that Simeon selected was called the Ferry farm located west of the center of the town of Unadilla Center at a place called Sand Hill on which was a log house.

Simeon is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Unadilla, as a farmer, living with his wife, age 16-26 and two males under 10. He is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Unadilla , living with his wife,age 20-30, one male under 5, two males, ages 5-10, two males, ages 10-15, one female under 5 and one female, age 5-10. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census at Unadilla, living with his wife, age 40-50, two males under 5, one male, age 10-15, two males, ages 15-20, two males, ages 20-30, two females, ages 5-10, one female, age 10-15 and one female, age 15-20. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Unadilla, as a farmer, living with his wife Polly, age 54 and children, Nancy, age 23, Sally M., age 17, Polly, age 16, Ely, age 15, Franklin, age 12 and Susan M. Palmer, age 9. He is listed in the 1855 New York State Census in Unadilla, as a farmer, living with his wife Polly, age 59 and children, Franklin, age 17 and Susan M. Palmer, age 13. The 1855 Census states that Simeon Palmer was a resident of Unadilla for 36 years. It is therefore evident that he arrived in Unadilla in 1819.

The 1855 New York State Census reveals that Simeon was residing in Unadilla. He was listed as having 96 acres of agriculture land, 76 acres of which was improved. The cash value of his farm was valued at $2,000; Stock valued at $393; Tools and implements valued at $125. His farm land consisted of 20 acres of meadow which yielded 16 tons of hay and 1 bushel of grass seed; 2 acres of spring wheat sown which yielded 25 bushels harvested; 6 acres of oats sown, harvesting 100 bushels; 3 acres of rye sown, harvesting 50 bushels; 2 acres of buckwheat sown, harvesting 41 bushels; 3 acres of corn planted, harvesting 80 bushels; 1 acre of potatoes planted, harvesting 120 bushels. He also planted and harvested 1 bushel of peas. His apple orchard yielded 80 bushels of apples and 2 barrels of cider. His cattle stock consisted of 10 cows, 3 of which were milking cows under one year old. He produced 250 pounds of butter. He also had 3 horses and 13 swine, 10 of which were under 6 months old. He had sheep and was able to produce 22 pounds of wool. He also had a number of poultry.

He is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Unadilla, as a farmer, living with his wife Mary, age 64, Susan, age 17 and Franklin Palmer, age 23 with his wife, Corinda, age 22. About 1860, a defective title made it necessary for Simeon and his family to seek another home. They then moved to the farm owned by his son Franklin Palmer and remained there for many years. During the latter part of his life, Simeon continued to live with his son Franklin. He is also listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Unadilla, age 78, living with his son Franklin and his family.

Polly died on December 11, 1867 in Unadilla and Simeon died on November 3, 1876 also in Unadilla. Both are buried in the Unadilla Center Cemetery.

VII-19-18 Stephen PALMER (Enoch,[VI-5-4] Jacob,[5] Christopher,[4] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on May 19, 1815, in St. John, St. John County, New Brunswick, Canada. He married on April 2, 1840 in New Brunswick, Mary Parent, born on February 27, 1816 in New Brunswick.

It appears that Stephen did not go to Canada West with his father and step-mother in 1847, but did go about 1848. The 1851 Census Record states that his children were born in New Brunswick. He is listed in the 1851 Census in District 1, Brantford Township, Brant County, Canada West, as a farmer, living with his wife Mary and children, Robert, age 11, James S., age 9, Marjory, age 6 and Benson Palmer, age 3. Also listed in the same household is Apthia (Apphia Adele) Palmer, age 23, who is a sister of Stephen. In 1852, Stephen purchased a farm near Burford. He is listed in the 1861 Census in District 3, Brantford Township, as a farmer, living with his wife Mary and children, Robert N., age 18, as a laborer, James, age 17, Marjory, age 16, Benson, age 12 and Elgin Palmer, age 8. He is also listed in the 1871 Census in Division 2, West Brantford Township, South Brant County, as a farmer, living with his wife Mary and children, Benson, age 22, Margia, age 24 and Elgin Palmer, age 19. He is believed to have resided in the Brantford area the rest of his life.

Stephen died on April 10, 1874, aged 58 years, 10 months, 22 days in Brantford. His widow, Mary, died on November 26, 1890, aged 74 years, 9 months. Both are buried in the Norwich Cemetery in Norwich, Oxford County, Ontario.

i Robert Newton, b. 30 Nov 1841. He attended the Starkey Seminary in NY in 1858 for about one year and then attended the Antioch College in Yellow Springs, OH. He graduated from Toronto University, Canada with a medical degree and was determined to be a medical missionary in South America. On August 23, 1869, he left New York City on a sailing ship bound for Montevideo, Uruguay by way of St. Thomas in the West Indies. During the trip, the ship collided with another vessel about 17 miles from Sandy Hook. The ship was damaged and was forced to return to New York to be refitted before starting again. The ship also encountered a hurricane on the 15th & 16th of September about 600 miles from St. Thomas. He finally arrived at St. Thomas on September 25, 1869. During his stay in St. Thomas, he had an attack of yellow fever and was hospitalized for about one week. He was still in St. Thomas on November 14, 1869 and was expected to arrive in Montevideo in about two or three months. His parents never heard from him again and he is presumed to have died in that region about 10 Apr 1874.

Born on January 31, 1804 in Buxton, York County, Maine. He married about 1830, probably in Maine, Jane C. ( ), born about 1805 in Topsham, Sagadahoc County, Maine. He removed to Albany, Strafford County, New Hampshire after marriage and remained there with his family until sometime after 1860, when he returned to Buxton.

Stephen is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Albany, as a farmer, living with his wife, two males under 5, one male, age 5-10 and one female, age 5-10. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Albany, Carroll County, as a farmer, living with his wife Jane and children, Charles, age 19, as a farmer, Hellen M., age 17, Augustus, age 15, Stephen H., Jacob, Frank and Clara J. Palmer. Augustus is listed as a stage driver. Also listed in the same household is Orin Hidden, age 30, as a worker on the railroad. He is believed be a brother of Christy R. Palmer. Stephen is also listed in the 1880 Federal Census in Buxton, as a farmer, living with his wife Jane and son Augustus with his wife Christie and their son Charlie C. Palmer, age 15. Augustus is listed as a (sub. m. diver ?).

Stephen died on September 17, 1887, age 82 years, probably in Buxton. His wife died one year earlier on January 27, 1886, probably in Buxton. Both are buried in the Palmer Private Cemetery in Buxton.

Although the family is listed in Albany during the 1840, 1850 & 1860 census period, the four oldest children are listed in the census records as being born in Maine. There is a strong possibility that the four oldest children were born in Fryeburg, Maine, which is about 10 miles from Albany.

VII-19-21 Stephen PALMER (Simeon,VI-19-11 Stephen,5 Stephen,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William1)

Born about 1795 in Dunbarton, Hillsboro County, New Hampshire. Stephen is believed to have moved to Unadilla, Otsego County, New York about 1819/20. He is said to have married twice, and the surname of his first wife is known only as Cheever. He reportedly married second, Sarah "Sally" Flanders, born about 1800 in Dunbarton.

Stephen is listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Unadilla, living with his wife, one male under 5 and one female under 5. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Unadilla, living with his wife, one female under 5, one male, age 5-10 and one female, age 5-10. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Unadilla, as a farmer, living with his wife Sally, son Calvin, age 21 and daughter Sally A. Palmer, age 12.

The 1855 New York State Census shows that Stephen was residing in Unadilla. He is listed as having 50 acres of agriculture land, 35 acres of which was improved. The cash value of his farm was valued at $1,400; stock valued at $400; tools and implements valued at $100. His farm land consisted of 10 acres of meadow which yielded 8 tons of hay; 24 acres of spring wheat sown which yielded 15 bushels harvested; 5 acres of oats sown, harvesting 65 bushels; 1 1/2 acres of corn planted, harvesting 50 bushels; 1 acre of potatoes planted, harvesting 200 bushels. His apple orchard yielded 15 bushels of apples. His cattle stock consisted of 3 under one year old, 4 over one year old, exclusive of working oxen and cows, and 3 milking cows. He produced 325 pounds of butter. He had 2 horses and 3 swine over 6 months old, 14 sheep which produced 65 pounds of wool. He also had a number of poultry.

He is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Unadilla, as a farmer, living with his wife Sally, son Calvin and daughter Sarah Ann Palmer. Also listed is Betsey Palmer, age 77, born in New Hampshire. Betsey could possibly be a sister of Stephen, but her stated age of 77 is probably an error. Stephen died on July 17, 1878 in Unadilla, aged 83 years. His wife, Sally, died earlier on June 11, 1870 in Unadilla, aged 79 years. Both are buried in the Unadilla Center Cemetery.

VII-23-6 William PALMER (Simon,[VI-19-12] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on May 30, 1794 in Malta, Kennebec County, Maine. (Malta was the former name of what is now the town of Windsor) It is believed that William served during the War of 1812 as a young man. He removed to Bath Township, Steuben County, New York about 1817 at the age of 23 and engaged in farming. He married about 1818 in Bath, Amanda Haines, born on September 22, 1798 probably in Providence, Rhode Island, daughter of Col. Rufus and Marium Haines of South Carolina. (Other records indicate that Amanda Haines may have been born in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New York or South Carolina. It is reportedly that her obituary mentioned she was from a well known South Carolina family)

William is listed in the 1820 Federal Census in Bath Township, living with his wife and one male under 10 who is believed to be his son Rufus Benjamin. Also listed is one female, age 16-26 who is unidentified. William evidently resided in Bath Township until at least 1820 and later removed to Hornellsville Township in Steuben County. He is not listed in the 1830 Federal Census record in Bath or Hornellsville. According to the personal family records of William Adoniram Palmer, grand-son of William Palmer, the family was residing in Hornellsville and most of the children were recorded as being born there. It is believed that in 1838, William and his family traveled in a "prairie schooner" to Iowa, where he settled in Princeton Township in Scott County along the Mississippi River. It was during this trip that their daughter, Amanda, died enroute somewhere in Indiana and was buried there. He continued to reside in Scott County for the rest of his life as a farmer.

On June 10, 1839, William and Amanda Palmer were among the original organizers of the Bath Baptist Church in the village of La Claire in La Claire Township, Scott County. The first services were held at the house of William Rowe on July 28, 1839. William was a member of, and Deacon in the Baptist Church for many years.

William is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Scott County, Iowa, as a farmer, living with his wife, age 40-50, two males, ages 5-10, 2 males, ages 10-15, one male, age 15-20, one male, age 20-30, one female, age 5-10 and two females, ages 10-15. He is later listed in the 1847 Iowa State Census in Scott County, living with a total of nine persons in his household.

William died on January 16, 1848 in Scott County at the age of 53 years, 7 months, 17 days and is buried in the Nowlin Cemetery, also known as Grassy Lane Cemetery in Princeton Township, Scott County. His widow, Amanda, is listed in the 1849 Iowa State Census in Scott County, living with a total of seven persons in her household. Amanda is again listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Scott County, living with her youngest children, Joel K, age 18, listed as a farmer, Adoniram, age 16, listed as a farmer and Mary Palmer, age 8.

Amanda died on October 3, 1855 in Scott County at the age of 57 years, 11 days and is buried next to her husband in the Nowlin Cemetery.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM B. PALMER DIES ALMOST 92 YEARS OLD

William B. Palmer, possibly the oldest man in the state, passed away on Thursday afternoon, at the home of his son, C. W. Palmer, in the eastern part of the city.

Mr. Palmer was nearly 92 years of age and was active almost until the last. He was born on March 14, 1819 in New Brunswick, Canada, and had lived almost the full century of his life on this continent, seeing and taking an active interest in all the developments and advancements during that time.

In 1855 he moved to Wisconsin, where he and his father were pioneer citizens. He was about 45 years old at the time of the Civil War, and was drafted as a soldier, but on account of his family paid the bounty.

Seven years ago he came to Stark County and took a homestead near his son, Charles, eight miles north of Gladstone. He enjoyed the prairie life and the climate agreed with him. He proved up on his homestead in 1909 and the same fall went to Washington to visit a son. He made the journey alone, also the return trip early in the summer of 1910. He visited the PRESS on August 8, 1910, and spent some time relating incidents of his past life and watching the process of printing. His mind was unusually clear for a man of his age and he was interested in everything that was new and up-to-date.

Mr. Palmer was a patriotic American citizen, and as a Seven Day Adventist, was a firm believer in his faith. He had not eaten pork in 40 years.

Besides his son Charles, at Dickinson, he leaves sons in Washington. His three brothers have all proceeded him to another world, but he still has two or three sisters living in Canada.

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the Palmer home, Rev. F.L. Watkins of the Methodist church officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the Dickinson cemetery.

VIII-1-6 Adoniram "Don" Judson PALMER (William,VII-23-6 Simon,6 Jonathan,5 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on July 2, 1834 in Hornellsville Township, Steuben County, New York. In 1837, Adoniram went to Scott County, Iowa with his parents traveling in a "prairie schooner". He spent his childhood years on his father's farm and received his education in the common schools. He resided there until about 1858 when he removed to Kansas. (An A.J. Palmer is listed in the 1859 Census in Auburn Township, Shawnee County, Kansas)

Adoniram married on May 8, 1861 in Blue Rapids, Marshall County, Kansas, Lucy "Levy" Anna Thompson, born on October 10, 1840 in Moline, Henry County, Illinois, daughter of Judge William Thompson, born on April 3, 1809 in Christian County, Kentucky and Mary Jane Ohlhausen, born on December 4, 1821 in Lynchburg, Virginia, daughter of John D. Ohlhausen of Hanover, Germany.

The first school in the vicinity of Blue Rapids was taught by Lucy Anna Palmer beginning in November 1861 with twenty five pupils. The school was in a private dwelling one half mile west of the present town site. Adoniram was Postmaster of Blue Rapids in 1864 and a County Commissioner from 1863 to 1865. He was a vocal abolitionist during the Civil War period and on occasions was harassed by a large pro-slavery faction in Marysville. Sometime in 1864, he paid the price of his beliefs when Confederate sympathizers burned down his house and barn and also killed his stock. He and his family were forced to move in and live with his in-laws, William and Mary Jane Thompson. A short news article in the Blue Rapids Times in 1886 stated that "Adoniram Palmer, Wm Thompson and W. L. Duncan have gone to St. Joseph to testify at the trial of Gaines Parker, who burned down Palmer's house and post office several years ago and is now accused of killing a man.."

Adoniram is listed in the 1865 State Census in Blue Rapids, living with his wife and first born child, William Adoniram. He and his family were living in the home of his father-in-law at this time. It appears that Adoniram and his family moved to Golden, Colorado about 1865 after his house and barn were destroyed. His brother, Joel Kenyon Palmer, had already moved to Golden in 1860, where he established a homestead and had a profitable farming business. Adoniram evidently returned to Kansas before 1870. He is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in the Barrett Post Office area in Waterville Township, Marshall County, as a farmer, living with his wife Lucy, age 29 and children, William, age 8, Irving, age 4 and Mary Palmer, age 1. In 1871 he settled on Section 36 in Waterville Township, owning 120 acres of farm land, well cultivated and improved. His new home was built of limestone which is a native stone in the Waterville and Blue Rapids area. He is listed in the 1880 Federal Census in Blue Rapids, as a farmer, living with his wife Lucy A., age 39 and children, William A., age 17, Irving H., age 13, Mary E., age 11, Nettie I., age 6, Rufus E., age 4 and Lucy Palmer, age 2. He is also listed as a resident in Gove City, Nebraska in December 1891 when Mrs. Palmer's father died.

Adoniram and his family removed to the Wheatland, Laramie County, Wyoming area during the summer of 1896 where he resided the rest of his life. He is listed in the 1900 Federal Census in Wheatland, Laramie County, Wyoming, as a farmer, living with his wife Lucy, age 59 and daughter Nettie Palmer, age 24, as a school teacher. He is also listed in the 1910 Federal Census in Wheatland, Laramie County, as a farmer, living with his wife Lucie A., age 79. Adoniram died on January 16, 1916 in Wheatland. His widow Lucy died on September 27, 1931 in San Gabriel, California. Both are buried in the Wheatland Cemetery in Wheatland.

Adoniram was a member of the Knights of Labor and voted with the Union Labor Party. He was a man of intelligence, an enterprising and progressive farmer, and a reliable citizen, who was interested in every movement pertaining to the welfare of the state and county in which he so long made his home. He was a man of fine principles and honorable dealings, commanding the respect of all with whom he associated.

VIII-1-8 Albert Gilman PALMER (James,[VII-10-6] James,[6] James,[5] Samuel,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on July 19, 1830 at the family home at 36 Pecker Street, Haverhill, Essex County, Massachusetts. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Haverhill, as a shoe cutter, living with his parents. On July 21, 1853, Albert became a charter member of the Hale Guards of Haverhill along with his brothers James M. and Charles H.P. Palmer.

Albert married on September 22, 1858 in Newburyport, Essex County, Angeline "Angie" Cook Bemis, born on September 28, 1835 in Waltham , Middlesex County, Massachusetts, daughter of George Bemis and Elizabeth Nichols Cook of Waltham.

On April 19, 1861, he and his brothers were called to active duty with the 5th Regiment, Massachusetts Infantry Volunteers, Company "D", at the outbreak of the Civil War and soon departed for Washington, D.C. Soon after his arrival, he became ill at Annapolis and was escorted home by his brother, Charles H. P. Palmer. His rank was listed as 2nd Sergeant. It appears that he was not connected with the regiment after his return home, nor did he serve in any other company during the war. It is believed that he was discharged for disability.

The Haverhill City Directories from 1859 through 1867 show Albert as a shoe cutter and after that as a shoe manufacturer. From September 1860 to April 1866, Albert and Angie owned and occupied a house on Dustin Street near Vine. In 1866 they purchased a lot of land on the west side of Cedar Street and built a house on it. It was mortgaged and remortgaged. The 1869 and 1872 directories show his occupation as Palmer & Cook, shoe manufacturers. Evidently he was in business with his partner Jacob H. Cook of Newburyport, first cousin of Albert's wife. On October 15, 1872, the two partners ran a notice in the Tri-Weekly Publisher, announcing the dissolution of the partnership and saying that Cook would continue the business and settle all bills. The 1874 directory shows Albert G. Palmer as a shoe manufacturer at 23 Washington Street and living on Cedar Street.

In 1875, Angie advertised the house on Cedar Street for sale or to let. Sometime after June 1875, Albert, Angie and Angie's widowed mother removed to San Francisco. It is believed that they lived at the home of Angie's older brother, Charles Cook Bemis. Not very long after they arrived, Albert died on April 28, 1876 in San Francisco. Two weeks before his death, the house on Cedar Street was sold at public Auction for $1,500. by the mortgage holder, Arthur O'Leary, to John A. Page. It appears that Albert was in financial trouble when they went to California.

Angie died on June 19, 1893 probably in San Francisco.

Born on September 30, 1855 in Whitneyville, Washington County, Maine. He worked in the saw mill in Machiasport at the age of 14 years. Amos traveled to many foreign ports when he was young and brought home many curios from his trips which he displayed in the parlor. On one of his trips aboard ship, he was washed overboard in a heavy storm and the crew thought he had drowned. However, the next big wave washed him right back on deck.

Alta Fay (Palmer) Bodwell, of Whitneyville, related a story about Amos when he was a young man visiting Boston on one of his trips. He was known to be quick with retorts. "When he was walking ashore from the steamer, he was besieged by hackmen, wanting to take his luggage and him, as a fare, to some hotel. Amos held on to his bag and said he would walk. At that, one of the hackmen said with a sneer, "Oh, a greenhorn from way Down East. I hear they pry the sun up with a crow bar there". "No they don't", said Amos, "They pull it up with jackasses, and if you were there, you'd surely get a job".

Amos married about 1875, Catherine ( ), born in July 1852 in Canada. After his travels, he appears to have settled in Tacoma, Washington sometime between 1880 to 1885. C.H.P. Palmer

On November 9, 1859, Corporal Charles Palmer made the best single shot at the Hale Guards' annual target practice at Kenoza Lake near the Kenoza Lake Club. On December 24, 1859, the Tri-Weekly Publisher wrote about a robe made of 65 skins of woodchucks that had fallen victims to Charles Palmer and his dog. In April 1860, he was appointed by the selectmen of Haverhill as Sealer of Weights and Measures.

On June 25, 1860, Charles was commissioned as a Third Lieutenant in the 5th Infantry, Massachusetts Volunteer Militia. On April 19, 1861, he and his brothers Albert Gilman and James Monroe Palmer were called to active duty at the outbreak of the Civil War and soon departed for Washington, D.C. Charles was mustered into service for three months on May 1, 1861 in the 5th Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, Company "D" (Haverhill Light Infantry). While at Annapolis, Maryland, Charles' brother, Sergeant Albert Gilman Palmer became ill and subsequently Charles had to accompany him back home. A letter dated May 3, 1861 from Washington, D.C., written by James Monroe Palmer, states that "the return of Lt. C.H.P. Palmer was mainly in consequence of an understanding that only two lieutenants, one acting as an ensign, would be allowed. Mr. Palmer intends to join the company again as soon as an opportunity presents". On May 15th, Lt. Palmer left Haverhill to rejoin his company and soon found himself in the front lines on July 21, 1861 at the first battle of Bull Run in Virginia, about 30 miles west of Washington, D.C., along with his brother, James M. Palmer. On July 31,1861, Charles was mustered out of service and returned home to Haverhill to continue his business.

On April 5, 1862, Charles was elected 2nd Lieutenant at the annual meeting of the Haverhill Light Infantry. He was also the recruiting officer in the process of filling the ranks preparatory to the Company becoming Co. "G" of the 50th Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry under Colonel Carlos Messer who had been Captain of the Hale Guards.

On April 8, 1862, Charles was again appointed Sealer of Weights and Measurements. An advertisement in the Tri-Weekly Publisher on July 24, 1862 reads as follows:

> An office has been opened at 19 Merrimack St. under the direction and sanction of the selectmen for obtaining the quota, 212, men called for from this town. Those enlisting can go into any regiment they prefer now in the field - rations furnished, if desired, from the time of enlistment. $100 Bounty will be paid by the town when the recruit is sworn and $38 advance paid by Government, in addition to state aid to families and additional $75 bounty at the end of enlistment.
> signed Lieut. C.H.P. Palmer, recruiting officer.

On July 8, 1862, Charles resigned from Company "G" of the 50th Regiment. This was right after Captain Carlos P. Messer had been promoted to Colonel of the Regiment when actions were underway to prepare for active duty. He was not replaced as 2nd Lieut. until October when his brother James' son-in-law, Sgt. Andrew F. Stowe, was promoted to the commission.

On Monday, June 30, 1863, a horse was frightened by fire crackers and ran away from Cottage St. down Winter St. near Portland St. Charles Palmer tried to stop him but missed his hold, was struck by the wheel sustaining severe bruises to his head, shoulder and back. The horse was finally stopped near the foot of the Common without causing further damage. On October 10, 1863, Charles commenced operations in sewing shoes and was among the first to introduce stitching shoes by machinery into shoe factories. He held a large interest in the McKay stitching machine.

On April 29, 1874, the state constable, Mr. Howe, assisted by City Marshall Raymond and officers Dean and Palmer, seized several gallons of hard liquors at the place kept by Daniel Calhane in Mechanics Court. On January 19, 1875, Charles was appointed as constable and remained on the police force for almost ten years. He was regarded as one of the most efficient detectives ferreting out the hiding places of liquors by those illegally engaged in the traffic, and was usually detailed for search where the business was being conducted. Charles is listed in the 1880 Federal Census in Haverhill, as a police officer, living at 22 Pecker Street with his wife and two sons, Charles M. and T. Scott Palmer. On February 18, 1882, an article in the Daily Bulletin stated some facts about the police force. ie: "Charles H.P. Palmer was 56 years old, 5 feet, 5 1/2 inches tall and weighed 150 pounds...resided on Pecker St. He was at that time the oldest and the smallest member of the force. He was a member of the police force from 1874 to 1883." He is listed in the 1890 Federal Census, Special Schedule, in Haverhill, as a surviving soldier of the Civil War. His rank is listed as 2nd Lieut.

Charles died on May 21, 1891 at 36 Pecker Street after a weeks illness from pneumonia and his wife Irene died earlier on May 17, 1889 also in Haverhill. She was described as a lady of genial spirits much loved by all who knew her.

Obituary

Haverhill Evening Gazette May 22, 1891

Charles H.P. Palmer
Another Well Known Citizen Gone
His Record a Marked One

The death of another of Haverhill's best known citizens, Mr. Charles Henry Plummer Palmer, occurred yesterday at his residence # 36 Pecker St. at 10 minutes before 12 o'clock after an illness of pneumonia of about a week, age 65 years 5 months, 18 days.

He began to be connected with matters of public interest in boyhood, and held his connection with various associations and organizations of public concern, besides being connected in some way all the time in mechanical pursuits and for a succession of years was engaged in business, respectively on Merrimack and Main streets, where he kept a store for the sale of pictures, birds and fancy articles and also carried on picture framing.

From the age of 17 to 40, a period of over 20 years, he was an active and efficient member of the fire department, and during all those years performed valuable service in that department. He was a member of the Hale Guards from 1853, and was one of five brothers who were members of that company at the same time, himself holding the office of lieutenant. The photograph of those brothers standing in line was taken at that time, and, as a relic of those days, has been placed for some time past in the window of the Gazette office, attracting the attention of those interested in relics of the past. He went to the front with the company, and participated in the war of the Union, being in the battle of Bull Run and retained his membership for many years after until the company was reorganized.

He was a member of the police force for ten years or more, and is remembered by those in service with him as an efficient and valuable officer. He was counted as one of the most efficient detectives at ferreting out the hiding places of liquors by those illegally engaged in the traffic, and was usually detailed for search where the business was being so conducted.

He was an Odd Fellow, being a member of Mizpah Lodge and a Patriarch member of Eagle Encampment. He was also for a time the Superintendent of the Haverhill Gas Works, and by his superior mechanical ability was a valuable officer of the interests of that company. He was a professional carpenter, having served apprenticeship to that trade, and was also a practical machinist, being at times engaged in that business. In the mechanical department of life he was always very prominent, being a natural mechanic and was regarded as being a very "ingenious" man. He possessed remarkable gifts in that line, in the exercise of which he took great pleasure, and during the years of retirement from active business, his amusement was the production of curious things in the line of mechanical art.

He was a son of the late James Palmer, and of a family of 10 children only two of whom, James M. and George H., are now living. A singular record in this connection is that he was born, reared, married and died upon the same locality on Pecker Street, the Palmer homestead. Although his residence may have been at times elsewhere, it was there also that some, if not all, of his children were born. His family consisted of four children, only two of whom, Charles and T. Scott, are now living, the other two having died many years ago.

In early life his religious connection was with the old South Church of which he was a member, and Elder Henry Plummer was his pastor. He was liberal in his religious views, and in later years was accustomed to attend the Unitarian Church with his wife, whose religious home was there. Mrs. Palmer passed away two or three years ago.

In every position of life Mr. Palmer was found to be a man of integrity, and faithful to every trust committed to him and was ever a public spirited and worthy citizen. The funeral will take place from his late residence, No. 36 Pecker St. on Saturday at 2 o'clock p.m.

He rejoined on April 6, 1858 and was finally discharged two months later on June 1, 1858. Elbridge spent most of his working life as a stitcher or cutter in the shoe industry. In 1859, his occupation was lather and ten years later it was carpenter.

He married second on January 10, 1861 in Haverhill, Abigail "Abby" Goodwin Tyler, born on July 2, 1827 in North Pownal, Cumberland County, Maine, daughter of William Tyler and Judith B. Currier of Pownal. In 1857 and 1859, she was a shoe stitcher, boarding at the home of Charles H. P. Palmer at 26 William Street. After her marriage, she continued to work as a machine shoe stitcher at home. Elbridge was living at his mother's boarding house on Pecker Street before marriage. In August 1860, he bought a houselot on the northeast corner of Cedar Street and Fifth Avenue for $325. from Richard Webster. On April 18, 1861, the day before the Hale Guards marched off to war, he gave a mortgage of $773. on that property to Josiah M. Littlefield, the architect and builder.

Elbridge does not appear to be a joiner as were his three older brothers. He, and all his brothers were members of the Zouave Hook and Ladder Company, which was organized in 1860. In May 1866 he was a member of the Standing Committee of the company. In 1863, he was in Class I of the draft, the class most susceptible to being called to active duty. In June 1864, he was one of thirteen men accepted from a group of 42 drafted, which may indicate that he had passed the physical examination. However, there is no indication that he ever served with any company from Massachusetts during the war.

Elbridge is listed in the 1880 Federal Census in Haverhill, as a shoe stitcher, living at 56 Cedar Street with his wife Abbie G. and son Austin A. Palmer. Abbie was listed as being temporarily disabled due to paralysis. Abigail died on August 9, 1881 in Durham, Androscoggin County, Maine and is believed to be buried in Peabody, Massachusetts.

In 1883 and 1885, Elbridge was boarding with A. Lewis near the Groveland Bridge. In 1887, the Haverhill City Directory shows him living at Mechanics Court and in 1889, he was living at 20 Stage Street.

Elbridge died on December 28, 1889 in Haverhill as a result of phthisis (consumption) and is buried in Haverhill.

Although at the time of his enlistment, during the Philippine Insurrection, the Filipinos were nearing defeat during the latter part of 1899. Sporadic resistance to American rule continued until 1902 and it was during this time period that Frederick was sent to the Philippines immediately after his training. During his stay in the Philippines he was engaged in the landing at the San Fabian skirmish on Gagupan Road on November 8, 1899; battle of San Jacinto on November 11, 1899; skirmish at Alava on November 16, 1899; attack on Vigan on December 4, 1899; exposition against the Alsado Indians from January 2-19, 1900; attacks on Bangued from June 23-26, 1900 and the attack on Bangued on October 6, 1900. On March 6, 1900, he wrote a letter from Bangued, Luzon to his brother, Willard Charles Palmer in Spring Hill, Kansas. In his letter he expressed his opinions of the situation in the Philippines and his views on the political structure. He concluded his letter by asking his brother not to publish part of it for fear of getting into trouble. He was discharged from the Army on February 27, 1901 at Camp Wallace in Manila, P.I. After his discharge, he remained in the Philippines as one of hundreds of school teachers employed by the United States Government, at no cost to the Filipino Government, to teach young Filipino children in the remote areas of the Island. He taught at Cabayan in the Province of Benguet where he also purchased a house on July 15, 1901 which was located directly opposite north of the public school house.

After his return to the United States, he purchased some land during the early 1900's in southeastern Idaho which was considered open range country. His father, John Burpee Palmer, came to visit him and both of them looked at the land in a horse and buggy. They noticed the numerous deep wagon wheel ruts caused by the many wagons traveling to Oregon and California by way of the Old Oregon Trail, a trail taken by his father more than fifty years before. Later he was employed as a wire chief for Pacific Telephone Company from about 1912 to 1925.

He married on April 19, 1911 in La Grande, Union County, Oregon, Cecile Lenore Smith, born on October 11, 1887 in Waverly, Lancaster County, Nebraska, daughter of Sherman S. Smith and Sarah L. Atkinson.

Frederick was a member of the Grange and the Veterans of the Spanish American War. He enjoyed woodworking, reading, flower growing and also built several radios during the early days of broadcasting.

Frederick died on March 11, 1944 in Minnehaha, near Vancouver, Clark County, Washington and his widow, Cecile, continued residing at 3200 G Street in Vancouver, as late as 1949. She died on February 21, 1965 in Battle Ground, Clark County, Washington.

VIII-7-6 George Edward PALMER

(Aaron,[VII-1-4] Samuel,[6] Joseph,[5] Christopher,[4] Joseph,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on December 23, 1832 in Hampton, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. George left home at an early age and went to Needham, Norfolk County, Massachusetts. He married first, on March 28, 1858 in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, Rebecca Croel Needham, born on May 14, 1839 in Dorchester, Suffolk County, Massachusetts, daughter of George W. Needham and Rebecca Croel Doane. George and Rebecca Palmer settled in Newton Upper Falls, Middlesex County, Massachusetts.

During the Civil War, he enlisted on November 29, 1861, as a private, with Company "E", 24th Regiment, Massachusetts Infantry Volunteers and soon left for Annapolis, Maryland on December 9, 1861. He was attached to Brig. Gen. John G. Foster's 1st Brigade, Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside's Expeditionary Corps until April 1862. On February 8, 1862, George participated in the battle of Roanoke Island, North Carolina. He was transported to the battle area by way of Hatteras Inlet on the steamer Admiral. A report in the New York Times dated February 10, 1862 states:

> "On the hurricane deck of the steamer Admiral, the officers of the Twenty-fourth Massachusetts, with a portion of their troops, whose bright bayonets gleam like polished silver in the morning sunlight, are practicing their skirmish calls. Their movements are watched from neighboring vessels with much interest, and with something of amusement, while the officers and men wheel right and left by turns, fall down, rise up, practice the double-quick, deploy by fours, etc., all at the sound of the bugle."

The Admiral ran aground on February 7th and Company "E" was put aboard the steamer Eagle at 7 o'clock the morning of the 8th and later was sent ashore in small boats to engage with the enemy. George also participated in other battles and skirmishes during his service. It is believed that George was with his wife in the Annapolis area during his furlough time between February and April 1864 based on a personal letter of Rebecca written to her husband on November 21, 1864 just before he was about to be discharged at Chapen's Farm, Richmond, Virginia on November 29, 1864.

Upon returning home to Newton Upper Falls, George continued to raise a family of seven children. VIII-7-8 George Henry Tuttle PALMER (James,[VII-10-6] James,[6] James,[5] Samuel,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on August 28, 1838 at the family home on 36 Pecker Street in Haverhill, Essex County, Massachusetts. George spent his childhood years in Haverhill and was first employed in his early teens as an express messenger with Richardson's Express, a service which carried parcels between Haverhill and Boston by messengers riding the trains on a daily basis. Charles C. Richardson, the owner of the business, was killed sometime before 1856 during a train accident. The business changed hands several times and in June 1856, Mr. E.C. Thompson, a conductor on the Boston and Maine Railroad and a Mr. Spaulding, took over the business. On June 21, 1856, the Haverhill Gazette, quoting the Andover Advertiser, stated that Mr. Spaulding was a former messenger between Portland and Boston, and the other messenger over the road was George H. Palmer. It was also stated that, "George H. Palmer, is too well known to need any praise from us. It is enough to say he was trained to the business by Mr. Richardson, and has become so identified with, and indispensable to the Express that without their favorite George, the people of Haverhill would hardly know what to do. If anyone wants to see a thing done scientifically, manufacture an errand and send over to Haverhill by this little adept at the business; it is worth 12 1/2 cents just to witness the operation."

George was a member of the "Hale Guards" along with his four brothers, James, Charles, Albert and Elbridge. He joined on May 27, 1856 when he was 17 years old and was promoted to the rank of corporal on August 2, 1859 and served over three years. He evidently was not with the Company when it marched off to war on April 19, 1861, although three of his brothers were.

George married on November 20, 1859 in Haverhill, Abigail "Abbie" Melissa Cox, born on March 10, 1841 in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Rev. Elbridge Cox and Olive F. Augusta Gray. When George and Abbie were first married, he was employed as an express messenger with E.C. Thompson & Co. Express and was probably living at his mothers boarding house on Pecker Street.

In May 1860, the Zouave Hook and Ladder Company was formed and all the officers were members of the Hale Guards. George was a member of the Standing Committee while his older brother Charles H. P. was Assistant Foreman. Brother Elbridge was a member of the Axe Committee. George remained an officer of the Company until it was abolished in 1866 when it was replaced by a new company following a dispute with the Board of Engineers. It is presumed that George's absence from the armed services during the Civil War may have something to do with his wife's health, physically or mentally. Her mother had previously been declared insane and Abbie herself was later diagnosed insane.

In 1865 George and Abbie were living at 21 Franklin Street and in 1867 were living on Fifth Street. On December 6, 1866, the Tri-Weekly Publisher informed the public that "Mr George H. Palmer who has been in the employ of the Haverhill and Boston Express the past 12 to 15 years, has purchased the interest of Mr. French in Russell and Co. Express, and became a partner with the principal, Mr. W.W. Russell," The article also mentions how he started under Charles C. Richardson... "and has continued in the employment of Mr. Richardson's successors up to the present time, performing his duties with a faithfulness that has secured him the greatest confidence and respect of his employers and the public." He continued as a partner in Russell and Co. until 1880 or 1881 at which time he came to a parting-of-the-ways with his partner, Russell. It has been said by family members that Russell "did him in."

After 1867 and through 1880 George and his family lived on Pecker Street, probably in the old family home, which was a double house. In 1873, George contributed five dollars in his own name and one dollar each in the names of his three children, Carlos, Edward and George to the Library Fund.

After the birth of their fifth child, Abigail Florence, his wife, Abbie evidently suffered a breakdown and subsequently it became necessary to disperse their children to the care of relatives and friends. In January 1874, Abbie was admitted to the New Hampshire Asylum for the insane and her disease was diagnosed by Dr. J.P. Bancroft as chronic insanity. He stated that "she was totally incapacitated by the disease for the care of herself or any business transactions and that there is no reasonable prospect of any future improvement in her mental condition." In August 1877, her brother-in-law James Monroe Palmer was appointed as her guardian thru the Probate Court in Salem, Massachusetts. The application of Guardianship was submitted on July 10, 1877.

On July 30, 1874, the Tri-Weekly Publisher reported:

> " A NARROW ESCAPE - Mr. George H. Palmer, of Russell and Company's Express, met with a narrow escape from a serious wound, at Plum Island, Tuesday afternoon. While sitting on the ground near the water, he was struck by a ball fired from a pistol, but fortunately the force of the ball was nearly spent, and he thereby escaped what might otherwise have proved a serious injury."

On November 18, 1876, the Tri-Weekly Publisher, published a letter to Mayor J.K. Jenness, successfully pleading with him to reconsider his declination to be re-nominated. Jenness was a strong anti rum man and a supporter of the Reform Club. Among the 39 signers of the letter was George H. Palmer. George is listed in the 1880 Federal Census in Haverhill, engaged in the express business, living at 20 Pecker Street with his children, Carlos E., Grace D., Eddie E., Georgie W. and Abbie F. Palmer. His wife, Abbie M., is listed as being in an Asylum.

Abbie died on June 26, 1883 at the State Hospital in Worcester, Massachusetts as a result of mania exhaustion. In 1883 and 1885, George resided at 13 Howard Street. In 1889 and 1890, he was residing at the home of his son Carlos at 55 Groveland Street, as a shoe stitcher and by 1906 he was a shoe packer.

George died on January 16, 1909 at the home of his son Carlos as a result of heart disease and pneumonia. George and Abbie are buried in the Elmwood Cemetery in Bradford, Massachusetts.

Born on March 6, 1819 in Deerfield, Rockingham County, New Hampshire. He went with his parents to Northwood, Rockingham County before 1830. He married first, in 1837, Sarah Chapman, born on November 23, 1818 in Nobleboro, Lincoln County, Maine.

George is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Jefferson, Lincoln County, Maine, as a farmer, living with his wife, age 30-40 and one male under 5. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Hallowell, Kennebec County, Maine, as a farmer, living with his wife Sarah, age 42 and children, Andrew W., age 12 and Thomas L. Palmer, age 9. Sarah Palmer died on February 27, 1876 in Hallowell. There appears to be discrepancies in each census record as to the age of Sarah (Chapman) Palmer. The possibility of her being born in 1808 and older than George, is likely. (Pending further research)

George married second, on October 2, 1879 in Hallowell, Mary S. Woodbridge, born on December 24, 1823 in Hallowell, daughter of James E. Woodbridge and Elizabeth Shaw of Hallowell.

Also listed in the same household are the parents of Christopher and George.

He married first, about 1869, probably in Mercer, Somerset County, Maine, Etta Witham, born about 1849, probably in Mercer. He is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Mercer, as a farmer, living with his wife Etta, age 21 and son Willard Palmer, age 3 months. VIII-7-14 George Washington PALMER (Washington,[VII-23-1] Valentine,[6] David,[5] Andrew,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

George is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Pittston, as a farmer, living with his wife Hannah J., age 34 and children, Hattie E., age 4, Reuben S., age 2 and Georgiana Palmer, age 2 months. The 1850 and 1860 Census Records state that his age was 5 and 15 respectively, which would place his year of birth about 1845. The 1870 and 1880 Census Records state that his age was 34 and 44 respectively, which would place his year of birth about 1836. Apparently the entries in the 1870 and 1880 records are incorrect as is with his wife.

VIII-10-8 James Monroe PALMER (James,[VII-10-6] James,[6] James,[5] Samuel,[4] Richard,[3] Joseph,[2] William [1])

Born on April 16, 1821 at the family home on 36 Pecker Street in Haverhill, Essex County, Massachusetts. James received his education in the common schools and also at the the Haverhill Academy and may have been a first year student there in 1835 when William Taggart, the first captain of the Hale Guards, was Preceptor. In 1837, he began learning the trade of printing at the Haverhill Gazette and was an apprentice there when Whittier was editor.

James married on October 15, 1840 in Bradford, Essex County, Mary Ann Head, born on August 11, 1819 on Head's Hill in Bradford, daughter of William Head and Abigail Bowen. James became superintendent of the printing department at the Gazette under the editorship of Mr. E.G. Frothingham. On October 31, 1849, he took temporary leave of his job as well as of his wife and two young daughters, and sailed from Newburyport, Massachusetts to San Francisco, California by way of Cape Horn in South America in search of gold. After two years of unsuccessful attempts in search of gold, he returned to Haverhill in 1851, empty-handed to the welcoming arms of his wife and children. His good friend Mr. Frothingham also welcomed him back to his former job with the Gazette.

On December 13, 1853, James joined the Hale Guards five months after it was formed while living on Garden Street with his family. In 1859, when Mr. Z.E. Stone founded the Tri-Weekly Publisher, James left the Gazette and went to work for Mr. Stone. In 1860, James formed a partnership with Elbridge G. Woodward, also employed by Stone, and bought out Mr. Stone. Woodward was the senior partner and together they operated the Tri-Weekly for eighteen years.

James Palmer served as clerk of the Hale Guards for four years prior to April 1861, as well as later, when the Company dropped the name of Hale Guards and adopted the traditional name of Haverhill Light Infantry. He enlisted on April 16, 1861 with Company "D", 5th Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, (Haverhill Light Infantry). He was mustered into service on May 1, 1861, as a 90 day soldier, and mustered out of service on July 31, 1861. James was a 40 year old First Sergeant when he participated in the first battle of Bull Run on July 21, 1861 in Virginia during the Civil War, along with his brother Charles H. P. Palmer, his son-in-law Andrew Francis Stowe and William W. Mills, who later married Mary Caroline Palmer, oldest daughter of James M. Palmer. It has been said that James Palmer fired the last shot delivered by the Company before they fled the battle scene. On July 19, 1862, James was appointed Sergeant Major of the 50th Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Militia by Colonel Carlos P. Messer. Through the summer and early fall he tried to sell his interest in the Tri-Weekly Publisher with the intention of going with the regiment on a nine months tour of active duty. He was unsuccessful and in November 1862, just before the regiment left, he was replaced by Oliver A. Roberts.

James Monroe Palmer was one of four key figures connected with the Guards who were named for great Americans. In addition to Ezekiel James, Madison Hale, for whom, as principal sponsor, the Company was named, there was General Benjamin Franklin Butler, who was colonel of the Regiment in 1853 and presided at the formation of the Company on July 21st in the Haverhill Town Hall. There was also George Washington Lee, who was a first lieutenant under Captain Hale.

James was short in stature, five feet six inches tall, with dark eyes and black trimmed beard and sideburns. He was tall in spirit, strong in faith and warm in heart. His writings, poetry and prose, tell us that he was a reflective man of tender impulses and expansive soul. He enjoyed reading to the children and also enjoyed the beauties of nature which reflected in his writings.

In July 1863, James bought the land and house at 2 (later # 4) Pautucket Street, Haverhill at a cost of $1,700. from Mr. Oliver H. Roberts, a lumber dealer and builder. James and his wife Mary Ann lived out their days in this house, although beginning in April 1873, probably during the business depression, he ran an advertisement for the remainder of the year, trying to sell his property.

In 1866, James and his wife as well as brother Albert G. and his wife, were installed as officers of Riverside Lodge # 25 of the Independent Order of Good Templars. On August 6, 1870, James, his wife and granddaughter, four year old Annie Mills, starting for a picnic at Kenoza Hall, were dumped out of their carriage when their horse took fright in front of the Baptist Church on Portland Street. Mrs. Palmer suffered a broken leg. In May 1874, James took a trip to Washington, D.C., Alexandria and Manassas and was impressed by the marked changes that had taken place since he was there thirteen years earlier during the war. In 1874, He was elected Quartermaster Sergeant of Major How Post # 47 of the G.A.R. (Grand Army of the Republic). He was often an officer of the Mizpah Lodge of the I.O.O.F. (Independent Order of Odd Fellows). In 1875, he was elected Noble Grand of the Mizpah Lodge of the I.O.O.F. On January 4, 1877, He was elected Noble Grand of the Kenoza Lodge # 4 of the Daughters of Rebekah.

About December 1877 or January 1878, Mr. Elbridge G. Woodward left the Tri-Weekly Publisher and James continued to publish the paper alone. On October 8, 1878, the Haverhill Bulletin published a notice dated October 1, and signed by James M. Palmer announcing that the subscription list of the Tri-Weekly Publisher had been taken over by the Bulletin. In all likelihood, it was then that James went to work for the Haverhill Bulletin as a printer. On April 19, 1880, The Hale Guards Association was formed. Officers chosen were: Carlos P. Messer, president; James Monroe Palmer, secretary, and the directors were James Monroe Palmer, A.F. Ray, C. Kaler and M.V. Livingston.

James is listed in the 1880 Federal Census in Haverhill, as a printer, living at 2 Pautucket Street with his wife. Also listed in the same household is their daughter, Charlesetta Stowe and her children, Minnie C., Delia M. and Frank M. Stowe. He is also listed in the 1890 Federal Census, Special Schedule, in Haverhill, as a surviving soldier of the Civil War. His rank is listed as sergeant.

James died on October 5, 1891 at his home at 4 Pautucket Street, after being bedridden for five months. Mary Ann, his widow, continued to live there with her daughter "Caddie" and her husband and their daughter Annie, until she died on January 16, 1905 at age 85 at her home.

VIII-10-11 Jasper Thomas PALMER (Isaiah,[VII-9-3] Trueworthy,[6] Trueworthy,[5] Jonathan,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on June 6, 1882 in Brookfield, Carroll County, New Hampshire. He married on June 24, 1911 in Fitchburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts, Bertha E. Wellington, born on June 16, 1884 in Rindge, Cheshire County, New Hampshire, daughter of Herbert D. Wellington and Harriet A. Wright of Fitchburg.

Jasper was the principal of the Washington Junior High School in Mount Vernon, New York in 1923. He evidently had an interest in genealogy based on the fact that he inserted numerous queries about the Palmer family in the Boston Evening Transcript in the 1920's. He supervised the erection of a monument dedicated to Trueworthy Palmer, his great-grandfather, who was a Revolutionary War soldier. He also erected a monument on his grandfather's grave a few years before 1925.

An article appeared in the New York Times edition on November 3, 1936 by Jasper Thomas Palmer of Mt. Vernon, New York, viz:

WINDING UP A STRENUOUS POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Last-Minute Expressions of Opinion on Various Candidates and Issues
To Be Voted on Today

One-Term Presidents

To the Editor of the New York Times:

The practice of aspirants to the office of the President of the United States attacking and maligning the person who happens to hold the office is most distasteful to me, personally.

I care not who our President may be, or what party he is from, I think our American system of denouncing the motives and sometimes the character of the "ins" by the "outs" is a sad commentary on our form of government, in spite of our free speech and free press policies with which I am fundamentally in accord. I think it is equally disgraceful and humiliating to have our nation's Chief Executive forced to go about the country not only to defend his policies, but to deride the motives of aspirants to the high office he holds.

I think all of this loose talk and disrespect could be eliminated, and the country and the world would be a whole lot better off in many respects. This would be through the medium of amending the Constitution so that the President of the United States would hold office for one term only, and that for six years instead of four. This would make for greater efficiency on the part of the President himself.

VIII-10-12 Jemima "Jennie" Howard PALMER

(Samuel,[VII-19-2] Joseph,[6] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on July 19, 1820 in Swanton, Franklin County, Vermont. She spent most of her childhood years in Swanton before traveling with her parents to Franklin County, Ohio during the winter of 1836-37. Later in 1844, she went with her parents to their new home in Troy Township, Whitley County, Indiana.

She married on October 21, 1847, probably in Troy Township, Benjamin "Ben" Vanvactor Melvin, born on February 21, 1821 in Madison County, Ohio. They first lived in Jefferson Township in Noble County, Indiana. It appears that shortly after she and Benjamin were married, they went to Ohio to live there for awhile and it wasn't until about the later part of 1849 or early 1850 that they returned to their home in Jefferson Township. It is believed that Jemima and Benjamin went back to Ohio about 1853 and remained there until 1858, probably until he had the opportunity to sell his property in Ohio. They then returned to Jefferson Township where they spent the remainder of their lives.

Benjamin and Jemima owned 160 acres in the NE 1/4 of Section 28 and 160 acres in the NE 1/4 of Section 27, Range 8 in Jefferson Township, Noble County, Indiana.

Jemima died on October 17, 1906 in Jefferson Township. Benjamin died on August 12, 1910 in Jefferson Township. Both are buried in the Sweet Cemetery in Albion, Noble County, Indiana.

VIII-10-15 Joel Kenyon PALMER (William,VII-23-6 Simon,6 Jonathan,5 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on February 13, 1832 in Hornellsville Township, Steuben County, New York. In 1836, Joel went to Indiana with his parents and then to Scott County, Iowa in 1837, traveling in a "prairie schooner". He spent most of his childhood years on the family farm in Scott County near Princeton and received what education he could by attending a district school during winters taught in a log building, with slabs for seats and greased paper for window panes. In 1853 he started out for himself, having bought a farm near the old homestead, and engaged in farming until 1856.

He married on April 24, 1856 in Lyons, Clinton County, Iowa, Matilda Jane Lewis, born on January 8, 1837, 20 miles east of London, Ontario, Canada, daughter of William Lewis and Mary Ann Aikman of Canada and later of Lyons, Iowa just north of Clinton located along the Mississippi River.

The news of the discovery of gold in the western mountains led him to begin his journey in 1856 following the old Overland Trail with his wife Matilda. They stopped for a time in Blue Rapids, Marshall County, Kansas Territory where his first two children were born and later died in 1857 and 1858 respectively. The country and the prospects did not please him, and in the spring of 1860 he and his wife joined a wagon train and proceeded further west arriving at Golden City, Arapahoe County, in the Territory of Kansas on June 5, 1860. He had his team and wagon and $6.65 in money, with which he began a new life on the south side of Clear Creek between North and South Table Mountains where he entered a homestead of 160 acres. They also brought along a cow and even some chickens. His first house was made of logs and later he built a fine "grout" house made of sandstone blocks from the local quarries near Golden and also creek rock. It had a stucco finish on the exterior. The house was a one story rectangular structure with three doors and four windows on the front.

Joel began working his land by introducing an excellent system of irrigation, by which water in abundance would be furnished to his trees and garden. He also cleared the brush and trees from the bottom of the creek, making the land tillable. By hard work and perseverance success came to him. He cultivated a beautiful and finely improved fruit and garden farm in the area. His strawberries became known as the finest in his section, and his apples and grapes were also of the best. He had a large packing shed on the farm that was used for boxing and packing their fruit and vegetables for shipment to Denver and mining towns in Clear Creek, Gilpin and Jefferson Counties. A large barn on his farm also served for many dances and social festivities on special occasions. He owned a private irrigation ditch and also held an interest in two of the larger irrigation ditches in the area which later became known as the Lee-Eskin Ditch.

Joel is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Golden City, Jefferson County, Colorado Territory, as a farmer, living with his wife Matilda, age 33 and children, Charles L., age 10, William N., age 8, Mary A., age 6, Lucy A., age 5, Rosa E. age 3 and Frank Palmer, age 8 months. He is listed in the first State Census of Colorado of 1885, living with his wife Matilda, age 47 and children, Wm, age 23, Mary, age 20, Rosa, age 18, Frank, age 15 and Alice Palmer, age 14. He is also listed in the 1900 Federal Census in Golden City, Jefferson County, as a fruit grower, living with his wife Matilda, age 63, his son Frank Kenyon Palmer, age 30, his grand-son, Henry Blatter, age 15 and sister-in-law Agnes M. Shrader or Schroeder who is listed as a 56 year old widow. Matilda was known to other family members as "Aunt Tilly" and it is said that on occasions, she smoked a corn cob pipe. Joel and Matilda were members of the Independent Order of Good Templars. The Good Templars were united morally and socially to advance the cause of Temperance and Morality.

Joel Palmer had little time to study politics, although he was a lifelong Republican. He believed that, from a common-sense point of view, the citizens of Colorado should favor the silver cause and he himself was an earnest supporter of bi-metallism. He became one of the counties prominent citizens, although he never took an active part in the communities political arena.

On July 11, 1908, while arranging the loading of a hay wagon, he became dizzy and plunged headlong from the wagon to the ground. He suffered a broken collar bone and one rib and also a dislocated shoulder. The broken rib affected his lung and when pneumonia set in, he died one week later on Saturday morning at his home on July 18, 1908 at the age of 76 years, 5 months, 5 days. He is buried in the family plot in the Golden Cemetery in City Block #243, Lot #2, Grave #9. Mr. Adolph Coors, who was a close neighbor and owner of the Coors Brewery in Golden City, sent red roses to his funeral.

Matilda died on January 23,1910 at the age of 73 years caused by dropsy and complications of other illnesses which she had suffered for some time. She was buried next to her husband Joel on January 25, 1910. A few years later the Denver Tramway Company built a station in Golden and named it after him. It is said that the first rural telephone in the United States was placed in Joel Palmer's home in 1880.

The family bible of Joel and Matilda Palmer was passed on to their oldest daughter Mary Amanda (Palmer) Atto. A notation in the bible states that the bible shall be passed on to the oldest surviving daughter of each succeeding generation. After Mary Amanda died, the bible was passed on to her oldest daughter Elsie May (Atto) Warren and in turn has since been passed on to her oldest daughter Lucille Annie (Warren) Welch, who is currently living in Kansas City, Kansas, 1997.

VIII-10-16 John PALMER (Amos,[VII-1-15] Benjamin,[6] William,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on February 2, 1820 in Fayette, Kennebec County, Maine. John spent his childhood years on the family farm in Kennebec County until he married on December 29, 1842 in Fayette, Cordelia Morrison, born on April 9, 1823 probably in Fayette, daughter of Montgomery Morrison and Keziah Cothren of Fayette.

In 1847, John and his wife Cordelia conveyed half of his father's homestead to his brother Joseph before removing to Wisconsin in 1848. They traveled by way of the Erie Canal and then by boat to Sheboygen, Wisconsin. They then traveled by team and wagon to Clayton Township, Winnebago County and settled on a farm where they continued to live the rest of their lives.

John is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in District 11, Town of Clayton, Winnebago County, Wisconsin, as a farmer, living with his wife and four children, William, Susan, Oscar and Lloyd. He is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in the town of Clayton, Winnebago County, with his wife and ten children.

John died on April 9,1867 in Clayton Township, aged 47 years, 2 months, 7 days. He did not leave a will or administration of his estate. A letter dated April 29, 1867, written by Mrs. S. E.Pickard of Clayton, Wisconsin to John Palmer's sister, Lucinda Tilton of Detroit, explains the illness and death of John Palmer. Mrs. Pickard evidently was a close friend and neighbor of the Palmer family. It appears that on April 3, 1867, John suffered from a severe case of cholic which he had for some time. This last attack of cholic contributed to his death six days later. His wife Cordelia was in poor health at the time of John's death. She was suffering from what she called "sinking spells" almost every day and on occasions during the time John was dying, she suffered as many as three spells per day which would last about one hour each time.

John Palmer's widow Cordelia is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in the town of Clayton, living with six of her children and daughter-in-law Rhoda Palmer, wife of Oscar John. Cordelia died on May 20, 1878 in Clayton Township, aged 55 years, 1 month, 11 days. Both John and Cordelia are buried in the Mikesville Cemetery in Clayton Township.

September 9, 1841, Joseph was deeded an undivided half part of land in Fayette by his father. The land was part of his father's homestead farm, 100 acres more or less.

It appears that sometime before 1848, Joseph went west to visit his sister Lucinda and during that time he contemplated purchasing land for farming. A letter, dated March 20, 1848, was written by Lucinda (Palmer) Tilton to Joseph explaining the type of property available for sale in the area and the land bargains.

Joseph is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Fayette, as a farmer, living with his wife Harriet, age 45 and children, Joseph F., age 18, Josephine L., age 17, James G., age 13 and George H. Palmer, age 11. VIII-10-39 Joseph Skinner PALMER (Samuel,[VII-19-2] Joseph,[6] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on September 26, 1826 in Swanton, Franklin County, Vermont. He spent the first ten years of his childhood in Swanton before moving with his parents to Franklin County, Ohio during the winter of 1836-37. As a young man in his teens, he is believed to have gone to Troy Township, Whitley County, Indiana with some of the older Palmer men to help clear their land and build cabins for the rest of the family waiting in Ohio. He made his final move to Troy Township with his sister Sarah and brother-in-law, Hiram Lambkin in October 1843.

Joseph married on April 18, 1848, probably in Troy Township, Mary Jane Long, born on January 24, 1829 in Ohio, daughter of James W. Long and Catherine Blaine. Joseph is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in District No. 131, Whitley County, as a blacksmith, living with his wife Mary J., age 21 and daughter Sarah E. Palmer, age 1.

On October 30, 1852, Joseph purchased 106 2/3 acres in the NE 1/4 of Section 4, Range 8 in Troy Township from George Gooding. This property was formerly owned by John J. English who died on October 2, 1842. His widow, Lorenda, remarried in 1843 to James Stevenson Campbell and subsequently moved to Washington Township, Noble County with her new husband. Unfortunately the taxes on the property became delinquent and subsequently the property was repurchased by George Gooding on July 15, 1851 for $150.00 who in turn sold it to Joseph Palmer, by warranty deed for $500.00.

Joseph served during the Civil War and was mustered into service at Columbia City on November 12, 1864 with Company "B", 13th Regiment, Indiana Infantry Volunteers. He and his company were immediately sent to Covington, Kentucky and on November 15th were sent to Baltimore, Maryland with about 200 other men attached to the 13th Indiana Engineers. From Baltimore they were scheduled to take a steamer on November 20th for Fort Monroe, Virginia, thence up the James River to Bermuda Hundred which was a staging area for General Benjamin Butler. Joseph was mustered out of service on September 5, 1865.

Sometime in 1873, Joseph purchased 160 acres of land in Section 32, Range 8 in Cleveland Township, Whitley County. In 1874, he and his family moved from Troy Township to their new home in Cleveland Township, just twelve miles south. Joseph still maintained both homesteads until 1875, when he was taken ill while tending to his crops at the old home in Troy Township. He died on August 5, 1875 in Cleveland Township after two weeks of being ill. Mary Jane remained in Cleveland Township for two years, then in 1877 moved back to the old home and farm in Troy Township.

VIII-10-40 Joseph Smith PALMER (Joseph,[VII-10-45] Joseph,[6] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on January 7, 1803 in Cornville, Kennebec County, Maine. He went with his parents to Sidney, Kennebec County about 1807 and remained there until about 1814 when he went with his parents again to New Sharon, Kennebec County. Later he went with his parents to Sumner, Oxford County, Maine in March 1817. He is believed to be the male, age 16-18, listed as a farmer, in the 1820 Federal Census in Sumner, living with his parents, Joseph and Betsey Palmer.

Joseph married first, on November 6, 1825 in Sumner, Deborah O. Churchill, born on April 28, 1800 in Pembroke or Plympton, Plymouth County, Massachusetts, daughter of Ezra Churchill and Bethia Melurrin. Marriage intentions were recorded on August 26, 1825 in Sumner.

He is believed to be the Joseph Palmer listed in the 1830 Federal Census in Northport, Waldo County, Maine, living with his wife, age 20-30, one male under 5 and one female under 5. Also listed in the same household are two males, ages 5-10, one female, age 5-10 and one female, age 15-20, who are unidentified. It is also believed that Joseph and his family went to Vassalboro, Kennebec County before 1837 and remained there for a short time before moving on to Montville, Waldo County before 1840. He is listed in the 1840 Federal Census in Montville, engaged in manufactures and trades, living with his wife, age 30-40, one male under 5, two males, ages 5-10, one female under 5 and one female, age 10-15.

Deborah died on May 22, 1845 in Montville. Joseph married second in 1848, Mary Estes, born about 1810 in Maine. Joseph is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Montville, as a mason, living with his wife Mary, age 40, and children, Daniel, age 12, Emily, age 12 and Ezra C. Palmer, age 8. Daniel and Emily are believed to be twins. Also listed in the same household is Job F. Estes, age 8, born in Massachusetts, son of Mary Estes.

Joseph married third, on December 13, 1855 in Montville, Elmira Cooper, born on November 30, 1814 in North Belmont, New Hampshire, daughter of Benjamin Cooper and Hannah Pillsbury. They were married by David Norton, Justice of the Peace.

Joseph is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Montville, as a brick mason, living with his wife Almira, age 42 and children, Ezra, age 17 and Taylor Palmer, age 12. Also listed in the same household is Deborah Turner, age 11, Edwin Turner, age 9 and Emma F. Turner, age 4. Taylor is believed to be Zachariah Taylor Cooper, born in July 1847, who is probably a son of Almira Cooper, before she married Joseph Smith Palmer. It's conceivable that he was adopted by Joseph, thus the name Taylor Palmer in the 1860 Census Record. Zachariah is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Belmont, Waldo County, age 2, living in the household of Benjamin Cooper. Also listed in the same household is Almira Cooper, age 36. Benjamin Cooper's wife, Hannah, is listed as age 55 in the 1850 Census Record and it would appear to be unlikely that she is the mother of Zachariah. Joseph is also listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Montville, as a brick mason, living with Almira Palmer, age 58, and children, Ezra C., age 27, Edwin H., age 19 and Emily Palmer, age 13.

The death dates of Joseph, and his wives, Mary and Elmira Palmer are unknown at this time.

VIII-13-5 Marilla PALMER (William,[VII-23-6] Simon,[6] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on July 19, 1821 in Hornellsville Township, Steuben County, New York. She went with her parents to Iowa about 1838. Her birth date is recorded in the family bible of Joel and Matilda Palmer. She married on April 1, 1845 in Springfield, Scott County, Iowa, Enos French, born on February 13, 1816 in Michigan.

Enos and Marilla went to Colorado after 1863 where he is believed to have been engaged in prospecting for gold in the Cripple Creek area.

Marilla died on June 1, 1896 and is buried in the Fairview Cemetery in Old Colorado City in the Colorado Springs area. The birth date on her gravestone states "July 19, 1816" which is evidently incorrect. She is buried in Block 8, Lot 41, WC Section. Enos died on October 26, 1914, probably in Cripple Creek, Teller County, Colorado and is buried in the Fairview Cemetery. He is buried in Block 8, Lot 47, SW Section. He died as a result of old age and exposure and was listed as a gold prospector at the time of death. Although Marilla and Enos are buried in different grave sites, the gravestone on Marilla's grave site reflects both names. The inscription on one side of the stone reads, /MARILLA / wife of / ENOS FRENCH / BORN / July 19, 1816 / Died Jun. 1, / 1896 / The opposite side reads, / ENOS FRENCH / BORN / Feb. 13 1817 / DIED /. Evidently the stone was erected at the time of Marilla's death and Enos was expected to be buried on the same site, but for some unknown reason was buried on a different site.

VIII-13-8 Martha E. PALMER (Nathaniel,[VII-14-7] James,[6] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on April 8, 1835 in Hallowell, Kennebec County, Maine. She went to Sutton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire, as a baby, with her parents about 1835. She later went with her parents to Portsmouth, Rockingham County, New Hampshire before 1850. She married on March 4, 1856 in Clinton, Worcester County, Massachusetts, Colonel Nathaniel Chandler Sawyer, born on August 15, 1822 in Lancaster, Worcester County, son of Ezra Sawyer, Esq. and Eliza Houghton.

Nathaniel was an accountant before marriage and after marriage removed to Brattleboro, Windham County, Vermont where he began work for Fisk & Cheney's Canadian Express. Soon afterwards he took a position as teller in the First National Bank in Brattleboro.

During the Civil War, Nathaniel enlisted on July 21, 1863 as a major and paymaster of the United States Volunteers, his commission being signed by President Lincoln and Andrew Johnson. He was assigned as paymaster in Washington D.C. and was accompanied by his wife, who also did valiant duty during the war. On March 13, 1865, he was breveted lieutenant-colonel of the U. S. Volunteers for conspicuous bravery and meritorious service in rescuing a pay trunk, containing $250,000 from Confederate Colonel John Singleton Mosby's band of guerrillas. Shortly after this incident, he was ordered to San Francisco, and with his wife, made the trip by way of the Isthmus of Panama. Upon arrival at San Francisco, he was ordered to pay the soldiers in many of the western forts. The work was particularly hard and difficult, not only because the Confederates were dangerous enemies, but the Indians had taken advantage of the country's difficulties and were upon the warpath. On July 20, 1866, he was mustered out of service.

Col. Sawyer returned to Brattleboro and was employed again with the First National Bank until 1881. He is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Brattleboro, as an assistant cashier in the First National Bank, living with his wife Martha P., age 35 and son George E. Sawyer, age 1. Also listed in the same household is Ella M. Palmer, age 20, as a teacher, born in Maine and Mary Denni, age 28, as a servant, born in Ireland. In 1883, he went to Washington D.C. as a clerk in the pension bureau and eventually became special examiner for the bureau and held that position until removed for political reasons by President Cleveland. He was again appointed to the bureau during President McKinley's administration about 1897.

In 1907, he went to Plymouth, Massachusetts for health reasons where he lived until September 28, 1909, when he and his wife returned to Brattleboro.

Col. Sawyer died on October 25, 1910 in Brattleboro and his widow, Martha, died on December 3, 1919 in Brattleboro.

VIII-13-9 Martin Van Buren PALMER (Jacob,VII-10-1 Jacob,6 Jacob,5 Christopher,4 Joseph,3 Christopher,2 William 1)

Born on September 16, 1835 in Machiasport, Washington County, Maine. Martin initially went to California about 1857 by way of Cape Horn, South America. He sailed on the ship "California" which was built by the Pope's in East Machias, Maine. The journey took about four months. When the ship arrived in California, it was wrecked in the San Francisco harbor and the crew had to be rescued by another vessel and brought to shore. Upon his arrival, he tried his luck in the mining industry, but later he returned to Maine by way of walking across the Isthmus of Panama instead of the longer and dangerous trip around the Cape. He was a caulker by trade and was engaged in the construction of ships.

He is listed in the 1860 Federal Census in Machiasport, as a lumber laborer, age 24, living with his widowed mother and brother Sidney. Also listed in the same household is Martin's sister Maria and her husband Leonard Travis, and their child, Martin Travis, age 1. About 1860, he returned to the west coast and again walked across the Isthmus. He arrived in Portland, Oregon, but after trying gold mining again without success, he moved around the country with a friend. According to family stories, as mentioned in a letter written by Mary Emma Newcomb, dated November 10, 1928, Martin and his friend had a narrow escape from Indians, by swimming for their lives in a lake and in order to swim faster, cut a belt to which he had fastened his gold mine savings. Consequently he lost his savings. They went to The Dalles, located on the Columbia River in Oregon where he worked as a ship's carpenter. He soon found himself traveling to the Boise, Idaho area in 1862, where job opportunities looked promising. Instead of mining again, he found he could make more money splicing cables for the miners. Within the year, he located on a preemption claim of 144 acres near Star in Ada County, which he began to farm and on which he also raised stock.

He married on August 15, 1865 in Star, Sarah Jane Clark, born on February 15, 1848 in Greene County, Missouri, daughter of Robert and Sarah Clark. Sarah crossed the plains with her parents in 1864 on their way to Oregon and wintered that year with Martin V. Palmer at Star and it was thus that he met his future wife. It was in November 1864 when Martin drove a freight wagon over the Oregon Trail from Boise to The Dalles, Oregon to vote for Abraham Lincoln on the Union ticket. Having made the trip at the rate of 20 miles per day, he hurried back to avoid being snow bound in the Blue Mountains. Martin had not been a resident long enough in Idaho to be able to vote there.

He is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Boise City, Ada County, Idaho, as a farmer, living with his wife Sarah J., age 22 and children, Anna L., age 4 and William A. Palmer, age 2. Also listed in the same household is Martin's brother Sidney A. Palmer, age 26, who is listed as working on the farm. He is listed in the 1880 Federal Census in District No. 2, Ada County, as a farmer, living with his wife, Sarah, age 31 and children, Annie L., age 13 and Willie Palmer, age 12. He is listed in the 1900 Federal Census in Union Precinct, Ada County, as a farmer, living with his wife Sarah, age 52 and youngest child, Martin, Junior, age 12. Evidently the name of the child is erroneously listed as a "Junior" and should read Martin Leroy Palmer. In 1902, Martin sold his property and removed to Meridian, Ada County, where he made his home until his death in 1916. He is also listed in the 1910 Federal Census in Meridian Village, living with his wife Sarah J., age 64.

Martin died on February 14, 1916 in Meridian Village, Ada County, as a result of Bright's Disease. His widow, Sarah, died on February 8, 1917 in Meridian. Both are buried in the cemetery near Star, Idaho.

Meridian Times
September 26, 1913

Meridian's chief representative at the old settler's day at the Intermountain fair at Boise Wednesday was Martin V. Palmer, who can truly hold the distinction of being one of the oldest if not the oldest pioneer in this part of the country. He came to what was then a part of Oregon Territory in 1861.

He came around Cape Horn and landed in San Francisco in 1857 and was four months on the trip. He went to Portland which was then the size of Meridian and from there to the Dalles, where he worked for some time as a ship's carpenter. From there he came over to Idaho City then called Bannock City, and engaged in placer mining. He remembers that there were three stores in Boise at that time, 1862. There were the Overland hotel and two or three shanties, but it was a small place.

Mr. Palmer tells of many interesting experiences and speaks of going to the Dalles to vote for Abraham Lincoln on the Union ticket in 1865. He thinks all the Idaho men he was acquainted with at that time are all dead and that Captain Bledsoe was the last of the number.

At an early day he "squatted" on a ranch located on what is now known as Palmer station, on the Interurban, and this station was named after the pioneer.

On November 13, 1838, Harvey and Polly purchased 106 2/3 acres in the NE 1/4 of Section 4, Range 8 in Troy Township, Whitley County, Indiana. VIII-14-2 Nathaniel George PALMER (Nathaniel,VII-14-6 Growth,6 James,5 John,4 James,3 Joseph,2 William 1)

Born on October 5, 1840 in Conway, Strafford County, New Hampshire. He married on October 16, 1865 in Conway, Mary Jane Day, born in July 1839, probably in Eaton, Strafford County, daughter of Ensign Thomas Shepherd Day and Charlotte Gentleman. (Charlotte Gentleman was the daughter of Philip Gentleman and Jane Palmer of Effingham, NH)

Nathaniel is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in Eaton, Carroll County, New Hampshire, as a merchant, living with his wife Mary, age 29 and children, Almon, age 3 and Frank Palmer, age 1. Although one of the children is erroneously listed as "Almon", it should read, Elmer. Nathaniel was one of twenty-eight individuals in Eaton who agreed to build a new Eaton Center Church, to be located within eight rods of the Eaton Center Cemetery. The church was schedules to be completed before June 1879. Nathaniel paid twenty-five dollars for an average pew for his family. He is listed in the 1880 Federal Census in Eaton, as a merchant, living with his wife Mary J., age 38 and children, Elmer, age 13, George F., age 11, Edith, age 9 and Grace Palmer, age 5. In 1884, Nathaniel built a house in Eaton Center with spacious rooms and airy balconies around a small house believed to be the former residence of his parents. It was of the Victorian influenced Greek Revival split-type located on a steep hillside site. The house is a highly unique architectural style which is documented in the North Country Council's Historic Building inventory. Nathaniel was a resident of Durham, Strafford County, New Hampshire at the time of marriage of his daughter Edith Mary in 1895.

Nathaniel was a practical Yankee entrepreneur who manufactured ladies' dresses by buying material wholesale, cutting it to fashion patterns in the third floor loft, and then distributing the pieces to the ladies of Eaton to sew at home. Never one to miss out on possible gain, he took advantage of the wellspring of city folks who arrived on trains with their trunks to spend the summer enjoying the mountain lakes and vistas. He opened his house to guests, and soon it became known as the "Palmer House". In 1986, the name was changed to "The Inn at Crystal Lake" and in 1994 was purchased by Richard & Janice Octeau, who currently own and operate the Inn, 1997.

Nathaniel died on February 17, 1899 in Eaton Center, Carroll County and is buried in the Eaton Center Cemetery. His widow, Mary J., is listed in the 1900 Federal Census in Eaton, as a hotel proprietor, living with her son, George F. Palmer, age 31 as a stable keeper. VIII-19-3 Samantha Caroline PALMER (Samuel,[VII-19-2] Joseph,[6] Jonathan,[5] Christopher,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on August 13, 1823 in Swanton, Franklin County, Vermont. She spent her early childhood years in Swanton until she went with her parents to Franklin County, Ohio during the winter of 1836-37. She was a young lady of 21 when she moved with her parents to Troy Township, Whitley County, Indiana in 1844.

She married first, on March 24, 1846, probably in Troy Township, Ammi Lewis Trumbull, born on September 10, 1821 in Franklin County, Ohio, son of Moses Trumbull and Amelia Ann Muson. She and Ammi moved into the little log cabin which his father had built about 1836 in Noble County, Indiana. In 1858, Ammi decided to build a new house for his growing family. he cleared more land and cut more timber. In the spring and early summer, the logs had been taken to the saw mill and the timber sawed. In July the lumber was ready for their new home and Ammi had already engaged a carpenter to build their new house.

On July 29, 1858, without warning, Ammi suddenly died at the young age of 36 years, 10 months, 18 days. he was buried in the Thorn Cemetery in Washington Township, Noble,County. Plans for building their new home continued. Samantha retained the carpenter that Ammi had hired, let him, his wife and family move into the cabin with her and her six children, and they started to build. The new house was completed in 1858.

On October 8, 1874, Samantha married second, Washington Jones, a widower, whose wife died on September 6, 1873. He was born about 1816. She moved into her new home which was across the road with her remaining two children, Delia and Lewis.

Washington died on June 22, 1903 and is buried in the West Etna Cemetery in Troy Township. After his death, Samantha moved back across the road to her old house to live with her oldest son, Monroe and his family.

VIII-20-4 Truman Dixon PALMER (Isaac,VII-9-2 John,6 Jonathan,5 Christopher,4 Samuel,3 Christopher 2, William 1)

Born on January 28, 1823 in Franklin County, New York. He married on September 11, 1845 probably in Ashtabula County, Ohio, Emma Calista Barrett, born on May 2, 1827 in Clark Corners, Ashtabula County, Ohio, daughter of George Barrett and Maria Bennett.

At the time of their marriage, Truman was a farmer and Emma was a young school teacher. Truman and his family resided in Conneaut, Ashtabula County, Ohio at first and later in 1850, were residing in Conneaut Township, Erie County, Pennsylvania which is close to the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line. He is listed in the 1850 Federal Census in Conneaut Township, Erie County, Pennsylvania with his wife Emma, daughter Amelia M. and son Eugene C. Palmer. His farm was adjacent to his father's farm in the same township.

About 1857 or 1858, George Barrett, father of Emma, decided to remove to the far west with his wife and son George Hubbell Barrett. They went to the San Francisco area and settled in San Pablo, Contra Costa County, California. One year later in 1859, Truman Palmer and his family set out for San Francisco. They traveled by boat down the Ohio River to St. Louis and then continued their trip by covered wagon with a caravan train. The caravan crossed the plains and mountains to the west in 165 days, and was known as the Lightning Train. The trip was without incident except when an Indian stopped by their wagon at one time and wanted some whiskey. Truman raised his rifle and told the Indian, "You git," and he did. The Palmer's were friendly with the Indians along the way and gave some Indian women yards of red cloth. The caravan followed the Oregon Trail and then down the coast toward the San Francisco area. They crossed the bay and lived in Oakland, near Fruitvale for a short time. Later they moved to a house at Ellis Landing on San Pablo Bay in San Pablo where they lived for several years.

About 1870, Truman and his family moved into the town of San Pablo on the banks of Wildcat Creek, on the road that was later known as Church Lane. He is listed in the 1870 Federal Census in San Pablo, as a carpenter, living with his wife Emma and children, Mary, Clara, Jennie, Albert and Emma Palmer. He is also listed in the 1880 Federal Census in San Pablo, as a carpenter, living with his wife Emma and children, Albert, Emma, Mary Ann and her husband Conrad Smith. Truman Palmer was a carpenter by trade and for ten years he was Justice of the Peace. In his old age he was described as having long gray soft hair which was curled up at the ends in the style worn by Buffalo Bill. He was smooth-shaven, with a clear complexion, regular features and well-shaped hands. He was always kindly and soft-spoken. His wife Emma was an intelligent woman, gentle and was quite a Victorian in her code of morals.

VIII-23-9 William Lincoln PALMER (James,[VII-10-9] Jonathan,[6] Trueworthy,[5] Jonathan,[4] Samuel,[3] Christopher,[2] William [1])

Born on September 19, 1868 in Portland, Cumberland County, Maine. William went with his parents to Boston as a young child in July 1875 and received his education in the Boston and Cambridge public schools as well as in Portland, Maine. He attended the Mount Hermon Seminary in 1886-1887, Boston University School of Theology in 1888-1889 and graduated from Gordon College in Wenham, Massachusetts in 1890. He also studied for four summers at the Northfield Seminary in Northfield, Massachusetts.

His interest in the book business began with Estes and Lauriat of Boston and later in 1890 he became associated with Colesworthy's Old Book Store on Cornhill in Boston, developed an interest in genealogical matters, bringing out the "Munsey - Hopkins Genealogy", privately printed in 1920, in which he assisted the author, Dr. D.O.S. Lowell, head of the Roxbury Latin School and also a life member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society. The book business led him on long journeys to the west and south. In 1893 he went to Seattle, Washington on one of the earliest trains, if not the first carrying passengers, running over the Great Northern Railway. He also traveled to Los Angeles, North Carolina and Florida, residing for a short time at all these places. He was employed by Mr. Frank A. Munsey of New York, the well known millionaire, for over six years on the various ancestry lines of Mr. Munsey. He visited Europe on two occasions, visiting the libraries and record offices of England, Scotland, France and Germany. He was occupied for many years in important work on genealogical research, acting as an expert in many important cases, including the great Ella Wendel case of New York.

William married first on April 14, 1892 in Boston, Jennie Christine Giesler, born on July 22, 1873 in Princeton, Washington County, Maine, daughter of Charles Augustus Giesler and Margaret Dives of Princeton and Boston. Jennie Christine Palmer died of cancer on April 1, 1919 in Boston. She lived in Springfield, Maine, Ashville, North Carolina, Pasadena, California and the Boston area. She spent the last years of her life at 63 Park Avenue, Winthrop, Massachusetts in hopes that the seashore might prove to be a benefit to her impaired health. It was the illness and subsequent death of Mrs. Palmer which drew the attention of the New England Methodists to the need of a hospital for those who were suffering from an incurable disease. William Palmer devoted much of his time and energy and was extremely instrumental in raising funds for the erection of the Palmer Memorial Hospital, located at 560 Blue Hill Avenue, opposite Franklin Park, in Roxbury, Massachusetts. The hospital, named in memory of Mrs. Palmer, was opened on June 1, 1920 and was under the management of the New England Deaconess Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Within five years, the seventy-five room hospital had outgrown itself. A new hospital of brick and cement was planned and eventually built between Pilgrim Road and Riverway, Boston, on the grounds of the Deaconess Hospital. William is listed in the 1920 Federal Census in Boston, Suffolk County, as a lodger, living alone at 23 Pinckney Street.

Frances Palmer died on February 17, 1925 in St. Petersburg, Pinellas County, Florida and is buried in the Pine Grove Cemetery in Waterville, Kennebec County, Maine. She was visiting St. Petersburg with her husband from their home at Vineyard Haven, Massachusetts at the time of her death. She was stricken suddenly with an acute attack of appendicitis, which developed into such complications that the care and medical attention was not sufficient to combat her condition. She completed a two year regular course at the Training School for Nurses at the Children's Hospital in Boston on August 7, 1894. She also traveled extensively in America and abroad.

William married third on February 2, 1927 in Boston, Marian Wetherbee Brackett, born on April 4, 1875 in Belfast, Waldo County, Maine, daughter of Marine Captain Horace Wiley Brackett and Marinda Isabella Stowe of Belfast. Mariam served as librarian for fourteen years at the Holton Memorial Branch Library on Academy Hill Road in East Boston. She was educated in the schools of East Boston and at Boston University. She was a member of the Brighthelmstone Club and was very active in all its educational endeavors and meetings. William and Mariam resided after marriage at 31 Pinckney Street, Beacon Hill, Boston.

William Palmer was also a Real Estate Broker and later in life devoted the greater part of his time to genealogical work. He is the author of, "Memorial of Frances Hunt Palmer" and "Versus of Frances Hunt Palmer." He traveled extensively in Europe in 1905 and 1908, as well as in Mexico, British Columbia, Canada and visited every state and territory of the United States excepting two, having made sixteen trips across the continent to California. He made extensive genealogical searches and published pamphlets covering branches of the William Palmer family of Hampton, New Hampshire. He also wrote many articles for magazines and newspapers. He resided in Winthrop, Cambridge and Boston, Massachusetts.

He directed the indexing of over 1,500,000 names in the genealogical department of the Boston Transcript, now on file at the Boston Public Library. He was director of the department from 1936 to 1939.
